Now, by repeating that he favours limiting the war to Korea and by sacking MacArthur, the President has cleared the issues for what will develop into a second great debate. The great debate on Europe ended only last week after more than three months' argument in Congress. The slogan of the Europe debate was "Will They Fight?" The slogan in the Asian debate will be "Is MacArthur Right?"

Senator Taft, leader of the Republican Party, will certainly rally most Republicans behind MacArthur in the debate, simply to embarrass the Administration. It is unlikely that the whole party, which holds 47 of the 96 Senate seats, will do so. A nucleus of about half a dozen led by Senator Lodge is already heavily committed to "Europe First" might not favour minor measures in the Far East, such as unleashing Chiang on to the POWERFUL sections of the press will support MacArthur, but the most responsible of Republican organs, the "New York Herald Tribune" does not agree with his views on the Far East. A "Tribune" editorial said two days ago: "Europe must come first."

With American public opinion generally it is difficult to say how highly MacArthur stands owing to the adultation of most newspapers and magazines and of the vocifero ex-servicemen's organizations. By now, how ever, most experienced American observers think that public sentiment will be against him, especially if he comes back here and leads an attack against the President. More and more Americans, they say, see the risk of world war involved in MacArthur's policy Americans never did like soldiers telling civ ilians what to do. Eisenhower, who supported the Administration's decisions on "Europe ed the Administration's decisions on "Europe First", commands more public respect and trust than MacArthur ever has. Hockey Fever Grips Barrie

BARRIE, April 17 (CP)—This Central Ontario town of 13,000 was gripped with hockey fever today, awaiting tonight's meeting of Quebec Citadelles and Barrie Flyers in the second game of the Eastern Canada junior A final.

The largest throng ever to see a hockey game in Barrie is expected to crowd into the arena, despite seat prices which have been doubled.

Rarrie leads the best-of-seven series 1-0 by virtue of a 6-2 victory over the highly-touted Citadelles in Toronto last Saturday afternoon before a crowd of more than 14,000.

Second game was originally than 14,000.

Second game was originally scheduled for Maple Leaf Gardens but was switched here after protests against use of foreign lee for all their home games.

The 3,802 seats in Barrie arena were sold Saturday afternoon but a large rush crowd is expected to swell the gathering past the 4,315 record figure. Every seat in the house was priced at $2.50 compared with the usual $1.25 and $1. The increase was necessary to meet guarantees in the smaller arena.

Barrie coach Hap Emms isn't putting too much significance into the victory in the first game. He's sticking to the theory that Citadelles with widely-heralded Jean Marc Belliveau must be better than they looked Saturday.

We well recall ere the last war the grandiose plans for the Olympics in Finland—when "whoosh", one Soviet leader by the name of Joe moved in on the helpless little country. The Games were indefinitely postponed. So, they plan to try it again but this time Joe has complete control of the country, and he doesn't like visitors.

Eight Go For Fastball

Entries were closed off at eight teams last eve in the Industrial Fastball League. They are Raybestos, Woollens, Westclox, A & P. Mount Pleasant, Quakers, McGinness and Norwood. Six clubs will make playoffs. Games are to be played on four diamonds this coming season, with some tilts likely to be staged under the lights on Norwood's field. We note, too, where Secretary Jack Christie of the OMHA has resigned after eight years at the job. He and the two refs in that final at St. Kitts were locked up three-quarters of an hour by cued. Maybe such an enforced and lengthy confin with two puck referees proved too much for Jack, and perhaps the resignation stems from this.

OWEN SOUND, April 17 (CP)

Owen Sound Mercurys won the opener in the best-of-seven Allan Cup Eastern Canada finals against Dolbeau Castors 9-4 Monday night before a sell-out crowd of 2,300.

A four-goal splurge late in the game by Mercurys dampened the spirits of the visitors, who had crept to within one goal of the winners with less than nine minutes remaining.

As expected, the losing coach, Frank Bennett was a bit unhappy over the way his charges played. But even Owen Sound's mentor, Jack Markle said "we can do a lot better."

Second game will be played here Wednesday night.

Art Hayward's screened shot from the blue line about midway of the final frame made the score 6-4 and gave Owen Sound breathing space. Doug Gillespie—scoring ace of the night—then made it 7.4 and set up the last two mans to the second coulement of the second. Dolbeau 4, Owen Sound 9, First game of series.

Opposition Parties Critical Of Budget, Call For Vote

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP).—
Opposition parties in the Commons, critical of Finance Minister Abbott's 1951-52 budget, called Monday for votes of non-confidence in the government.

The non-confidence motions, traditional means to obtain recorded votes on specific grievances, were sponsored by spokesmen for the Progressive Conservative and CCF parties.

Rules of the Commons prevented Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, from presenting a similar motion at this stage, but he joined the other parties in suggesting changes in the budget brought down a week ago by Mr. Abbott.

The CCF motion moved by M. J. Coldwell called for limiting the new 20-per-cent defence tax on personal incomes to single persons who earn more than 1,500 a year and to married persons earning more than $3,000. Under the budget, the tax will apply to all income tax payments beginning July 1.

Will Raise Living Cost

The Progressive Conservatives The Progressive Conservatives in a motion sponsored by their chief financial critic—J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Toronto Greenwood) said the budget proposals are "unsatisfactory because they will inevitably increase the cost of living for all and especially for those least able to bear it."

The motion expressed regret at the government's "failure" to take effective steps "to deal with profiteering." It also said:

Debate Taken Over

Once the spokesmen had set out party policies, the debate was taken over by members in the back benches. Most of them expressed grievances relating to their constituencies. The budget debate gives them sufficient leeway to raise practically any subject.

Mr. Coldwell said his party wished to renew demands for a "comprehensive national ecomomic plan and the immediate institution of price controls and related to the first of the government would be set that a start is made now to rebuild the production facilities of this production to what it was during the Second World War. Vaughan Williams says his new work is not an opera in the sense of arias and ensembles. He styles it "a morality founded on 'Pilgrim's Progress'."

It has characters but the story is concentrated on the Pilgrim, sung by Arnold Matters, Australian baritone.

The part of Bunyan—who appears in the prologue and epilogue—has been given to a young Maori (New Zealand native) bass, Inia Te Wiata.

Bottle Problem

HAILEYBURY— (CP)—Where to put seized bottles of whisky was the problem before Haileybury Council. The Provincial Police had requested a locker be provided. After a variety of suggestions as to how the liquor could best be disposed of, it was agreed to install lockers.

BROCKVILLE, April 17 (CP)

Mrs. Fred Austin, 83, of nearby Athens, died in hospital Monday from injuries received when she was struck by a car Sunday night. She was hurled 83 feet into a ditch when the car, driven by John Hartley of Seeley's Bay, hit her as she crossed the road after church. Hartley said headlights from an approaching car blinded him and he did not see the woman.

1950 was another great year of success and progress for the Continental Casualty Company.

The figures in the accompanying annual statement tell their own story of increased business, growing assets, continued leadership in the field of accident and sickness insurance in Canada.

We measure our success primarily, however, in terms of improved service to Canadians everywhere. We are proud of having been able to help more families than ever before when they needed help most...; when accident, sickness or other misfortune struck. We are happy about the great peace of mind which our "Better Health Protection" has afforded to our thousands of policyholders.

During the year ahead, it will be our constant endeavour to exteriour service to the community in every way possible . 1 . to continuity in accident and health protection."

The Ontario Court of Appeal decided unanimously to dismiss the appeal. Latour is under sentence to be hanged May 15. Written reasons for the decision will be given later.

Latour has been tried twice in connection with the death of Mrs.
Cecile Rainville in a basement apartment in Sudbury Sept. 12, 1949. He appealed his first conviction before the Supreme Court of Canada and won a new trial.

Seagram TEL'S THE WORLD ABOUT Canada

This advertisement was designed by The House of Seagram to tell the people of other lands about Canada and things distinctively Canadian. Many people in Latin America, Asia, Europe and other parts of the world are not fully aware of the richness of Canada's natural resources, wild life, scenic beauty and cultural traditions. The more the peoples of other lands know about our country, the greater will be their interest in Canada and Canadian products.

The House of Seagram feels that the horizon of industry does not terminate at the boundary of its plants; it has a broader horizon, a farther view—a view dedicated to the development of Canada's stature in every land of the globe.

Canadians used to hear a lot of the phrase "inexhaustible resources." They don't hear it so much today, and they know that all resources can be exhausted unless they are given proper care.
Government and industry now think in the terms of limiting timber cutting to the extent to which forests can be replaced by growth.
Scientists try to see that fisheries are not depleted or rich farm lands turned into desert.

Even though we think we have vast mineral resources still undiscovered, we know that minerals, once taken out of the ground, cannot be replaced.

Stanley M. Wedd, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, had something to say about this Monday in an address to the Toronto Canadian Club. For the most part he gave an optimistic picture of Canada's growing place in the world, but he also said:

"From our own viewpoint, I think it is a matter of some concern whether or not the rate of utilization of our non-renewable resources—for example, zinc, lead, etc.—should be related in some manner either to new discoveries or to the development of subsitutes. Too rapid a utilization sufely will raise the question as to whether or not future Canadians will condemn us for stripping the country.

"Are we capable of meeting an ever-increasing drain upon existing natural resoruces? Perhaps! But certainly it will be at the cost of a shorter period of future production if we do not pay attention to exploration and to scientific research. Quick and tasty

Chateau Omelet... Take an omelet (light and fluffy, please) and give it a heart of mellow-mild Chateau Chesse. The filling's a snap! Just eut up a half-pound package of Chateau, melt it in top of double boiler (it melts as easily as it slices or spreads). Then blend in a half cup of milk. Chateau adds tastempting goodness and protein milk. Chateau adds tastempting goodness and protein urishment to any meal.

Chateau-Burgers . . Broil thin hamburgers a few seconds on each side. Slide into split buns. Top with slices of Borden's Chateau and pop under the broiler. Serve immediately. Get the handy halfpound package. Since Chateau is not a sliced cheese you don't have to expose the whole package for one slice. It stays covered, stays fresh.

GOT TO BE GOOD!

Prior to the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fraser, (nee Dorothy Saunders) last Wednesday, several presentations were made to them. Both were guests at a bowling party held by the Richard Hall staff and afterward at the store where a piece of Wedgewood china was given. The painting group to which the bride belongs held a party at the home of Miss Joan Brown, Benson Ave., and gave a gift of silver. Her associates of the CHEX staff gave a gift in china and the CGE draftsmen gave the groom a lamp.

A trousseau tea was given by Mrs. Kengel Lowther, 543 West.

A trousseau tea was given by Mrs. Kenneth Lowther, 543 Waterford St. in honor of her daughter June. The table was decorated with pink and white streamers on white linen with a setting of white candles and spring flowers. Tea was poured by Mrs. K. Junkin, mother of the groom, and serving were Mrs. R. Whalen, and Miss Vi Junkin. Little Muriel Junkin answered the door. Gifts and trousseau were shown by girls of the Dominion Bank staff.

Traditions to Uphold

Daughter of Mr. Justice Fernand Choquette, Judge of the Superior Court of Quebec, with a grandfather who was a Judge and three brothers studying law, Marguerite has heavy judicial traditions to uphold.

She wants not only to administer the law but to understand fully the reasons for child delirquency and to help accomplish the social reforms needed to stamp out its causes.

"Juvenile delinquency figures in Canada in 1950 showed a decrease," Marguerite said in an interview, "but there is still much to be done."

Lectures at the university cover penal history, penal reform and philosophy. Visits are made to such places as the Portman Clinic, centre for the scientific treatment of delinquents by means of psycho-analysis and psycho-therapy.

Gone, dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed—
How sweet the memory still—
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.

For the Wilder States, John W. Van Allen, of Buffalo, pleaded for information circulars to be sent to the international bridge traffic arteries so that personnel might help promote tourists in Ontario. He explained that 20 per cent of all people crossing to Canada were coming into the province for the first time and that Americans were only too willing to help educate them about Canada. A lively panel under the chairmanship of R. G. Perry, general manager of the Provincial Transport Company of Montreal, discussed the matter of lengthening the vacation season in the month of September by having Labor Day, an outdated calendar holiday, moved to the third Monday in the month. Saying that such an extension would mean an additional 50 or 60 million dollars, he suggested that labor organizations and departments of education should consider the change. Panel participants had this to say: Clint Melville, Department of Travel and Publicity: An extension of the month of September to preators to reduce rates at that period as an attraction. The three-month sentence, he got for another worthless cheque he passed in Guelph. None of the cheques exceeded $25.

Asked what he had to say for himself, Albrough said, "The only time I get into trouble is when I am drinking, that's all. I'm taying to lay off it, but haven't been very successful."

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, said that there was no drinking when he passed the cheque in Peterborough.

Got Off Lightly

Magistrate Philp commented that he considered Albrough was setting off lightly taking into consideration his record.

"It may well be better than you deserve," he added. "I warn you to keep away from this town, that's all."

Major Harry Everitt of the Salvationed Albrough was stationed.

Do Not Make The Tourist Feel At Home

An American who should know the whims and needs of tourists, Randall the job of restoring order and giving Ruhlman of the Cleveland Chamber of western civilization to the islanders. The Commerce gave some good advice to Taft commission encountered a cold atdelegates to the annual conference on titude on the part of the general. tourism, meeting in Toronto. He told respects, but the general sent a colonel them not to try to make their visitors feel at home. It is the same advice we instead. Finally Taft himself went to have been giving in these columns for years.

Too often in this Kawartha area, people whose business it is to cater to tourists bend their hospitality backwards-right back over the American border. They put up American flags, advertise American foods, copy American manners, customs and speech, and build and equip their shops, booths, cabins and governor of the islands and relieved restaurants in American fashion. That is the wrong way to win American friends. They do not come up to Canada to feel at home. They come here to feel that they are away from home.

Certainly they should be treated with the greatest friendliness and courtesy and made to feel welcome. That is their due as neighbours, friends and paying guests. But they are tourists, and want the experience of being in a different country, not merely in another state of the Union. Our differences from Americans, not our similarities to them should be emphasized.

the Kawarthas are from Cleveland and his advice is thus especially cogent. "Don't try to copy American institutions," he said. "Nor the stores, res- edy is heightened by the apparent intaurants nor hotels. Develop atmosperhaps difficult advice to follow. In our commerce we are compelled to accept American techniques and goods. Atmosphere—the kind that Mr. Ruhlman refers to-cannot be cooked up on demand; it is part of the people and their environment. Artificial creation of 'atmosphere' can result in quaint 'Ye Olde English' tea-rooms; in 'Early Upper patently false or blatantly uncomforta able. However, people who cater to tourists-and even whole cities like Peterborough - can make a better attempt than some are doing to trap what good Canadian atmosphere there is and transmit it to tourists. It is difficult for natives of the country to know what Stripes, when doing it.

About that time Republican President William McKinley sent William Howard Taft at the head of a commission charged with establishing a civilian govern ment in the Philippines. Taft arrived ine 3, 1900, just a month after Mac-Arthur had assumed his governorship.

Back home there was a national political fight going on, with President McKinley under heavy pressure from his Democratic opponents to end what they considered expensive military operations against Philippine elements fighting the American takeover. There were demands for early establishment of civilian government in the islands.

In MacArthur's command, there was a feeling that only the Army could do

Taft waited for MacArthur to pay his see MacArthur who gave him a cool welcome and assigned for the commission's use only one small room in the governor's palace.

Taft thereupon undertook a series of reports on MacArthur to Secretary of War Elihu Root in Washington. He even threatened to resign.

Only a few months before he was assassinated McKinley named Taft civilian MacArthur of his commands. He returned to the United States to military duty and by 1907 was in line to become Chief of Staff. However, Taft, by then Secretary of War, appointed another, and MacArthur remained in semi-retirement until his actual retirement at the age of 64, in June 1909.

The Private State Of Nuretana

By G. E. R. GEDYE

WAY-back in 1945, when the inhabitants of Vienna looked to the newly-arrived Bri-tish troops as their rescuers from the four months' Red Terror which had succeeded sevmonths' Red Terror which had succeeded seven years of the Brown (Nazi) variety, there was a certain air of carnival amidst the ruins. It was in this atmosphere that a British officer, an amusing young extrovert, who had won his M.C. (Milliary Cross) on the Anzio beach-head and was now working with the Army's Press Section, was moved to found the "Dukedom of Slabovia." Its supposed inhabitants (who seem to have drawn some of their traits from the gloomy states then forming traits from the gloomy states then forming behind the Iron Curtain) were a grim and in-verted crowd, to judge by their national ann, sung with hats on and "thumbs down"
"We hate thee, Slabovia

We hate thy frozen coasts, Of all the countries in the world, We hate Slabovia most!"

MAPS of these "frozen coasts" began to appear in the ante-room of the officers' mess, together with photographers of its leading statesmen (who all presented the backs of their heads to the camera.) One warm eve-ning in 1946, the well-to-do and lighthearted ning in 1940, the well-to-do and ignificanted young Colonel in charge of this Section char-tered at vast expense one of the passenger steamers seized by the Russians from the Danube Steamship Company for "A Trip to Slabovia"-actually to an Austrian riverside restaurant at Griefenstein in the heart of the forbidden Russian Zone.

At that time the breach between East and West was far narrower than it is today, and still bridged over by the lingering remnants of the comaraderie of common resistance to Hitlerism. . Not only was the ship leased and permission to land granted, but the Russian Commandant of Vienna, together with a mul-titude of diplomats, High Commissioners and their deputies, and high ranking officers of four nations accepted invitations to join the

This writer will not soon forget the entirely understandable and justified expression of bewilderment on the faces of the Russians on board as the founder (and "Prince") of Sla-bovia was piped aboard according to the ri-tual of that looking-glass State—walking majestically backwards down the gangway, his cap worn peak to front, with one hand behind his back touching the peak in salute. while his guard of honour on board, at the word of command, sprang to attention, did a right about turn and brought their hands smartly to the reversed peaks of their caps as they presented their backs to the advance ing rear of their royal ruler. The joke ran tain and the "Crown Prince of Slabovia" departed to explain the British way of life to a less exotic country. A passable pleasantry

If your proofreader did not err by not suggesting the word "Advertisement" should head the item then I will offer a sincere apology. If on the other hand this was not the case and the Examiner publicly supports this product, I hope the editors have their story on expert medical advice and more documentary evidence than an article in one monthly magazine.

CHILDREN'S BUS EXPENSES

Sir: In your recent issues of the Examiner there has been some controversy over "Children and Bus Drivers".

I myself have witnessed several children being roughly spoken to by bus drivers, and thought it very unmanly of them. Perhaps the mothers of these children are much too busy to measure each week or two, to see whether or not their children are over the 53" mark. Being a mother myself, I know how rapidly they grow. Although being with them constantly one never notices it. So when likely, by the tone of the letter. a mother sends three or four children to a Saturday matinee, she usually allows bus go too far to carry out the company's orders, thinking that perhaps one has grown to 53 likely they have some of their own. I feel very sorry for the child who was scolded by a bus driver the Sunday mentioned in a previous letter. In cities such as To-ronto children travel free on Sunday, and pay 3 cent fare other days.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection: knowing this, that our old man is cruicified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that hencefore we should not serve sin... Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him: knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth ne more; death hath no more dominion over him. For in that he died, he died unto sia

CHILDREN OVER 53 INCHES Sir: After reading a letter in Saturday's paper signed "Bus Passenger", I would like to clear up a few misunderstandings. Bus Passenger is confusing the issue mainly,-that children pay children's fare regardless of height. A child takes up one seat whether 53 inches or not. I would point out doctors claim 551/4 inches is normal height of a twelve year old. My eight year old child is now 52 inches tall, so I suppose in a year or so she will have to pay adult fare. Has "Bus Passenger" any children? Not

It was plainly explained some bus drivers

Does Bus Passenger remember when (he or she) was a child, with a limited amount of ride up town for a Saturday treat. Many mothers give out allowances to one or more children to Saturday matinee and they leave home expecting to have change to cover this treat. The child comes home saying he was short because on the bus he is an adult, while at the movie he was a child. A child could be classed as such until they

John W. Stott writes from Lakeland, Florida, asking us to check into the start of the Girls' Softball League back around 1920, as he was manager then of the Canadian Woollens team. He manages a boys' team now, though 72 years of age, and says he is the father of softball over that way—as they didn't play it until he moved there. Mr. Stott worked at the Woollens and played soccer for that company, also. He says he has some pictures of the CGE and Woollens' girls teams of the early 20s, but folks in his town argue with him that the game didn't go back that far. So he wants us to verify it for him.

While it was a bit before our time, we recall as a kid seeing the lasses playing in Central Park in front of the Armouries, and suppose they used other diamonds, as well. Bill Bennett says R. S. (Bob) Cotton is the grandad of girls' softball, starting it off in 1921. During the first few seasons, such teams were in as CGE, Woollens, Colonials, Quakers, YWCA, Thisties, Otonabee, De Laval and Tigers—though not all at the same time. Some of the better players developed around then, Bill says, were: Dot Mortimer, Babe Vincent, Kay McCarthy, Kay Taylor and the Misses Robinson, Plunkett, Wade, Millard, Hayes, Thornton, Patterson, Logan, Gimblett, Ferguson, Jay and others.

During The Golden 20s Girls' softball was organized a few seasons after the men got go ing outdoors, previously playing indoor baseball in the Armouries Some good games were served up by the lasses, and CGE entered the CNE tourney in Toronto in '26 and went to the semi-finals with Babe Vincent and Dot Mortimer a star battery, later moving to Toronto to play. Danforth beat out that CGE team 1-0 in a thriller. Local umps at the time included Alex Kay, Curly LeBarr, Al Davies, Morty McGill, Ab Delahaye, Mucker Legros, Bill Bennett, Jim Coursey and Joe Batten. One heavily-advertised playoff in September of 1926 here drew nearly 1,500 fans. The league folded up then and odd game at Lang and Keene. Some of the other officers of the early 30s were: Dot Gainor, Jim Mann, Betty Goldie, Barb Blade, Gladys Mortimer, Pete McGillen and Ev Thomas. In the early 40s, Bill Bennett began a lengthy reign as loop president. Keene, under Ivan Fletcher, dominated play for a spell in the senior period. CGE and others, of course, have been in there, too. It'll probably be a six-club league this season, going in twin bills three nights weekly under the Bowl floodlights.

Clearing Those Decks

An air of optimism permeated the annual meeting of the Petes senior ball club last eve, tinged with a feeling of loss in the deaths last winter of Vern Dawson and George Clarke. Two fine workers for baseball here, and the men chiefly responsible for lights in Riverside. A good friend and co-worker of these men, Claude Sherwood, was elected president, with Len Symonds secretary and business manager, Lloyd Grose the capable treasurer and Jack MacNamara Claude Sherwood was elected president of the Peterborough considerably over a period of president of the Peterborough Baseball Club for the 1951 seal ideal man to take over the president of the "overtime series" as the boys will be added to the executive, and the vice-prexy hasn't been namically along Peel Street refer to the ed yet. An open drill is called for Saturday at 1.30 p.m. in Morrow Park. The Viaduct League governors meet Sunday to plan for an opening on May 5, so there isn't too much time to line up a team. The Petes feel that they should add a pitcher, possibly two infielders and a couple of good outfielders to be a really strong squad this season. They have a flock of applicants, and then there are some good players here who will likely be out. Chaps like Andy Milne, Bill Huntley, Red Sullivan and maybe Chuck Paul-presently in Ottawa. He and Huntley played football here last fall, and Milne was with the puck Eagles. Yes, we believe the Petes will field a potent team this diamond semester.

Toronto 9-6 In First Game

Maybe Fred Saigh was a little hasty in sending Nippy Jones to Cardinals owner must be giving that deal a second thought.

What does Jones do in his first game with Rochester? Two homers good for three runs as the Red Wings whipped Toronto 9-6.

The game was one of four that pried the lid off the International League's 68th consecutive season. In a day game Syracuse defeated Buffalo 8-3 while at night Ottawa edged Springfield 5-4 and Montreal whipped Baltimore 15-7.

Jones was the big gun in Rochester's nine-hit attack against two Toronto hurlers. The deciding runs, however, came in the eighth inning when the champion Red Wings jammed four tallies across the plate, giving reliever Johnny Yuhas the verdict over Elmer Singleton.

Singleton.
At Syracuse, the Chiefs also used a four-run eighth inning to turn defeat into victory. Art Hartley went the route for Syracuse, with a seven-hitter. Rudy Maracin took the loss.

Wins First Start

Ottawa, replacing Jersey City in the league, won its first start with a three-run rally in the inith to top Springfield. Held to three hits. Ottawa won the game on four walks, an error and a hit batsman. Reliefer George Heller was the winner. Tony Jacobs the loser.

Junior Gilliam, with three singles, a homer and six runs batted in, led Montreal to its loped of the start of the singles, a homer and six runs batted in, led Montreal to its loped of the start of 33,159 paid, topped by 13,347 for the afternoon game at Rochester. Russians Tell Canada Treaty Signed By Six Countries

How To Protect Crops

PARIS, April 19 (CP) — The Russians Wednesday told Canada's shield their trops from destructive, parching prairie winds, similar to the dry Chinook of Western Canada.

The Russians explained to Dr. Andrew Thomson of Toronto, controller of the Canadian Meteorological Service, that they have planted a thick belt of trees across the path of the prairie winds in Souhern Russia.

This forces the wind upward to cooler layers of the stratosphere to form rain-bearing clouds. The result, the Russians claimed, has been an increased yield of wheat and cotton in the area.

LAKEFIELD, April 19 (ENS)—
Miss Shirley Hetherington of Peterborough was guest speaker at the CGIT meeting held in the United Church Monday evening. The speaker explained to the girls how to style their hair, and how to apply make-up. She also pointed out that lighter shades of lipstick were being used this season. Personal cleanliness was stressed, if a girl wishes to be attractive. Questions on beauty aids were asked by the girls and answered by Miss Hetherington.

Mrs. W. H. Tonge introduced the speaker who was thanked by Miss Margaret Calberry. Miss Ruth Bullock led the worship service which was taken by Mrs.

Neil Wood's group and Mrs. T.

Payton's group. Miss Helen Heneses yet read the scripture and Miss Ruth Fasser gave the prayer.

It was moved by Misses Mary Jane Foster and Helen Heneses yet hat the girls pay $10 to the WMS Presbytery in Peterborough affiliation fees.

Misse Mary Jane Foster reported $41.88 in the treasury.

Misses Connie Vallance and Barbara Chittick moved that $15 be left in the treasury for books and for the new year. The sum of $15 was donated to Mrs. V. Deck's Sunday school room for the purchase of supplies. This was moved by Misses Betty Jane Rath and Jeanette Bennington.

Treaty Violation

DAMASCUS, Syria, April 19
(Reuters)—Prime Minister Khaled El Azem Wednesday accused Israel of violating clauses in its armistice agreement and disobeying United Nations orders by removing inhabitants from the demilitarized zone inside Israel territory and demolishing Otheir houses. He made the accusations in parliament while reviewing incidents on the Israel-Syrian frontiers.

Tied To Water, Sewage System Lakefield, April 19 (ENS)— For a fourth time, the drive is on to provide Lakefield with a waterworks and sewage disposal system. Leading citizens believe the future of the village hangs on the result of this drive. Industries thinking of settling in Lakefield have balked repeatedly when they found no water system available for factories or for their employees' homes. Another point raised has been the polio-scare of recent years. Some citizens believe it is only a matter of time before the Ontario Municipal Board will step in and force the issue. At present, canvassers are covering the village with the proposal to instal water mains. This years, they feel the issue has a fair chance of success. Hints Casualties Will Be High FORT LEWIS, Wash., April 19 cess Patricia's Canadian Light In-(CP)—Brig. John Rockingham fantry, already in combat, won't said Wednesday Canadian casual-ties in Korea likely will be higher than they were in Italy and Normandy.

He told a press conference on the eve of the 6,000-man forces departure from nearby Seattle for Korea that if a Commonwealth division is formed in Korea, Canada might have to send additional troops to that war theatre.

The stocky, tanned brigadier said he hoped a Commonwealth division would be formed—"it would solve our administration problems."

HERE'S HOW TO REMOVE SMOKE STAINS FROM YOUR TEETH

If you are like 9 out of 10 smokers, you'll say smoking discolours your teeth. And here's what to do about it. Get yourself a tube of Iodent No. 2+A toothpaste today. It is made for smokers and people with teeth hard-to-bryten. Start brushing your teeth twice daily with this Iodent No. 2+A after meals. It will remove the smoke smudge or stains safely, surely and quickly. You will soon recapture your sparkling smile.

AMMONIUM COMPOUNDS in IODENT May Mean Less Tooth Decay

Iodent contains Ammonium Compounds and kills those trouble-making germs which cause mouth acids. To give your teeth the greatest protection against cavities, teeth should be brushed after eating with Iodent. Do this every, day and your chances for having fewer cavities are good. But remember, the time to prevent new cavities is before they start.

Don't give those mouth acids a chance to eat into the enamel protection. Brush them away after every meal with Iodent.

EFT DOES BOTH AND DISHES SHINE

ALL YOU DO IS RINSE even pots and pans glisten!

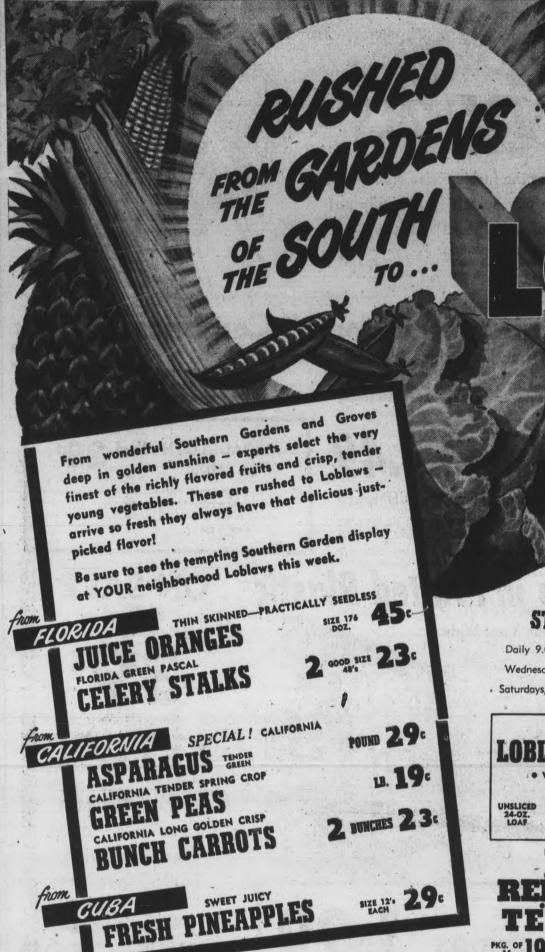

YOU DON'T WASH ... Instead of washing dishes just let them soak in warm Dreft suds for 2 minutes. Dreft floats grease and food particles away. Your hands barely touch the dishwater. Al' you have to do is rinse the dishes ing a swish of the cloth where needed, an presto! They're done!

YOU DON'T WIPE ... New Self-Washing Dreft leaves no dishwater film. It washes dishes and glasses so clean, they shine -even without wiping.

YOU DON'T SCOUR . . . Even pots and pans soak clean. Dreft's amazing "float-away" action gets under grease . . . lifts it off. Then grease rinses away . . . without scouring.

BEAUTY TIP! New Dreft is so mild, and your hands are in water so little, it leaves hands beautifully white and soft!

Advice on writing letters and Advice on writing letters and on exports, are two of the items on the business news desk today. The writer of the monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada de-votes the current issue to "writing business letters." Here are a few quotes from it: quotes from it:

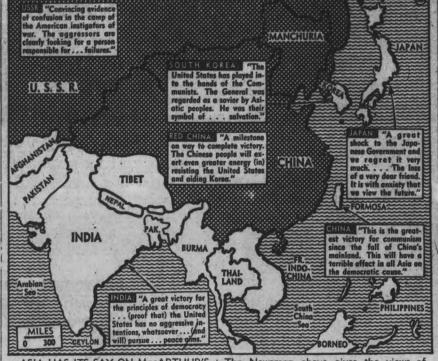

For the writer of the letter: "Smooth operation of every business organization is dependent to a large extent on the ability ent to a large extent on the ability of business men to communicate intelligently, effectively and swifly with other people... "Armed with a few ideas; a genuine concern and interest in our readers; a reverence for and knowledge of our language; a backgroud, constantly expanding, of good reading; and perhaps a reminder in our diaries to check our correspondence periodically, we shall be well equipped."

And for the person who gets the letter:

fetter:

"The reader who puts aside prejudice and brings an understanding spirit and an open mind to a piece of writing is co-operatig wholeheartedly with the writer who, in turn, has been thinking mainly of the recipient A meetmainly of the recipient. A meeting of minds takes place, and a closer understanding is reached."

National Council May Be Suggested By Arts Inquiry

CTTAWA, April 20—(CP)—The Massey Commission on Arts, in its historic report on culture, is expected to advise the government to create a politically-free national council to co-ordinate and expand federal aid to cultural developments in Canada.

ments in Canada.

Thereport, almost two years in the making, no whas been completed and is in the hands of the printers. Its 500 pages, filled with means of expanding cultural growth in this country, probably will be presented to the government and the public late this month.

Some of the expected recommendations:

1. Erection of a national library similar to those already functioning in other major countries; this library to absorb the many books that are surplus to the parliamentary library and now housed in the basement of the Supreme Court of Canada.

2. A new home for the National Gallery, which has been squeezed into a section of the National Museum building in this capital.

3. Aid, if possible, to Canadian hard-pressed universities. Some of which have indicated they no longer can remain active on current provincial grants and range of student fees.

4. Continuance of the federal policy by which the CBC controls the development and direction of television in Canada.

Created in 1949

spread use of soap operas and westerners.

Mr. Massey, Chancellor of the University of Toronto, gave a hint of the report's possible findings when he said in Quebec a year ago that briefs presented to the commission showed there was a "strong Canadian feeling across the country and resistance to cultural influences from across the border."

He said the feeling was "we want to handle Canadian affairs in our own way and not suffer the influence of our friends across the border."

With Mr. Massey on the commission was Dr. Norman A. M. MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia; the Most Rev. That was the conclusion of the women's page staff of the Winnipeg Tribune which ran a layout of pictures showing a typical wedding dress of today alongside others taken 15, 35 and 75 years ago.

The camera studies showed a definite similarity of lines. When some brides of 50 and 60 years ago were asked about it, they said the main difference between then and now is that in the earlier period there were bustles and voluminous petticoats.

Numerous women questioned said they had held on to their wedding gowns. Some could be found in attics, preserved as treasured family heirlooms and carefully wrapped and stored away in old trunks.

Bright Lascar Costumes Inspire Summer Casuals

A striking theme for summer's casual clothes is borrowed by designer Liz Montgomery from the colorful—costumes worn by the lascars, East Indian sailors. This embroidery appears on the jacket only; it's used around the necktonly in the colors, red and blue. These are the colors the lascar costume in two colors, red and blue. These are the colors the lascars wear, embellished by the striking white embroidery that these sailors do themselves. The embroidery, too, appears in these interpretations, which are done in hardy topsail. hardy topsail.

A sun dress, in the beautiful sons. blue of the lascars, has (left) a fitted halter top, neat waistline and huge patch pockets. A centre pleat runs from waistline to hemline. Srolled embroidery in white outlines the neck, the halter, the front skirt panies and is used lavishly on the pockets.

problem is our mother. As long as we can remember she has tried to run our lives. She seems to enjoy feeling sorry for herself. When I was home I could cope with her, though I wasn't very happy. Since I have been in the hospital she has written about her troubles and her self-pity in every letter. She tries to check on my husband's every move. This keeps me in an upset condition. There are two good reasons for this: One is that no girl should marry until she has known a lot of boys and gone around with them so she can be sure that the one she is going with is the one she really likes best. The second reason is that if a girl goes steady with one boy and has no other friends among the boys, she is left flat if he gets tired of her and leaves her for another girl. keeps me in an upset condition and is hindering my recovery. FIVE HIGH-SCHOOL GIRLS.

ANSWER: Yes, my dears, it pays a girl to be good. It pays her in health, in length of days, in beauty, in happiness, in her own self-respect and the respect of all who know her. It pays her in actual dollars and cents and her chances of getting along in the world.

If by chance one of these wild from one love-nest to another, does marry a decent man, she index that her past life casts its shadow over her marriage and blights it. If she tells the man of what she has done and been, he may refuse to marry her. If she does not tell him, she forever lives in deadly fear of his finding out her secret. out her secret.

And finally, my dear girls, it pays to be good just because of the inner satisfaction it gives you anyone who tells you otherwise.
When a girl throws this away for the sake of having a good time she has literally sold her birthright for a mess of pottage.

CNR Freight Service Remains Unchanged

Remains Unchanged

TORONTO, April 19.—That the Canadian National Railways do not contemplate any restrictions being placed on the movement of carload traffic when the five-day week becomes effective on June 1, was stated by A. J. Lomas, vice-president, central region. He leaves his widow, the former Lucy Moynes, and one brother, Ralph, of Windsor. The body is resting at his late residence until Saturday at 10 a.m. when it will be taken to the Nisbet funeral home for service at 1.30 p.m. The Rev. A. A. Mathews the five day the first safter this date. Mr. Lomas pointed outhat while less-than-carload shipments of produce would be curtailed on Saturdays at points where the station would be closed this will not effect the movement of carload shipments, including cattle. Where necessary, Mr. Lomas said, special provision will be made to handle carload traffic on Saturday.

Winter Months Busy For VON

March, April and May are the busiest months of the year for the Victorian Order of Nurses in Peterborough, Miss Mary Ross, nurse-in-charge, reported Wednesday at the April meeting in the city buildings.

Queen Elizabeth Home and School Association meeting was held Tuesday evening, with a very good attendance.

Mrs. D. Rostocky, guest speaker, was introduced by president Mrs. H. Race and her topic was "Family Relations." Mrs. Rostocky has taken an interest in child psychology.

Mrs. P. Jarvis and Mrs. E. Lymburner gave reports on the regional conference held in Toronto.

Carol Ann Lymburner sand would have been more if the minutes were read by Mrs. N. Hicks.

Mrs. J. Rea read the secretary's report and the minutes were read by Mrs. N. Hicks.

G. S. White (PC-Hastings Peterborough) said efforts should be made to reopen the British market to Canadian agricultural and other products. But, he added, the United Kingdom should be prepared to pay "going prices."

Mr. White urged establishment of a floor price of at least 62 cents a pound for butter and 32 cents a pound for cheese, He said the government should also compensate Ontario and Quebec bacon and cheese producers to make up for the low prices they received on products sold to British under contract during the war and post-war years.

Mr. White said low prices were making dairy farmers indifferent to the fight against dairy substitutes.

Britain Purges Witchcraft Act

LONDON, April 20 (AP). — Britain today purged sections of the famed Witchcraft Act which have haunted mediums and spiritualists since 1735.

A new law, given final passage by the House of Commons today, lifted the threat of prosecution henging over Britain's thousands of mediums and spiritualist believers under the 1735 Act.

It aimed to curb "any kind of witchcraft, sorcery, enchantment or conjuration, or undertaking to tell fortunes." Since 1735, both mediums and spiritualists saw in that clause, now eliminated, a standing threat of prosecution as "rogues and vagabonds."

The 1735 Act went on the books when Britain was riding a wave of superstition that reached its peak in the 16th century. Experts claim there is still a lot of witchcraft in remote villages of England—especially in Cornwall —Wales, and Scotland.

Woman Freed

Mrs. Peter DeCarlo, 17 Moir St, was found not guilty in police court Thursday of assaulting an Il-year-old girl but Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., warned her that she had escaped only on a technicality.

He told the woman not to strike the child or any other child not her own again. If she did, he said, she would be back in court.

Mrs. DeCarlo answered that if the child didn't leave her alone them she would be back in court. Thureday of having wine in their truck.

Detective Sergeant W. A. (Bud) Clarke said while he was patrolling the city checking suspicious cars and trucks in the early hours of April 14, he noticed a truck parked at Park and Romaine Sts. Two hours later while stopped at Park and Elm Sts. he saw the truck approaching him on Park St. A short distance from the police cruiser, the truck kept going until it had reached Reid and Huntar Sts. There the police car stopped the truck.

The officer said Keller, senior, failed to give a satisfactory account of his movements. The accused man produced an unopened bottle of wine from his pocket. In the truck was a bottle of wine that had only recently been emptied.

He said Keller was a borderline drunk and in a mood for arguing. Keller said he had been visiting his brother-in-law. When he started home he did not know whether he had enough gas to drive to his home seven miles out in the country. He finally decided to try to phone a service station to see whether it was open. He said the wine belonged to his wife and had been bought for Sunday. He hadn't had a chance to take it home that evening.

Too Small Brotherish?

The Montreal Gazette thinks that Mr. Pearson, Minister of External Affairs, has been ill-advised to say what he did in Toronto last week. Mr. Pearson warned the U.S. that Canada would never be a 'camp-follower'. The Gazette finds this "painfully unnecessary". Mr. Pearson said that the U.S. must realize that our support does not mean "an automatic response of 'ready, aye, ready' to everything that Washington proposes."

The trouble may be that we dont understand why there is to be an investigation. We confess freely that we do not understand why there is to be an investigation into crime, particularly as it regation into crime, particularly as it regation into crime, particularly as the most open-minded of people: they really do not expect much from the life fellow except admiration and compliance. Perhaps, too, Canada is to decent and quiet. If we had dictafors up heat to gathon will begin in Toronto next Tuesday, and after hearings there it will go to other big cities in the province. There has been little in the news to suggest that gambling has been unusually prevalent during the past year, or that the municipal or provincial police forces are not able to deal with it. We are plagued by an unworthy suspicion that Ontario is going to have an investigation of this kind because there was an exiting investigation in New York and long ago. The "me-too" spirit is rather more common in Canada than most of us will admit.

What the lawvers say who have to go so frequently the lawyers say who have to go so frequently to the County Court House, I can only guess. Some of their vocabularies are pretty vivid.

ROSE AND MINNIE: Here is a singular pathetic tale about Peterborough in 1837, published in London in 1868 (probably) by John Henry and James Parker at 377, Strand, so the title page says, and printed by the famous bookselling firm Messrs. Parker, in the Cornmarket, Oxford.

the Cornmarket, Oxford.

A local oddity, it is a real find and the credit for the find goes to Peterborough's Librarian, William Graff, whose quick eye for Peterburians spotted the item in a dealer's old book catalogue. It is a linen-covered book of 106 pages, and Number XXVIII in a series "Historical Tales." The title is "Rose and Minnie," the subtitle the Loyalists: A Taie of Canada in 1837." The author is unknown. I am not sufficiently acquainted with the writings of Mrs. Moodie, Mrs. Traill, et al. to be able to tell from internal evidence that any of that clan wrote the pathetic tale It was written by somebody who at least knew of Peterborough and Upper Canada, about 1850. > THE story is told with instructive emphasis THE story is told with instructive emphasis on English gentry, English manners, English class-consciousness (the gentle-folk are always high-minded, Christian and forbearing; the acceptable lower orders are obsequious and the unacceptable lower orders are either American and grossly familiar, or rough-neck, surly, sallow rebels). Canada is a land naturally fit to be daughter of England, despite the crudity of her people and customs. It is a story eminently suitable to Victorian English school-girls whose hearts could flutter at the thought of far-flung colonies while they did their needlework and dropped sentimental tears for Minnie, who is eventually frozen to death. The story reeks with prissy sentimentality. But it is written by an educated person.

Chicago Sox Rout Browns Zarilla Sparks Team To Win

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sport Writer.

Maybe it's only Al Zarilla, but thicago White Sox are hitting like Red Sox now.

Zarilla is making Frank Lane, the Chicago general manager, look like the American League's Branch Rickey.

Jim Hearn proved his league-leading 2.49 earned-run mark of 1950 was no mistake by winning the opener 4-2 with steady seven-hit ball.

Breaks Up Game
Earl Torgeson finally broke up the wild second game at 8:10 p.m.

Zarilla is making Frank Lane, the Chicago general manager, look like the American League's Branch Rickey.

Last December they laughed when Lane traded Ray Scarborough and Willie Wight to Boston for Zarilla, Joe Dobson and Dick Littlefield. "Must be plenty of dough involved," the wise guys sald.

Lane insisted it was an "even trade" that would help both clubs. All winter it seemed Boston's Red Sox would be the only club helped. Most experts thought the two regular pitchers assured them the pennant. It may yet, but the first week's evidence is against them.

Wight, knocked out by New York opening day, was Boston's first loser. Zarilla, bursting with two home runs, a double and two singles accounting for seven runs batted in.

Montreal 10-7

By The Canadian Press
Baseball is a funny business. When the International League opened its 68th consecutive season Tuesday 33,159 fans turned out for four games. The major leagues that day drew only 25,691 for five games.

But apparently the triple-A international circuit can't stand prosperity. Two games were played Thursday and a total of 739 paid turned out.

A crowd of 517 saw Baltimore Irioles win a 10-7 slugging match from Montreal's Royals in a night game at Baltimore. Tuesday, when the Royals whipped Baltimore 15-7, 9,205 fans were in the stands.

Four home runs, featured by Anse Moore's grand-slam homer in an eight-run fourth inning, did the job for Baltimore. Reliefer Joe Payne, who gave up one hit in four innings, was the winner. Montreal used five pitchers, start-

The decision was reached after league officials conferred with referee Bill Chadwick and official scorer Ed Dagnino of Boston.

The game was the memorable sixth of the cup semi-final between Montreal Canadiens and the Red Wings, played in Montreal April 7. The goal was scored

Everyone Trying To Guess Talk

MONTREAL, April 20—(CP)—
What the president of the National Hockey League said to the general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs—and vice versa—was still a matter of speculation and even guesswork today.

The incident cropped up Thursday night in the second period of the Stanley Cup hockey final between Leafs and Montreal Canadiens. The Leafs won in overtime, 3-2, if that is pertinent.

Max Bentley of the Leafs had just been given a penalty. In a few seconds Smythe had left his rail-side seat and was talking with Campbell, seated in a nearby box seat.

Ontario Defence Progress Reported

TORONTO, April 20 — (CP) —
Recent civil defence exercises at Sauk Ste. Marie demonstrated Ontario residents are "making idequate progress in preparation for possible enemy air attack," Arthur Weish said on Thursday. Ontario's civil defence coordinator said in a statement that the results at the Sault "proved beyond doubt that properly-organized areas can effectively minimize fire loss, causalties and panic."

Newsprint For Britain To Total 100,000 Tons

LONDON, April 20 (Reuters) —Trade Minister Harold Wilson said Thursday Britain expects to get about 100,000 tons of Canadian newsprint in 1951.

These supplies should remove considerable uncertainty about the newsprint situation, but much depended on when they arrived, he told the House of Commons.

He said he would be prepared to consider reducing British exports of home-manufactured newsprint if there was any further danger to imports. Britain exports 100,000 tons a year from her own mills.

NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY MUST -OR WE PAY DOCTOR'S FEE!

REVER BEFORE has there been such a constipation corrective with such assurance of positive relief!

No lexative in medical history can offer proof of such action and results! Easy-to-take Melcalose tablets give gentle, corrective relief without purging or griping . . . correct years of constipation and maintain that normal function without harsh drugs.

Actual medical records prove that Melcalose can restore normal regularity in as little as 7 days—even in people who have suffered from constipation for 20 or 30 years!

MERE AT LAST is a material that causes no stomach upset, passes unchanged through the digestive system, goes to work only after it reaches the place where constipation occurs . . in the clogged, alugish colon! This means that without violent purging, sickening nauses or digestive disturbances of any kind, without the endless inconvenience of messy seeds or granules, slippery oils or bitter salts . . . you at last experience natural, normal elimination!

MECALOSE DISSOLVES into a mild, non-purging gel which mixes completely with the contents of the colon to provide gentle, corrective relief; to produce light, smooth bowel movements. Once this rhythmic activity is restored and maintained, constipation no longer exists?

Melcalose is not a laxative . . . but a bowel regulator! Melcalo tablets produce no stomach upset, nauses, cramps or diarrhes. They do not lose their effectiveness with use. No increase in Melcalose closege will ever be necessary.

They're HARMLESS TO TAKE EVEN OVER A LONG PERIOD OF TIME! Remember Melcalose gives assurance of results that no laxative has ever dared offer! They're at your druggists now, in bottles of 65 and 130 tablets. Get a bottle and start correcting your constipation, today!

MELCALOSE DIFFERENT FROM ALL OTHERS!

ORDINARY "LAXATIVES". OFTEN UPSET ENTIRE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Continual use of harsh laxatives tends to upset entire digestive tract; draw off needed water; may prolong constipation indefinitely . . . Melcalose Tablets have effect only where constipation takes place! Do not interfere with vitamin and mineral absorption.

RESIDENTS OF THIS AREA:

Take MELCALOSE TABLETS according to simple directions. Should you fail to find positive corrective relief within 7 days, we believe you should see your doctor promptly—and we will pay for the visit on the same scale and basis provided for general medical care in the Associated Medical Services or Physicians' Services Incorporated plans—when your doctor certifies that your constitution was not corrected. This is our pledge to you—that MELCALOSE will bring the relief you need!

Pres. Of Hog Producers Declined Secretary Post

April 20, 1951 — PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER .

Regarding the resignation of W. E. Tummon as secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Hog Producers' Marketing Board, Roy Jewell reports in the London Free Press an interview with Charles McGinnis, president of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, who is not a voting member of the board.

Mr. Jewell says he hopes it will clear the air and contribute to the welfare of the industry.

The statement by Mr. McGinnis follows, in part: "In the early days of the organization it was a pleasure to work with our first secretary, Wilfred Bishop. He made a worthwhile contribution and was always firm in his femands for an improved bargaining position on behalf of hog producers."

"We were unable to make progress as rapidly as the hog producers of the province felt we should. A feeling of resitessness developed to a point where a new secretary was appointed.

"It has been a privilege for me to work for several years with Mr. Tummon and I have admiced his ability. But again we have been unable to accompilsh what the producers expected of us and the same feeling of resitessness has developed and now we have had another change of personnel in the position of secretary-treasurer. I believe Mr. Johnson will render valuable service but I am fearful that unless we can achieve an increased bargaining power, producers may before long the contribution of secretary-treasurer. Pacific Pact Interesting To Canadians Says Lester Pearson

External Affairs Minister Pearson said Canada will be "interested" if negotiations between the United States, Australia and New Zealand are extended towards a Pacific Pact along the lines of the North Atlantic Treaty. But he told the House of Commons, Thursday, that there is no indication at present that this extension is going to take place.

Members agreed to establish a committee to study changes to the Federal Election Act. J. A. Ross (PC-Souris) and Robert Fair (SC-Battle River) suggested that larger corporations could have been taxed more heavily along with persons in the higher-income brackets.

Cabbie Pops Question, So Capp Says Yes, Ends Li'l Abner's Years Of Bachelorhood

A momentous question has been settled today for readers of the Examiner on page 23. Li'l Abner is going to marry Daisy Mae. Not that the chump of the Yokum family of Dogof the Yorum family of Dog-patch deserves such a true and trusting girl, to say nothing of her other qualities, but Daisy Mae is a one-man girl, and where her heart has strayed, it-stays continently and hopefully in spite of a long series of re-buffs and humiliations that no spirited girl would tolerate buffs and humiliations that no spirited girl would tolerate. It turns out that a taxi driver has thrust the question of millions, including the Examiner's thousands, at Al Capp, creator of the multitude of characters in the background of the vicissitude and disappointments of Daisy Mae, and demands a definite answer.

So Capp vicariously says yes for Li'l Abner, but present trends and shaping incidents indicate that it is going to be many moons before the Dogpatch and Skunk Hollow folks hold kitchen showers for Daisy Mae. She is bound to shed a lot more Cappian tears while the simpleton Abner is straying off in other directions of transient attraction. At any rate, her fate is fixed, if still long deferred. Capp knows which side his bread is buttered on while he is prolonging the aberrations of Abner. In today's short but equivocally decisive chapter, you encounter the guile of Capp. See page 23; after that Daisy's patient fans may turn to the editorial page or whatever is the order of their daily reading.

The morality squad told in court how the discovery of a rent receipt in Malec's home led to the uncovering of the Howard Ave, garage where Malec had stored 106 bottles. Evidence showed Malec who admitted he has not been employed for more than a year, operates two cars, feeds a family of seven, and has purchased 113 bottles of liquor on permit in less than a year.

Inspector Burns said the Malec investigation was set off when two Pierre Ave, parents found an illegal drinking party going on in their home when they returned unexpectedly on Christmas Day, The incident led to a raid on Malec's home.

Ottawa, has the following to say about it:

"This experimental nuclear power plant will consist of a pile operating at a temperature of up to 600 degrees centigrade. The heat will be transferred to a steam boiler and the steam reised will generate power through turbines in the conventional way.

"Cost of the atom power station is estimated—very roughly—at $22,000,000, three times the relative cost of a conventional power station. But a coal-fired station will burn $45,000,000 worth of fuel during its life of approximately 30 years, during which the atom-power energy unit will operate without fuel costs. In other words, the atom-power station will result in a net saving of $30,000,000 over the ceriod, or $1,000,000 a year.

I think small families would be well advised to buy it by the quart, for often if a gallon is after your first enthusiasm wanes, not because you lose interest in it after your first enthusiasm wanes, not because you do not like it but an expensive flavor, but it will because you forget to include it in both into the whipped cream. Pile lightly in sherbet glasses. Usually the maple syrup is poured over this just before serving, but I poured it over the pudding and let it stand overnight and our family thought it was an improvement for the maple flavor penetrated the rice and cream.

Maple Sugar Tea Biscuits

Make sour milk tea biscuits by sifting together 2 ctips sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon sold. Work in with finger tips 2 table-spoons shortening or margarine. Add 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk. If desired add one beaten egg too and good shake of nutmeg or cinnamon, then add 1 cup (or less) shaved maple sugar. Stir in quickly and then pat and roll out on floured board. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. These may be cut out or dropped from spoon. If small they require abut 12 to 15 minutes. Perfectly delicious when served hot with a rather tart fruit dessert. OR with coffee and assorted cheeses.

Maple Syrup Tarts

One cup maple syrup, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon butter, ½ cup water, 2 tablespoons flour. (The addition of chopped nuts or some cocoanut is recommended but is not necessary.) Make a paste of the flour, butter and egg yolks; stir the maple syrup and water into them over boiling water and stir until thick. Pour into baked tartshells. Cover with meringue made by beating the 2 leftover whites until stiff with 4 tablespoons sugar. Brown until golden in addition health officials

1. Introduction of the Course.

Home Economists recommend. Ingredients: one 20 ounce can of corn; one medium onlon (sliced); half a cup of diced celery; two cups of water; three cups of thin cream sauce well seasoned with salt and pepper.

In a saucepan combine the corn, onlon, celery and water. Cover and simmer for 10 minutes.

Make three cups of sauce using three tablespoons of butter, three tablespoons flour, one teaspoon salt, a little pepper, three cups milk. Rub the corn mixture through a coarse sieve and add to the cream sauce.

Serve hot and sprinkle with a dash of paprika. This will serve six.

To functional for the function of cream of tartar and pinch of salt.

Beat the two whites until frothy. Add the cream of tartar and salt. Continue beating until whites are through a coarse sieve and add to the cream sauce.

Cover the entire surface of the cold pie filling with the meringue and put into a moderately slow oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit). Bake 20 minutes.

And one of the youthful patriots who stole it from Westminster Abbey, last Christmas Day reported that one-quarter of the 458-pound sandstone Stone was broken off during the theft.

Kay Matheson, 22-year-old school teacher who with three companions engineered the coup, said the Stone broke as it was being removed from the Corona-tion Chair. It rests beneath the chair and is a part of the traditional Coronation ceremonies.

Miss Matheson said it was taken to Scotland in two pieces, each piece in a different car.

The Dundee meeting passed a resolution demanding the Stone's return. Scottish Nationalists maintain that the English originally stole it from them.

About $450 damage was done to Tobin's car and about $275 to a car owned by Royce Godfrey, 66 Lansdowne, which was parked in front of Godfrey's home.

Tobin told police that he was driving west on Lansdowne St., about 11 p.m. he met a car or truck which had very bright lights which blinded him. Tobin's car went off the road and travelled 128 feet striking the rear of the Godfrey car parked off the pavement. The Tobin car went another 78 feet before stopping.

The parked car which had been left in reverse gear, was driven by the impact 29 feet up over the sidewalk onto the lawn. Constable William G. Scott reported that there were no signs of Tobin having applied brakes.

Ferguson also hit a parked car about 3.45 a.m. today. This one was owned by Major Cyril Everitt of the Salvation Army, 565 Elm St.

As Three States Hit tions have poured in from all over the United States.

But none can pay him greater tribute than he got here Friday when 7,500,000 persons sent thunderous cheers echoing to the masonry peaks of this skyscrape wonderland.

MacArthur's immediate plans were not made public. He and his wife and 13-year-old son, Arthur, were secluded on the 37th floor of the hotel.

His tentative plans call for a visit to Chicago next week. The deposed Far East commander also is committed to visit his wife's home at Murfreesboro, Tenn. No date for that trip has been announced.

MacArthur is expected back in Washington late in the month to testify before a congressional inquiry into far-eastern military and foreign policy.

"We shall never forget it," MacArthur said Friday of the historic welcome.

The general appeared shortly after 11 a.m. EST, in his familiar trench coat and with his famed gold-braided hat on his head.

From that instant, New York went wild with joy. The frenzy lasted four hours.

There never was anything like it before as massed humanity shouted, wept and waved the general along his 15-mile parade route.

wrath was a technique worth cultivating in any country. The best traveller she ever met was in China in the nineteen-twenties when she lived near the railway line at the time of the bandits' heyday. Two unexpected guests arrived, an American woman and her French maid, with matted hair hanging round their ears and tattered nightdresses under their thick overcoats. Their train had been held up by the bandits and the women had been captured and forced to march cross-country to the bandits' lair, escorted by a desperado wearing one of the lady's Fifth Avenue hats crammed down over his own greasy cap. The American hid her valuable rings in her bedroom slippers which made walking unbearably painful. When she was allowed to rest on a rocky hillock she managed to hide her rings in it. After they had returned to civilization this paragon amongst travellers drew a sketch map of her journey between train and bandits' hiding place and from this map the rings were eventually found. Mrs. Ingle concluded her diverse reminiscences on good and bad travel in many countries by saying, "I think that as good travellers we should come back from other places with a keener eye for the pleasures of home."

If any reader has been collecting the column "How Time Flies" which appears daily on the editorial page of the Examiner, giving a summary of local items since 1900, or the other column "Main Street Topics," I would be most grateful also if I might borrow this material to help in my work.

I would be very glad to hear from any persons who have material of historical value —in addition to newspapers—letters, diaries, maps, pictures, scrapbooks, directories, locally printed magazines such as "Canadian Lumberman," and old books by local authors. All these contain material of interest to the historian, and will be carefully preserved and returned upon request... HOWARD T. PAMMETT

Monarchs, backed by the spectacular netminding of Hughes, overpowered Saskatoon Quakers 9-3 Friday night, to take their best-of-seven semi-finals in four straight games.

They now will take on either Valleysield Braves or Sydney Millionaires for the title, first time the Alexander Cup has been put on the line. The series will lack the eld east-west battle touch of smilliar in other leagues. It's strictly an eastern fight this season.

Tough Job Quakers, who lost the other three games 8-5, 4-1 and 4-2, summed up the series this way: "When you have to tangle with Hughes after getting through those forwards and defencemen, it's a mighty tough order. Hughes was terrific. And he got wonderful support. They're a good team."

Quakers managed to keep up with the high-flying Monarchs for two periods Friday night. They battled to a 2-2 tie in the first session and split two goals in the

But the third period was a disastrous affair. Monarchs broke loose for six unanswered goals, every one of them earned.

Johnny Ubriaco, a 'fiery little centre, and big Bill McCracken led Toronto with two goals each Gord Hannigan Ken Watson, Sam Kennedy, Eddle Mulligan and Dusty Blair got singles. Bob Wiest, Charliel McCullough and Cy Rouse tallied for Saskatoon.

The top event will be the 92nd running of the King's Plate, Canada's turt classic, the oldest continuously run horse race of the North American continent.

It will be decided on the clossing day of the Ontario Jockey Club, Saturday, May 26. It carties a purse of $15,000 added, estimated value $21,000, plus the gift of 50 guineas donated annually by His Majesty, King George VI.

The fighting Fox-La Rosa colt started as an 11-10 favorite in the Hurst Park seven-funlong feature but was edged out at the finish by J. Olding's Crocodile, a 100-8 outsider.

Small Attendance

There were only 2,168 fans on hand to watch Quakers blast into a 1-0 lead in the first period and then first period and then see Monarchs push ahead with goals by the 15-minute mark. Rouse tied it up 2-2 by the end of the period.

Quakers, playing without the services of George Senick, put on the preiod and moved ahead on Mc-Cullough's drive from 10 feet out. However, Mulligan came up with an unassisted marker at 8:24 to put the teams on even terms.

Monarchs just ran wild in the third period. Hughes, who kicked on 32 shots furing the entire game, handled only eight shots in the last period Jack Gibson saved on 32 shots in the game.

Coach Riley Mullen whisked his players away with these parting words: "We were beaten by a fine club. We wish them all the luck in the world."

Herb Frost Hits 843

Herb Frost, dependable veteran with the Swartz squad, rolled leading triple of 843 and top single of 341 this week in the Men's City Bowling League. If it's nice this aft, a bunch of senior ball prospects will be down at Morrow Park tossing the spalding around and limbering up under the watchful eye of Manager Ed Whitehill—the Gunner who has tossed a great many apples himself in the past 15 years. Last year's Petes, newcomers to town since then, and any local talents wanting a tryout, should be on deck. Season may be opening in two weeks, so time is of the essence. Whip Faces The Mask hipper Billy Watson returns to the Brock Arena on Tuesday eve in the main pro mat bout, taking on the villainous Masked Marvel. This ferocious fugitive from a masquerade party took the Whip in Toronto some time ago in a challenge match which cost Watson $500—which he turned over to the Crippled Children's Fund, as he had promised to do if he lost. It should be quite a battle when they tangle on the local mat. The Mask's hooded manager, who is quite grappler, too, in an illegal sort of way, goes against the 310-pound Iron (Goliath) Talun, beard and all, in the semi-final. There may be an obscure psychological reason for all the overtime games in the Stanley Cup series between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

It could be a reaction to the frustration built up during the regular season when there was no provision for overtime and the six teams of the National Hockey League played a record number of tie games.

One thing is certain, the fans haven't been at all disappointed to see Montreal and Toronto go to the seminal with a bit of luck can still go on when there was no provision for overtime and the six teams of the National Hockey League played a record number of tie games.

One thing is certain, the fans haven't been at all disappointed to see Montreal and Toronto go to the seminal with a bit of luck can still go on the time the pane will have to be replayed. The happened in the cannounced that Irvin would remain as coach for at least another two years.

"We have to go out and give whything we have—and a little more," said coach Joe Primeau in St. Catharines where the Leafs will remain uitil shortly before game time.

Two Tragedies Of Greed

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

I lacked space in my last article to complete the story of Abraham and Lot, from my "Rhymed Introduction to the Bible." Before going on to Moses and others, I should like to add the lines constitution of the state of the should be should

Too many people are like Lot: Have all been for the comm They're after all that can be got;
And not for peace would they
The Bible tells of such a man. His name was, as you'll see,

To grab things for themselves.
Oh no!

For Lot, as he looked o'er the Don't like at all to justify. se what he thought the most

Though you and I may think it wrong.

I do not like this tale at all,
And yet it grimly points a moral.
The Israelites much loot, you see,
Had taken from an enemy.
This Achan from the common store Tried from the others to grab more. From what belonged to all he stole, And in his tent hid in a hole, And in his tent hid in a hole,

Some bars of silver, and a robe;
And when within his tent a probe
Revealed this hidden, stolen stuff,
His punishment was dire enough;
Is urely would not like to see
Upon a man's whole family
So terrible a fate decreed,
Even for such a selfish deed.
And yet, like this old-time Achan
Is every selfish, grabbing man, Who, in our modern years of strife.
When some are risking, giving,
life,

life, Thinks just how he may for him-self Make sure of gaining power, or pelf. For always in the wartime year Are patriots and profiteers. The Bible thus has much to say About things happening today. For now, as then, the men wis steal

ciety, 1951."

Twenty-eight years after designing Canada's first stamp Sir Sandford presented the plan of standard time for which he was conferred a knighthood by Queen Victoria.

Sir Sandford was born in Kircaldy, Fifeshire, Scotland in 1827. He was apprenticed to an engineer and surveyor in Kircaldy, but at the age of 18 he sailed to Canada and came to Peterboroughed.

A campaign to raise $70,000 to build a lodge room and banquet hall and remodel the house on the Hamilton property is being planned by the members of the Masonic Craft in Peterborough. The Hamilton property which is bounded by Reid, Hall, Rubidge and Brock Sts., was purchased for a new Masonic temple last October by the Peterborough Masonic Hall Limited.

Constable Dovell injured his finger while arresting a Bancroft youth, and he was given leave of absence to recuperate. Apparently that was the tipoff for the lawless element to get a few licks in.

One Haliburton street has had every street light but one shot out, two motor vehicles had a window broken, machinery from a sawmill was shoved into the lake and almost submerged in mud, and paper was scattered througout a school that had been broken into.

Most serious damage was the roundhouse where vandals had a filed day smashing 32 lights.

If Constable Dovell doesn't soon get back one resident is thinking of importing Randolph Scott of cinema-fame who's cleaned up many a wild and woolly western town.

Party Australia, April 21—Assembly, is fighting hard to hold his parliamentary seat. He is opposed in the April 28 Australian general election by Mrs. Nancy Wake, a heroine of the Second World War who tackled the doughty Evatt in the 1949 election and whittled his 1946 majority of 11,000 to a mere 2,644. This time the fight is tougher because Dr. Evatt must contend with the Communist issue.

Last year Dr. Evatt opposed the coalition government's hit odissolve the Communist party when it was before the House of Representatives. His deunciation of some of its provisions astonished both his friends and his enemies by its passion and feeling.

Then the ALP ordered parliamentarians to cease opposing the bill which was passed.

Challenges Act

The Communist party and several unions challenged the act in the high court and Dr. Evatt accepted a brief to appear for some of the unions.

He won the case and a few weeks later successfully defended the Communist miners' president, Idris Williams, against a summons for contempt of court arising out of the one-day-a-week coal stoppages.

The post-war program of university education for veterans is coming to a close, it was indicated Friday in a survey by the Bureau of Statistics.

Enrolment in universities and colleges at the start of the present school year is estimated at 68,000. This compared with a peak of about 83,000 three years ago. The latest figure still includes about 7,000 veterans who are receiving educational benefits from the Veterans Department.

HOLLYWOOD, April 21 (AP)—Many Broadway personalities make a popular pastime of scoffing at Hollywood acting. Helen Hayes has served notice that she will not join the game.

Miss Hayes is playing in "My Son John," her first film in 18 years. She emphasizes that she didn't desert the medium because of disrespect for the movies. She always said she would return to the films as a character actress.

The actress said the experience of doing a picture again has renewed her appreciation of movie acting.

"I must say that I don't sympathize with those Broadway people who condemn all film acting," she remarked. "Film actors are faced with hard work and the difficulty of sustaining a performance over a period of time and of coping with a mechanical medium.

Insulation Stands Guard Whether Winter or Summer

Choice Of Material

But you cannot say, "I want my house completely insulated" and let it go at that. The design and selection of insulation for the selection of insulation for the home is a specialized business and should be calculated by your architect or builder. The chief function of insulation is to cut down the amount of heat lost. Insulations suchs as batts, rigid insulating boards, and blankets retard the flow of heat from the warm to the cold side. Another type is called reflective insulation because it reflects the heat back where it came from. Both types work in summer and winter towarm.

TORONTO, April 21—(CP)—
Publishers of 86 Canadian daily newspapers Friday expressed concern over the growing volume of publicity releases from Federal government departments.

Handling of these releases was criticized in resolutions adopted unanimously Friday at the concluding session of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association annual meeting.

"The voume of government socalled news stories being sent to newspapers is very much overdone," said one resolution, adding that "frequently many so-called news releases have little or no news value."

A second resolution said that Canadian daily newspaper publishers believe the government is setting aside enough money for advertising and publicity but "there is an over-emphasis placed on releases of so-called news stories by government departments."

STIRLING—On the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Menzies, Tuesday, April 17, more than 100 relatives and friends gathered at their home near Stirling for the evening. The group included many from the Peterborough-Norwood area as Mrs. Menzies was formerly Angelina Victoria Bird of Coe Hill. Mr. Arthur Brown, of Peterborough, and Mr. George Bird, of Frankford, who had attended the ceremony 50 years ago at "The Ridge," were also at the anniversary.

Mrs. Menzies received the guests in a gown of pleated green crepe and wore a corsage of golden yellow roses. She and Mr. Menzies were presented with a chest of silvervare, electric clock, three lamps, a lace cloth, wool blankets, linen, hand painted china, gold bordered glass, potted plants and other gifts, also 70 cards of congratulation. An address was read to them by Mrs. Percy McMullen. The Rev. L. H. V. Walker, minister of Sf. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, presided for a program of music, readings and vocal solos. Later in the evening there was dancing.

Gold and white streamers decorating the home were caught to an eyen of peterborough. The exercising the home were caught to an eyen of peterborough and five active mother's groups. QUESTION: We are getting a good supply of milk from our cow. With the extra milk that is left over I would like to make some cheese. Do you have a recipe for making cheese? I would be grateful to receive one, or to get some information as to where I should enquire. Miss Mary F. + + +

ANSWER: You have come to the right gal Miss Mary, but oh, how I envy you. Leftover milk! I bought 6 quarts for $1.20 on Saturday morning and by Sunday at 4 p.m. it was all gone. All we ever have leftover is water!

I think I should advise you to do what the old-fashioned Pennsylvanian cooks of Dutch origin did—and still do: make pot or Dutch or cottage cheese. Otherwise you will have to invest in special equipment to make regular cheddar.

Cottage Cheese

Three gallons sour milk (freshly soured—not old), 2 teaspoons salt, 1 cup cream. Heat milk slowly until it is too hot to hold slowly until it is too hot to hold your finger in—this is approximately 115 deg. Fahr. Pour into a bag of triple or quadrupal thickness of cheesecloth. Tie with strong string and let hang overnight to drain thoroughly. You now have cottage cheese, and anything you do after this stage are variations to flavor it or make it keep or change its texture.

For many a woman has overworked until she made herself nervous and peevish, and been too tired to play with her husband, so he began stepping out with gay and charming women who were ready for a good time. Many a wife has scrimped on the beauty shop and let herself get old and ugly before her time. Many a wife has worn ugly handme-downs because they were cheap, instead of frilly chiffons, and the result of her economies were to lose her husband to some

ANTALGINE

A MAJOR REASON why General Mac-Arthur wanted to bomb the Reds beyond Korea's Yalu River boundary is highlighted on this Newsmap, based on data from the National Geographic Society. From the borders of Soviet Siberia in a mighty arc through Manchuria and around the Yellow Sea, lie more major airfields than in all the rest of China put together. Major airports at 26 Manchurian and Chinese cities are closer to the heart of Korea than Tokyo, as indicated by the light circle on the map. In addition the Reds have been hurriedly rebuilding air bases in North Korea. All of which helps explain why the biggest jet battles in history have raged over North

MERCURY AGAIN WINS IN RUGGED A.A.A. TEST

For the second year in succession Mercury, with Touch-O-Matic Overdrive, won the Class "C" in the Mobilgas Economy Run...conducted by the American Automobile Association. Over a gruelling 840-mile course through ice-ridden mountain passes . . . sweltering, sand-swept roads—under virtually every kind of weather and road conditions, the 1951 Mercury delivered the best ton-mile economy of any car in its class. Here is definite proof ... official proof of performance and top economy.

Listen to the "Ford Theatre" every

Yes! . . . it's a mighty, beautiful car. Beautiful from the distinctivelygroomed grille to the graceful, flowing lines of the newly-styled swept-back rear fenders. Fresh, new, rich colours give extra emphasis to Mercury's exterior beauty. A larger rear window adds to safety.

"Studio-quiet" interiors are rich in breath-taking beauty. New, long-wearing fabrics : : artistically fashioned to enhance your riding pleasure. Comfort is supreme on soft, spacious seats.

Mercury performance is mighty, beautiful, too. There are big, oversize "Duo-Servo" brakes for sure, positive straight-line stopping; "Cushion-Coil" springing for greater comfort and dfiving ease. Truly, the '51 Mercury is the mighty, beautiful car of the year.

PROVEN V-8 PERFORMANCE AT ITS POWER-PACKED BEST

The Mercury 112 Hp. V-8 "Hi-Power Compression" engine has been further improved for smo economical performance. The "Econ-O-Miser" carburetor makes gas-saving automatic. Mercury V-8 type engine has been time and road-proven by 20 years' experience of the world's largest manufacturer of V-8 engines;

"TOUCH-O-MATIC" OVERDRIVE (optional at extra cost) provides earlies, more restful driving, saves up to 20% an-gasoline, cuts engine speed-24%;

Denies Immigrants Treated Like Cattle

MONCTON, N.B., April 23 — (CP)—A British immigrant, in Canada three weeks, has rushed to the defence of immigration officials here charged with treating European immigrants "like cattle."

In an address at Toronto last week, John Fisher, radio com-mentator, said the treatment accorded immigrants at Moncton led him to remonstrate with officials there.

In a signed letter, the British immigrant, who lives near Moncton, took exception to Mr. Fisher's remarks. Asking that his name he withheld, the man said he came from England three weeks ago.

"From first to last I was treated with the utmost courtexy and ed with the utmost courtesy and kindness by immigration author-ities," he wrote.

Arrest Trapper In Northern Triple Slayings

It is now quarters to stop all mention of the For-$11,441 millions, a significant drop which mosa-Chinese Nationalist issue. Senwill reduce the debt-carrying charges ator Vandenberg's influence was thus which must be raised by taxation.

The fact is that people generally across the country are fairly well satisfied with the Budget proposals this year, as satisfied as people can be who know that more money has had to be raised (for defence). Perhaps some would have liked to see the $203 million surplus of last year applied to the new defence costs, but the government has decided to continue its basic policy of debt reduction. There is dissatisfaction, too, that the Government felt it necessary to pour $65 millions of taxpayers' money into wheat farmers' pockets, and $75 millions to meet a deficit in the federal superannuation fund.

Conservative and C.C.F. financial critics in the House of Commons have steached the Government for imposing an increase of two per cent. on the sales tax, which hits everybody. The suggestion is that income taxes should have been increased more sharply than they have been. The increase in sales tax will have a pyramid effect on the price of retail goods, for by the time the goods reach the customer, several hands have tinkered with the price. This is shown already in the increase in the price of cigarettes. The direct tax on cigarettes stantially towards winning the war. was increased by three cents a package. But they are now to sell at forty cents, not 39 cents, presumably to cover the amounts to about 3/4 of a cent, not a whole cent. The cent increase is the -canned goods, for instance.

THE Peterborough Kiwanis Music Festival, which takes places next month, is doing a fine work towards raising the standard or musical performance in this area. It is not my usual practice to allude to local events, but in this case I relax the rule, as I am con-vinced that the Festival has become so im-portant a part of our musical life in this dis-What is not so generally known is the the more popular classes there will be elim-ination "heats" in the morning and afternoon the winners from these appearing in the evening, so'that "peak" audiences will be spared from hearing the same piece forty or fifty times. Every year the standard of perform ance improves, and some outstanding per formances will doubtless be heard. It is up to the public to support these sessions and in so doing relieve the Kiwanis Club of some of the financial burden that they are carrying in the cause of better music for Peterborough It would be a heavy blow if the Festivals had to be discontinued for lack of public support and yet we cannot expect the Kiwanis to connot impeded that prosperity. IT fell to my lot the other day to sit in judgement at a small music festival held in one of our smaller towns. While the arrangements could not be considered ideal, even by the sponsors of the enterprise, this comparatively small community deserves praise for having attempted anything of this nature at all. It is true to say that their attempt at combining entertainment with education was not entirely successful, but some pleasing talent was brought to light. This festival could certainly not be placed in the same category as that at Peterborough, less still the giant festivals in Toronto or Winnipeg; but strangely enough I found one snag that crops up even in the more august competitions. I refer of course to this question of accompanists. Very is high time that the idea that any old accom-panist is good enough was exploded. The performer should not let any mistaken feelings entertaining and instructive little volume especially if they have had no first-hand annually in transfer payments (family allow-knowledge of accompanying. 3. There are only two ways to halt or slow down rising prices. One is by price ceilings with their attendant panoply of other controls on wages, material allocations, subsidies, etc.

The other way is to let the well-proven and infallible law of supply and demand go freely to work. So, much of the present lamentation about the budget recommendations causing further price rises is beside the point. Some further price rises are the only final way of speeding the inflationary spirochete out of our system.

Or, to put it another way: We have an inflationary condition because the Canadian people have more purchasing power than ers in the House of Blab have one thing in blossom automatically destroys the seed. mand (the ability and willingness to spend) comes closer into balance with supply.

QUEBEC, April 23 (CP)-Que-Saturday night tied up their East-ern Canada Memorial Cup final at two wins each with a 4-2 victory over Barrie Flyers before a record crowd of 14,830.

The win was the second straight on home ice for Citadelles. The fifth game of the series will be played Tuesday night in Barrie, with the sixth game here Thursday. If necessary, the seventh game will be played in Toronto April 28.

citadelles came from behind with a three-goal outburst in the third period to drop the scrappy Barrie squad.

Rainor Makila and Jean Marie Plante scored the tying goals twice after Flyers went ahead in the first and third periods.

Little Roger Guay connected with the winning marker half way through the last period and Jean Beliveau added an insurance goal late in the game.

The cigarette which never varies in quality—and is ALWAYS FRESH

TORONTO, April 23.—(CP) — Bashing Bill Barilko's swashbuckling hockey play produces far more penalties than goals. It ran true to form Saturday night when the defenceman got the referee's thumb twice and scored once. But that one goal was the big one of the 1951 Stanley Cup final. Tallied onds of sudden-death overtime, it sank Montreal Canadiens 3-2 and won for Toronto Maple Leafs their fourth cup title in five seasons and their sixth in 10. It finished off a spine-tingling hockey game and a record-breaking series for extra play—each of the five games being settled in overtime. Leafs captured four, Canadiens one.

In the decisive game, a spectacular goaltending performance by little Gerry McNeil forced the Leafs to come from behind twice to tie the score. Both times Toronto's ace trigger-man, Tod Sloan a 31-goal man during the regular season, pulled the string. His season, pulled the string. His season, pulled the string. His after two minutes and 53 sec-goal, In a minute or two it was at centre ice and President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League presented the shining 58-year-old trophy to Ted Kennedy, Leaf captain.

Kennedy spoke a few words, then introduced coach Joe Pzi-meau, first mentor to lead teams to junior Memorial, senior Allan and professional Stanley Cup championships.

Broda Teo Shy

The crowd shouted for veteran Turk Broda, the greatest playoff goalle of them all, who played two games against Canadiens and all but one period of the six-game semi-final against Boston Bruins because of an injury to Al Rollins. But Broda was too shy and fought off team-mates who tried to drag him to the microphone.

But Broda Teo Shy

Rookie Paul Meger slipped in the rebound of Doug Harvey's shot in the third period and that seemed to be it until the Leafs benched Rollins in the dying seconds for the extra fire power of a sixth attacker. That paid off with the second goal by Sloan, spotted right beside the goal to the did to drag him to the microphone.

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)

—The American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday condemned the Peron government for seizing the newspaper La Prensa and "thereby ending press freedom in Argentina.' The society said closure of the newspaper erects another barrier between Argentina and the United States. The resolution said the Argentina Government's action marks the country as being "cal-lous to one of the supreme principles of 20th century civiliza-tion."

The 400 editors at their annual meeting commended the courage of Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, La Prensa's editor, "in refusing to yield to tyranny."

It was disclosed at the session that John S. Knight of the Knight newspapers had offered to publish La Prensa, in Miami, Fla., in quantities up to 400,000 a day, if a way could be found to distribute the newspaper.

The offer was received by Dr. Gainza Paz with thanks, Knight told the meeting, but the Argentine editor said it evidently would be impossible to prevent confis-cation or other stoppage.

Nixon was driving north on the highway with two passengers — Bruce Baker of Orono, and his son Elwood Baker. He failed to make a sharp curve on the gravel high-way, just north of Pontypool, and his car crashed into the north ditch, through a stone fence, and overturned against a clump ambulance after first aid by Dr. G. M. Longfield of Bethany. Nei-ther of the two Bakers was injured.

The 1941-model car, almost a complete wreck, was towed into a Bethany garage. Nixon has a tarm on RR 2, Orono, but he had been working in Oshawa for about a week when the accident occurred.

IT'S ALL IN ONE...

Amazing Cream Actually Gives Soft Natural-Looking, Long-Lasting Curls and Waves

Just Wash Your Hair—Then Set in Pin Curls or Curlers the Usual Way

A successful hair beauty scientist has just discovered a wonderful chemical that actually curls and waves hair, and blended it into an amazing new cream shampoo. Now while you shampoo out dirt, dust, excess oils and loose dandruff you shampoo in Personalized curls and waves that flatter you best . . . a halo of soft ringlets or a loose, natural-locking casual wave. Marlene's is a new principle that's as easy as shampooing, but the waves and curls stay in after you set in curlers or pin curls. No woorty about split ends, no dry, brittle, fuzzy hair, no conditioner, no special

The strike movement in protest against the rising cost of living began after anonymous leaflets circulated throughout the region Satury and spread today.

No disorders except a few fist fights were reported.

Two provinces of the independence-loving Basque countryneighboring Guipuzcoa and Vizcawa of which Bilbao is the capital were centres of the new strike movement.

Throughout Guipuzcoa Province the walkout was confined to industrial plants, with public services and private commerce continuing without interruption. But in San Sebastian, the provincial capital, only a cigarette factory was shut.

(From the Authorized Version)

Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple . . . Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet

And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. (Acts 3: 1, 2, 6-8.)

And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes, and Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem . . . Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, if we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole; be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole. At Saint John, New Brunswick, the Winnipeg Stellars—boys from the Stalla Avenue Mission—won the junior basketball cham-pionship of Canada. Part way through the game, the Saint John team ran short of men. Injuries and fouls cut down their squad to the point where it was impossible for them to get a full team of five men on the floor. They were forced to operate with only four.

Instead of playing at full strength as they quite legally could have dore, the Stellars voluntarily sent one of their own players to the sidelines. Subsequently two more Saint John players were ruled off for fouls, cutting their strength on the floor to two. On each occasion the Stellars again voluntarily sent one of their players off and the game ended

The fact that Stellars won is notable in itself and all Winnipeg will join in congratulating them on their victory. But their gesture in refusing to take advantage of the other team's misfortune is even more com-

Imperial Oil Proudly Announces the Arrival in Ontario of the First Alberta Crude Oil!

1951: THE ACHIEVEMENT

When the "Imperial Leduc" steamed into Sarnia this week she made important news for all Canadians.

The ship herself was news—the world's largest lake tanker on her maiden voyage. Even greater news was her cargo—the first shipment of Alberta oil into the Ontario market, oil which will soon be made into Imperial ESSO products.

This new market for western crude will increase Canada's oil production by almost a half. It means a further saving in foreign exchange of 40 million dollars. It gives the Prairies a bigger market in the east for crude oil. It helps create a bigger market in the Prairies for what the rest of Canada has to sell. Above all, it makes Canada surer of oil supplies in peace or war.

Before the "Imperial Leduc" discharged her first gallon of oil, over a half a billion dollars had been spent in finding and developing western oil fields, in building the pipeline and the tankers. That spending has fostered new industries, expanded plants, created new jobs across Canada.

The arrival of the "Imperial Leduc" at Sarnia means the beginning of a new chapter in the story of Canada's economic development-a nation more prosperous and more secure.

In another after-dark National League clash, the Cardinals shaded Cincinnati Reds 2-1 in St. Louis. Veteran Harry Brecheen scattered eight hits to best Ken Raffensberger. Shortstop Solly Hemus accounted for both St. Louis runs with a single and triple.

The flawless firemen roles of Palica and King for Brooklyn followed on the heels of a hitless and runless three-inning stint by Newcombe and a shorter one of 1-1-3 innings by Palica Sunday. Ralph Branca duplicated Newcombe's performance, also at the pitched 13 innings all told (excluding Don Newcombe's routegoing effort against the New York (Giants), without surrendering a run. Only three safeties have been made off them.

No wonder manager Chuck No wonder manager Chuck Deessen is chortling with glee as only one hit in a losing cause.

Rap Opposition Members For Criticizing Budget

OTTAWA, April 24 (CP)—The government's 1951-52 budget, the House of Commons was told Monday, is going to serve as a constan' reminder "that defence of freedom is not free."

That word came from a government spokesman, James Sinclair, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, as he stepped into the budget debate to rap opposition members for their continued criticism of the financial accounting.

Terming the budget "tough but realistic," he said the Progressive Conservative party has been practising the Hitler technique of the "bir, lie" by "aimless charges of government extravagance" without indicating where economies could be made.

Mr. Sinclair, a Liberal member for the British Columbia riding of Coast-Capilano, criticized the CCF group for suggesting the government is not "soaking" corporations enough. At present, the federal and provincial governments were taking 50.8 per cent of corporations produced to the substitute of the substitute o and provincial governments were taking 50.6 per cent of corporation profits by way of taxes.

Better Go And Live In Peterborough Magistrate's Advice To Lindsay Drunk

LINDSAY, April 24-A Lindsay man, charged with his second offence of drunkenness, was told by Magistrate E. A. Gee that he'd "better go and live in Peterborough. This town's no good for you."

The man, 25-year-old Mitchell Gill, was arrested Saturday night by Lindsay constable Percy Mark. He appeared before Magistrate Gee on Monday, and was fined $50 or 30 days.

Constable Mark testified Gill

was standing in front of a restaurant on Lindsdy's main street, using foul language in an argument with his wife. The officer said he warned Gill to be quiet, and returned in 20 minutes to find the situation "not improved."

Gill told His Worship that he could get the money for the fine if permitted to leave, but the magistrate said he thought Gill would be better off if he

Western Oil Reaches Sarnia Now

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor
Today, oil from Alberta will flow into refineries at Sarnia.
Soon, at least in Ontario, the gasoline station attendant will fill cars with Canadian gasoline, and all the products of Canadian petroleum will flow into Canadian homes and working lives
It is really a great day in the life of this country which a short while ago was virtually a "have not" nation as far as its own supply of oil was concerned—and which had to buy nearly all of it abroad. Now it is producing as much oil as it would have consumed in 1938—and about onethird of what it consumes in its present expanded industrial life.
And we believe that much oil is yet to be discovered.
Today's ceremony at Sarnia is

Today's ceremony at Sarnia is mother act in a romance which we have scarcely had time to appreciate in the fast-moving events of recent years—unless we have lived in Alberta.

It is a romance that started many millions of years ago when the interior of North America was a great sea. Multitudes of tiny organisms lived and died in those organisms lived and died in those seas and were buried under their silts, which formed into stone. In some way the dead organisms formed into uncountable tiny drops of oil which through the years flowed together, and sometimes got trapped under formations of stone caps.

There the oil lay, while the great plains built themselves above; there while the Indians roamed; while the white man came; in fact, there until early 1947 when Imperial Oil, Ltd., wearly drilled its 134th wildcat (exploratory) well at Leduc, south of Edmonton.

6-In Memoriams

6—In Memeriams

McKINLEY: In loving memory of my dear daughter, Vera, who was killed April 24, 1948.

Her charming ways and smiling face Are a pleasure to recall.

She had a kindly word for each And died beloved by all.

—Sadly missed by Mother, Dad, sisters and brothers.

SIMMONS—In loving memory of J. H. Simmons, who died three years ago. April 24, 1948.

We oft times said we'd miss you. Those words have proved too true.

We have lost our best, our dearest friend.

Dear father, when we lost you.

—Sadly missed by his daughter, Isobel, son-in-law Harry and family.

Mrs. Stanley Robinson wishes to express sincere thanks to attending doctors, nurses and staff of Peterborough Clvic Hospital; also friends relatives and neighbors, who helped in so many ways during her husband's illness and at the time of his death.

SINGAPORE, April 24—(Reuters)—The Singapore Legislative Assembly today extended the colony's state of emergency, designed to combat terrorism, for another three months.

Colonial Secretary W. L. Blythe told the Assembly that the Communist "potential" had been greatly reduced. But it was believed that they were re-organizing.

Terrorist "incidents" had fallen from 120 in January to 42 in February and five in March.

—Durham county district high school board met in the library of Millbrook school Friday evening. There were representatives present from all five schools of the area: Bowmanville, Port Hope, Orono, Newcastle and Millbrook. Alex. McGregor, Edsall Oliver, and Walter Rundle were from Bowmanville; Stuart Ryan, John G. McCreary, Norman Strange, and H. W. Mitchell (the secretary), from Port Hope; R. Waddell and T. M. Chant from Orono; C. R. rveth and Read Budge from Newcastle; Dick Hutchison from Cavan; and Dr. M. E. Hobbs from Millbrook. Louis H. Winslew, the other Millbrook member, was ill and unable to attend. The board made a tour of the classrooms of the school, and found them in excellent condition. It decided to maintain a good high school in Millbrook and to add at least one female teacher to the present staff in September. It is possible a second female teacher will also be added to the staff, which is believed to be tonly all-male one in Ontario.

The following members of the Peterborough suburban area board accepted invitations from Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, Mrs. Ed. Naters, Mrs. Douglas Sheppard and Mrs. Bruce Ingham.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 25—
(ENS).—Election of officers for 1951 was carried out at the Mondey noon luncheon of the Rotary Club here, which resulted in the following being named: president, F. S. Linton; vice-president, F. G. DeCarrol; treasurer, Austin Putnam; secretary, William McComb; directors, Bud Davidson and Leo Doherty.

Guest speaker for the day was Ernest C. McKell, who told of their history of the alphabet we now use.

There are about 50 alphabets in existence, all of which are based on pictures. Gradually the picture became modified and grew to represent a sound. A cluster of such modified pictures became representatives of words. The letter "A" originally represented an eagle.

The early hieroglyphics of the eastern civilizations have been found also in the land of the North American Indians. Methods of writing varied. The Chinese used a brush to make characters while the Babylonians used clay and later paoyrus.

The Phoenicians, great traders and Phoenicians to Greece. They were later taken to Rome. There is a marked similarity between most of the letters in our present alphabet as one traces it through Fgyptian, Hebrew, Phoenician Greek, Classic Greek, Early Latin and Roman characters.

Does The U.S. Want A South To The North?

In the New York Times Magazine of April 22 there is an article headed Canada Lightly Talks of Union With US: it is by one Richard L. Neuberger, and he writes from Kamloops, B.C. His article "Whenever a crisis confronts North America, Canadians start to talk about a union between the United States and Canada." He goes on with material to support his statement, and concludes. Famine In India

Those whose hearts bleed for pity at the food situation in Britain should take a look at India. Famine haunts the land. Thousands of men, women and children are doomed to starve to death, and there is very little that can be done to help them. The fact that famines are more or less endemic in the over-populated East does not diminish the horror of their salvation may be Nye. the situation. This may seem absurd to us; but in Russia it is a good line. Indeed, it is Stalin's only possible line. The Russians know they want should be so mad as to want to start a war himself. It seems very reasonable to them to suppose that the common people everywhere (whom they are taught to see as down-trodden slaves) should feel about war and peace as they do. And since there is plainly a warlike atmosphere in the worla, this must be due to the irresponsible capitalists and empire-builders of the West. Carefully-chosen extracts from speeches by prominent Americans and headlines in the American press are all that is necessary to confirm this belief and turn it into a fearful hatred of the Western administrations.

IT is as simple as that — and as dangerous For while the chief immediate value to Stalin of the peace campaign inside the Soviet Union is to force the people to carry out his own policies under the threat of attack from without it has also a possible future value Should war ever break out, the Kremlin has so arranged things that it can be presented with the greatest ease as a deliberate attack by the war-mongers in high positions not only on the Soviet Union but also on the peace of the world; not only on the Russians but on the common people everywhere who would spring from the ground as Russia's al-lies. If Stalin succeeded in convincing the Russians of this, then they would fight—at least until they saw better for themselves, by which time the damage would be done.

But one thing is, to me, quite certain: it is that Stalin could never carry Russian people into an aggressive war as such. And he imself knows this. It would be 1941 all over again, and worse. The most he could hope for, even if he so desired (which, considering the material state of the Soviet Union he almost certainly does not) would be to disguise an aggressive war as a defensive war fought for peace. But to my mind what he is really tryng to do is to ensure that the Russians would fight a purely defensive war-a matter which e can by no means take for granted. Bible Message

Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowl-edge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved: therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope: because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance. (Acts 2: 22-28.)

Butter Has No Legs

(Toronto Star)
A man remarked the other day: "Butter went to 92 cents, didn't it?"

No, it did not.

Butter has no legs. It is not self-propulsive, It does not "go" anywhere or to any price.

It did not "go;" it was put. People are becoming all too accustomed to thinking of prices "going" places, instead of realizing that they are put there.

Somebody increases the price. Either the producer gets more, or somewhere on the way from him to the consumer an addition (perhaps more than one addition) is made. Or perhaps both these things happen.

When they happen suddenly, with the price of some commodity going up in a series of quick jumps, it is probably not the producer who profits most. There is a scarcity, or a new tax, and the people who intervene be-tween the producer and the consumer take advantage of the scarcity to "up" the price, or take advantage of the tax to increase the price of goods already in stock. There have been cases recently of firms announcing that they are not doing this until fresh stock is in

But let us not think of prices "going" places. They are propelled And in many cases they are propelled unduly. That is where controls would come in.

Time approaches to defrost the Show Window until next autumn But a bit more on hockey, first. We had a pleasant chat with Milt Schmidt yesterday. The Boston Bruins' captain and ace forward was in town for a visit with Dit Clapper ere returning to his summer home in Kitchener for some fishing and golf. Schmidt, rated the smoothest stick-handling rusher in the NHL, does not plan to play ball this summer. "I'm taking it easy," he said, "and getting my trick knee back in shape for another season with the Bruins. I may have an operation in a month or so to clear up the trouble." He said the Bruins-Leafs' series was a rugged one, but Toronto Leafs had too much reserve and the for Bruins and later for Canadiens. * * * * * *

However, the veteran feels that Bruins will be a strong contender next year and should be at their peak in two more seasons. Their extensive farm system is starting to pay off now. He thinks George (Red) Sullivan, the Peterborough forward, is about ready for the big time. While Red isn't a hefty fellow. Milt points out that his style of play and hustle should make him a good NHL-er and one who wouldn't get bit too often. The only time he was bumped hard in the Stanley Cup games he played in that series, Schmidt emphasized, was when Juzda of Leafs got him with an elbow under the chin, with no penalty handed out. * * * * * *

That's 15 Years Ago

Milt came up from junior in 1936 and played half the season with Providence before Bruins gave him a regular berth. "Big Dit helped ne over the rough spots till I got settled," he told us, Clapper then being an establish star who shone up front and later on defencefinally making Hockey's Hall of Fame before he nung them up. We asked Schmidt if he intended to drop back to defence but he said he expected to be on the forward line again. Bruins tried him back of the blue line but needed him up front more so he was shifted back.

He's still their top player, and we imagine he'll have several good years yet with them as a forward and later a defenceman-and expect he'll wind up his playing days as the Bruins' coach.

Both Dit and Milt mentioned some of the differences between big league and minor pro or amateur hockey. The checking is closer in the NRL, with outstanding players watched every minute. There are no weak sisters on a club they're all paid pros picked for their puck ability and hustling to hold their jobs. They pointed out some of the leading AHL scorers who have had chances in the NHL but didn't last, whereas younger players (not such potent scorers) stepped up and stayed there. A youngster up there must have speed, condition and fight—then he gradually gets the experience to hold his own against classy opponents. It's a long, rugged schedule, but the pay is good and there are those summer holidays.

Watson won the second and equalizing fall in eight minutes with a minutes with his unconscious hold and he demonstrated it again on the Manager when he came into the Manager when he came into the slow and clumsy for the view of the season with a second was 815 by Marg Hawstorm of the season with hiding all the past winter. They suddenly emerged in the playdown scene to smear Markham Millionaires — who had ousted Kingston Nylons earlier—and win the provincial crown in four straight. Ah, Michael m'lad, didst not observe the vagaries of hockey fortune in Sydney net in 65 seconds. our own late lamented grouping? A fourth-place Belleville bunch almost upset the playoff apple-cart (before luscious crowds) and the third-place Nylons finally took group laurels. Even Kingston Queen's at times smote the dope bucket a hearty kick, and the lowly Gans gained home decisions o'er both Petes and Eagles. 'Twas an upsetting season, indeed.

* * * * * * *

The Masked Marvel's masked manager earned his pay last eve at the Brock when he helped (in an illegal way) to get the Mask a win over Whipper Watson. But the manager may pay for it if Whip has his way. The champ wants a match with the hooded manager and he promises to unmask him and beat him up plenty, or he'll give $200 to any charity in the city. That's what he said after he had cooled off a bit last night. He was so mad at the unfair decision that he went back into the ring and whacked both the manager and the Marvel around for a spell and then tossed Referee Sammy Gotter onto the pile for good measure. A big crowd cheered heartily. The manager had beaten Iron Talun earlier in the semi-windup, while Tommy O'Toole and Bill Stack drew in the prelim.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

FOR Canada, television is just around the corner. Already a faint frenzy of preparation is noticeable in many quarters this side of the border but so far we haven't heard any great predictions as to the future of televised sport in the Dominion. As Canada (per capita) is recognized as the world's greatest sporting nation, it is unlikely that sport on television will be ignored very long. Now that the greatest spectator medium in history is almost here, with its golden opportunity for "selling" Canadianism through sport, let us run through our Canadian sporting activities and consider their possibilities as TV sports events.

our American cousins would prefer it that way. There would be no lack of interest then. All that is needed is for us to televise hockey at its best and the American nation will soon go for it. Anyone who has had experience of international com-nad experience of international com-petition understands the difference between playing for a team and playing for your country. If seen by enough American televiewers, hockey might easily catapult past baseball and football as a popular attraction.

Our game of foot-ball should endeav-our to retain what is left of its individ-uality for the era of television, but as the Americans ori-ginally adopted

Keep Hockey Canadian

Foremost on Canadian Television, of course, should be hockey. Hockey offers us the greatest national sport "platform" in the coming in tern at ion al struggle for televiewers on both sides of the border. As in radh, many Canadians will constantly be sampling the sport products from across the line, while the Americans themselves will be more than aver curious about our sporting activities. Television offers us, as a nation, a truly tremendous opportunity.

Ice hockey is Canadian, created

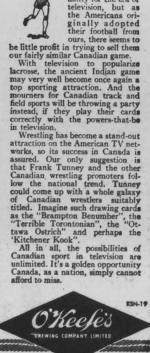

Ice hockey is Canadian, created and played by Canadians. Gradually the NHL should supplant its American franchises (Boston-New York-Chicago-Detroit) and transfer these teams to Canadian cities say, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Regina and Vancouver. The cost of maintaining the teams will indirectly be shared by the advertisers anyway, so there is no problem there.

With adequate salaries and/poportunities here at home, most of our youngsters could play for Canadian teams, thereby creating a national

8,500 Expected At Ottawa Game

By The Canadian Press. By the Canadan Press.
International League baseball returns to Canada's capital today after an absence of 53 years.
Barring rain, a crowd of about 8,500 will see Ottawa Little Giants play Springfield Cubs in one of the league's four scheduled home coming games for northern clubs.

Other games are in Toronto, where between 15,000 and 17,000 will see the Maple Leafs play opening-day host to Rochester Red Wings; Montreal where between 10,000 and 12,000 will turn out for a game with Baltimore; and Buffalo, where the Bisons meet Syracuse Chiefs.

Rain of some proportions is predicted for all three Canadian cities, but it will take a fullfledged downpour to discourage opening-day crowds, particularly in Ottawa, where interest in the new triple-A entry is running high.

The Little Giants, farm club of the New York Giants, were moved to Ottawa from Jersey

This was no ordinary library. It contained the finest Oriental section in Germany and scientists were sent from all over the country to study these Islamic and Far Eastern books. Many of these treasures were loot taken from Paris, Beigium and even some from Irene's cwn university library. They included the first Chinese alias taken from the Louvre in Paris and a book of Turkeştan folk songs called the "Barba Book," the only one in existence.

Her chance to be a librarian came when a large section of captured Russian books on the Far East arrived. No one could read Russian and when she said she could, she was put to work cataloguing these lists and her work became easier. Irene's greatest regirt was that all these wonderful treasures were lost to the world the night Dresden was destroyed for the library and everything in it was burned.

What is this Thing Called Shine on Furniture?

Now you can give your furniture the amazing O-Cedar Dri-Glo beauty treatment — a smear-free shine that requires no hard rubbing and lasts for weeks and weeks — so hard, so dry, spills and fingermarks wipe off easily.

In polishing furniture and woodwork there are several kinds of shines—greasy shines that smear—shines that are here today and gone tomorrow—shines that require a lot of rubbing—oily, moist shines that attract dust.

Now with O-Cedar Dri-Glo you get a shine that has none of these faults. Entirely different, O-Cedar Dri-Glo contains magic, non-oily silicone.

Just wine O-Cedar Dri-Glo on

Just wipe O-Cedar Dri-Glo on —let it dry—wipe it off! Thrill to the appearance of the loveliest shine you've ever seen. A mirror-like finish that lasts for weeks and weeks. A smear-free finish so hard and dry that dust cannot cling to it as it does with any ordinary polish.

Enhancing the natural beauty of your furniture, O-Cedar Dri-Glo Silicone Furniture Polish also preserves and protects it. The thrifty 98¢ container will last you a long, long time because you won't have to polish nearly so often. At grosery, department and hardware stores.

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

Principal Mr. R. J. Bolton spoke to Prince of Wales Home and School Association meeting on Tuesday evening on the re-organization to take olace in the school next year, by relapting the old course of study to present needs. He said the school is to be divided into primary, junior and intermediate classes, with no examinations or reports in the primary division. Each child is to learn at his own speed and reports are to be by nersonal interviews with the parents. The important part of this system is that each child must learn to the best of his ability by doing the best he can.

Mr. Bolton stressed the fact that this system can only be successful through complete co-operation of the parents and asked their support.

Weinberg's most - flamboyant exploit was in 1921 when he posed as a state department proceedoo officer and presented Princess Fatima of Afghanistan to President Harding.

For the last two years he had been representing the Erwin News Service at the UN under the name of Stanley Weyman.

His undoing came when he asked the state department whether employment by a foreign delegation would affect his status as an American citizen or give him diplomatic immunity.

The department came up with a thick dossier on Weinberg and it was decided he would be better employed elsewhere than in the delicate area of international affairs.

The smelt season this year has been affected so much by continued rain and low temperatures that the smelt fishermen are learning some things which were not so apparent before. In the past few springs, the smelts have started running around the time that spring break-up was over and a few rains had warmed up the creeks. Commercial fishermen out in the lake had been taking smelts in their nets early in March this year and it was noted that they were well-filled with spawn. The weather has been adverse for smelt fishing and most of the fish caught were close to the shore of Lake Ontario as if they were awaiting the warmer water. ONTARIO RENTALS ADMINISTRATION

By virtue of The Leasehold Regulations Act, 1951, the Rent Control Regulations now in force will not terminate on April 30th, 1951, but will continue with the same effect as at present until further order. Following the decision of the Federal Government to terminate rent control, many landlords of controlled premises gave notice to tenants to quit on April 30th, 1951. All notices to tenants occupying controlled premises given solely on the ground that controls would end on that date, are invalid and of no effect. Only notices given in accordance with the existing regulations are valid in respect of such premises.

The recent order of the Ontario Government (set out below) freezes rents for all housing accommodation and shared accommodation at the levels in effect on April 17th, 1951, except that a landlord may put into effect a maximum rental fixed on or before that date. The order does not affect the existing situation in respect of tenure.

REGULATIONS MADE UNDER THE LEASEHOLD REGULATIONS ACT. 1951

Order No. 813 of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, as amended by Order No. 818 of the said Board, is further amended by adding thereto the following section:

14.—(1) Notwithstanding anything in or done pursuant to this or any other of the Wartime Leasehold Regulations, no person on behalf of himself or another person shall let or offer to let any lodging or self contained dwelling at a rental that is higher than the rental in effect on the 17th day of April, 1951, for such lodging or self contained dwelling, and no person shall charge, demand, receive, collect or pay any such higher rental.

(2) Nothing in subsection 1 shall prevent any person from charging, demanding, receiving, collecting or paying the maximum rental fixed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board on or before the 17th day of April, 1951, for such lodging or self contained dwelling.

Achievement and Failure In Russia

WALTER KOLARZ

THE Soviet Government has just published what would be described in Britain as a "white paper" on the national economic situation. This Soviet document is 6,000 words long and deals with the fulfillment of the first post-war Five Year Plan. It was issued by the Soviet State Planning Committee in conjunction with the Central Statistical Administration.

THE new Soviet document contains no surprising revelations, for Marshal Bulganin had already announced the fulfilment and overfulfilment of the Five Year Plan over five months ago in his speech on the 33rd anniversary of the October Revolution. The overfulfilment of the plan was announced for the second time in Industry when the Central the second time in January, when the Central Statistical Administration reported that the production targets for 1950, the last year of

THE new statement confirms all that had already been known about the strength and the weaknesses of the Soviet economy. It adds only the new claim that the plan has been fulfilled in four years three months and that the target for industrial output fixed by the Five Year Plan for 1950, was exceeded by 17 per cent.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version) And after five days Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul... Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself . . . But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets: and have hope toward God, which they them-selves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. (Acts 24: 1, 10, 14, 15.)

For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might re-deem us from all miquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works. our land.

There's a strong and constant temptation these days to stand up and be counted, to take a forthright stand and to cling to it as one might cling to a raft in a heavy sea. But Prof. Phelps suggests that we cherish our doubts, that we continue to think, however much it hurts to think, that we betray ourselves if we trade a troubled mind for the easy escape of apathy.

Prof. Phelps suggests that we fall into three groups.

One group finds a stimulation and a perverse sense of purpose

Discovering a little common sense in these often bewildering days is as exciting as a find of uranium and I've come upon a mother lode.

Here is a copy of an address given recently in an Ottawa church by Arthur L. Phelps, professor of English at McGill, and this, it seems to me, is one of the very few reasonable voices in our land.

sclous responsibility towards the betterment of the world."
These are Canadians who are without and a perverse sense of purpose in such times as these. "Canada got fat out of the last two wars and she has a good chance of getting still fatter out of this one," he writes. "The crusade against the enemy on the other side of the world is at the same time the crusade for good business."

War, as he says, is a mighty exhilarant and there are, indeed, many who embrace it whole-heartedly. An American leader says, "we've got the rattlesnake by the tail, let's bash its brains out." In Korea we have "Operation Killer." And many in this country accept that fierce attitude with a sense of "doing a necessary lop."

The second group comprises those who are without an ever ready for negation, who suffer from a creeping paralysis of apathy, too dulled for cynicism, too inert for protest.

This group, he writes. "feel in the color of the world." The service seed to the many in the color of the world is and the world." The service seed the seed the service of the good in that vast process."

The second group comprises those who are without and process of the service of the silical process of the service of the silical process. Trophies Given At Dinner Of Girl Cagers

With the presentation of troph ies, crests, and gifts,, the Girls Basketball League at the YWCA completed its 26th year of operation Wednesday night at its annual banuet.

Guest speaker, Stan McBride well-known sportsman and promoter, told the six girls' that from their basketball they obtain pleasant experiences and memories Both of these, he stated, are better when there is team work rather than individual effort. Mr. McBride commended the league for its years of contin-uous operation since 1926, espe-cially the work of the league staff, coaches and team sponsors. While speaking of the Civic Arena, he said that it plays a large part in the life of the community. He then traced its growth from the financial cam-paign to the part it is playing in the youth program today

IOOF Puckists Honored

The OHA junior "B" Oddfellows were honored at a club windup dinner in their hall last evening, with a number of other guests present, as well. The Triple Link Club, and its hockey committee, came in for considerable deserved praise for its work in junior and juvenle hockey here for a number of years. Mayor Max Swanston fel that it was a laudable work, that of supplying the city's youth with organized athletic competition. The Mayor also mentioned the fact that the matter of a site for the Memorial Centre might be settled at a committee meeting this week and, if so, then plans for the project be proceeded with rapidly. Dean West was voted valuable player for the IOOF-ers during the past season.

Quebec Runs Wild

Dudley said he felt both teams were to blame but Quebec "ran wild" in the third period. He said that considering the type of game he believed that referees Pat Patterson and Pearcy Allen handled it creditably. He added both teams would be warned before tonight's contest.

Emms' charge further enlivened an already-hectic series, which Barrie now leads 3-2. Bitterness followed an argument over the site of the seventh game. If Barrie wins tonight, it won't even be played.

In Quebec, the Citadelles mean-little extent to blank to be played.

But here, for the first time this season, come the Yanks into Fen-way Park today and the spavined Boudreau will be ailing on the sidelines. Lou suffered a bruised thigh during some aggressive action in the first game of Sunday's double-header with Philadelphia Ath-letics. Now that ailment has been aggravated by a heavy cold.

Until Boudreau, who has been pacing the slow-starting Sockers with a .333 batting average, can resume play, manager Steve 0'Neill must continue with little Johnny Pesky as his shortstop. That aggressive infielder has not played that position since 1947 and, naturally, he appears a bit

Public Speaking Offers Challenge To Winnipeg Girl

WINNIPEG — (CP) — Yvette Gaudreau can carry her weight in the words department.

She's top speech artist in Winnipegs Toastmistresses Club, a group of women of varying ages who want to pick up the knowhow of public speaking.

Recently the club selected six of its best performers and told them to go to it. Yvette—she likes to be called Eve—said her piece to the taste of the three judges and will journey to Des Moines, Iowa, early in May to compete in an American oratory contest.

The tall French-Canadian girl, a federal government stemographer, climbed to the top of the speaking heap in fast time. She joined the club only a year ago. Quickly she caught on to platform appearance, use of voice ("you have to get that personal touch") and how to exercise your hands in driving home a point.

"It was a kind of challegne to me." said Yvette in telling how she joined the club at a friends tirging.

"I had always thought I harbored a bit of an inferiority complex and I wanted to get rid of it. This seemed the best way.

"I wouldn't know," she confided. "I just rambled on. I remove, and the adjoining city of the adjoining city of the adjoining city and control of the club at a friend strength.

"I had always thought I harbored a bit of an inferiority complex and I wanted to get rid of it. This seemed the best way.

Husky-voiced Yvette was born and educated in the adjoining city of St. Boniface. Her stenographer's job takes into account her familiarity with both the French and English languages.

TOASTMISTRESS—Pretty Yvette Gaudreau, a member of the Winnipeg Toastmistress Club, demonstrates her best platform style. The federal government stenographer has been chosen as one of six club members to enter an oratory contest in the United States. She impressed the judges with an impromptu address on "chasing males!"

French and English languages.

She said she worked hard at school to pick up her faultless. English. Now she shakes her head about the outlay of time even though it has helped her on the speaking platform.

"For some reason people seem to think it's cute for a French-Canadian to come out with a broad accent in their use of English." Yvette said. "Maybe I made a mistake with all that study."

The peak production year, with output valued at more than $500,-000,000, saw Canada make big strides over the 285,000 units produced in 1949 and the wartime peak of 270,000 in 1941.

But production in Canada told only part of the automotive story. In 1950 when Canada was producing at an all-time high, she imported 90,000 foreign vehicles, most of them passenger cars, and most of them from Britain—83,000 to be exact.

Those imports, plus Canada's own production, meant that the total vehice supply reached its highest point in history, 447,000, compared with 301,000 in 1949 and about four times as big as the 117,000 a decade ago.

This gain in production has

Lions Given Report On Juvenile Hockey

LAKEFIELD, April 26 (ENS) The juvenile hockey team sponsored by the Lakefield Lions club, had a successful season. Lion Everett Sloan, coach of the team, in his report to the club, said the boys had won the juvenile championship in the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association and the semi-finals in the Ontario championship.

Total expenditures for the season were $744, receipts $428, leaving a balance of $316 which the club had to pay.

The summer carnival was discussed in a pretty healthy place; there had been only one case of typhoid in the village in 40 years.

"What about polico?" one memboys had won the juvenile championship.

Charles Bickell asked chairman Ken Jakins where they were going to raise the debentures.

Mr. Jakins, a village councillor, replied that a crown company, with which Liberal leader, would loan the village the money. Tom Junkin asked if material held Tuesday evening.

300-Mile Freight Trek Reported Nearing Goal

THE PAS, Man., April 26 (CP)

—A 300-mile freight trek across the frozen tundra on the west shores of Hudson Bay is nearing its goal.

Five 80-ton caterpillar tractors are hauling 12 huge sleighs loaded with diamond drill equipment, gasoline and building supplies for an International Nickel Company development in the Northwest Territories.

The copper-nickel concession is 100 miles inland from the Hudson Bay shore settlement of Tavani, 300 miles north of Churchill and 1,000 miles north of Winnipegs.

barring a catastrophe, the train will get its load to Tavani before the breakup.

Progress of the freight swing was reported here by Thomas Lamb, who flew from Churchill to pick up a crank-case to repair one of the tractors that hit a boulder hidden by snow.

One of the huge tractors already had been left behind following a similar accident. It was parked on a hilltop, out of reach of snow-drifts which might hide it, to be picked up at a future date.

Many Hazards

From the outset the train will get its load to Tavani before the breakup.

300 miles north of Churchill and 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg.
From Tavani, the cargo will be flown piecemeal to the site of the mining property, discovered last summer by a field party.
The freight swing—or train—is operated by the Thomas Lamb Transportation Company of The Pas. It left Churchill March 16 and the round trip was expected and the round trip was expected to be completed in six weeks before the spring breakup softened and sometimes completely obliter-

U.S. Urges Bombing Of Manchurian Bases

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 26

(AP)—The United States has proposed to other allies in the Korean war that Manchurian bases should be bombed in the event of large-scale Communist air attacks on U.N. forces. But no agreement has been reached for the timing and conditions of such raids.

This was made clear Wednesday by American spokesmen commenting on published reports that the United Nations participating in the Korean campaign had made an agreement about bombing Manchuria.

The spokesman said the American proposal had been advanced during the recent weeks of consultation in Washington and that no objections had been raised there. Fourteen countries are taking part in the Washington talks. LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 26

The Canadian Family owes much to Wales

CANADA has been a land of opportunity to settlers for many generations. Much of our strength stems from the blending of racial and cultural heritages from many lands.

It is a grand feat of nation building when so many cultures march cordially together, cooperating and making allowances, merging ideas and preserving ideals, linked by a common citizenship in the great Canadian Family.

One of the first Welshmen to come to Canada was Thomas Button who set sail in Henry Hudson's Discovery in 1610 to find the North West Passage. Another famous Welshman was David Thompson whose surveys are the basis of our maps of Western Canada.

The Welsh are a quiet, serious, devout and music loving people. Their industry in the fields of chemical and mining engineering, language and science teaching, manufacturing, editing and law has contributed much to Canada's

It's Not Any Fun As 1-Man Gang Buddy Baer Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 26 (AP)
Take it from Buddy Baer, it's no fun being a one-man gang.
The former boxing behemoth is

At all other times, he added, it's a bore, a bother and an expense. "Why, the only things I can buy in a clothing store are hander-chiefs and ties," he explained.
All his other clothes must be specially made. His shirt collar is 18½, the sleeves 40 inches. His shore are miniature gunpats. shoes are miniature gunboats— 15 double E's. As for his suit size, he doesn't know; the numbers don't run that high.

Another hazard occurs in night-clubs and other public places. Ordinary citizens, with the over-ordinary citzens, with the over-confidence that comes with an over-dose of alcohol, often try to pick fights with him.

"They are always coming up to me and saying belligerently, 'Aw, ya bum, you never could fight," he said.

His declaration drew no com-ment from Finance Minister Abbott, who followed him into the debate to defend his budget against Progressive Conservative criticism and assert that greater production is the key to the de-feat of inflation.

A few moments later, the Chamber voted 147 to 56 against a Progressive Conservative non-con-fidence motion which claimed the fidence motion which claimed the budgetary tax increases would "inevitably increase the cost of living for all and especially for thos: least able to bear it."

The House now embarks on a detailed study of the resolutions giving legal effect to the tax Defending his budget, he said he felt it was "a fair one." He had tried to spread the burden as evenly as possible.

To opposition demands for immediate price controls, he re-iterated the government's view that price controls would not be effective at this time. Increased production was the way to bring down the high cost of living. He denied opposition suggestions that he had deliberately under-

At the same time, he urged Mr. Abbott to appeal the budgetary increase in the general sales tax to 10 per cent for eight per cent and reiteratd his demand for "flexible" controls to being living. and reiterate his demand for "flexible" controls to bring living costs down.

Aggravate Problem

The budget did nothing to reduce the cost of living or to com bat inflation. The government merely had aggravated the prob-lem with an inflationary budget. "I think," he said, "the situation has reached a point where some other devices ought to be used to control inflation."

Mr. Drew said he hoped there would be no delay in getting through the amendment that would allow the federal government to inaugurate a system under which pensions of $40 a month would be paid to all 70 and over regardless of means.

The control of inflation was part of the struggle throughout the world against communism. The government had aggravated the problem with an inflationary udget. He charged Mr. Abbott with underestimating his budgetary surpluses and said that if the government was following a pro-gram of debt retirement it should outlines that program in the budget.

The provincial governments now are considering constitutional amendments, which must be approved by parliament, to open the way for a contributory pensions plan and an indirect provincial sales tax to finance provincial contributions.

Mr. Drew, declaring his opposition to the proposal as the budget debate moved to a close, said a sales-tax amendment would represent a serious threat to the fluing standards of the people and to the constitution and serve only to divide the country.

MONTREAL, April 26th-Wishing won't make it so, as I've discovered time MONTREAL, April 20th—Wishing won't make it so, as I've discovered time and time again. When you want a cake to turn out just right, it's wise to follow the recipe. And it's the same with the things you want out of life. Haphasard wishing won't do the trick—but I've discovered that Personal Planning will I yes, "me, too"! I'm a very enthusiastic Personal Planner! My income's the same — but now, somehow, it does a better job. That's because the Personal Planning system of money management—designed by the BANK OF MONTREAL—suits your individual needs and wants. Why not try it yourself? It's not too difficult—and it's far from dull! Pick up your copy of "PERSONAL PLANNING" at your neighborhood B of M branch today.

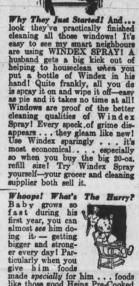

Just Last Night we had BIRDS EYE French Style Green Beans for dinner—and they are delicious! All the farm-fresh flavour of these specially selected beans is captured and kept quick-frozen so that you serve and eat them at the peak of their sweet, young tenderness. The delicate, slender strips of these green beans look so pretty on a plate too—and yet there's no cutting up or work involved, just cook as package directs. I was surprised at how economical they are...one package served four of us most generously. Why not serve Birds Eye French Style Green Beans for dinner tomorrow ... I know your family will love them.

You see, Dus combines great quantities of rich, real soap with two active detergents—gives you snow-white detergents—gives you snow white washes and leaves your hands soft and white, too! I know, once you've tried it, you'll agree that Dus does Everything—beautifully!

Baby grows so fast during his first year, you can almost see him doing it — getting bigger and strong-er every day! Particularly when you give him foods made specially for him... foods like those good Heins Pre-Cooked Cereals—and, a little later—HEINZ STRAINED BABY FOODS. M-mmml ... those luscious strained meat products, soups, vegetables and desserts ... every one of them cooked to baby-ready digestibility in Heins spotless kitchens. Ask your dealer for Heins Baby and Junior Foods. This is National Baby Week, so he'll have a special display of Heins products, with related items used in the care and feeding of babies.

One Of Your Most Important "Bays" is paint to save your home from wear 'n' tear—paint to save you money! Indoors and out, the part of your home that takes the worst beating are the floors. And that's why so many wise homeowners insist on the protection of Glidden FLORENAMEL. It's amazingly tough—resists weather and wears longer. It's easy to apply and most economical. And, for the outside of your home, there's nothing finer than Glidden Endurance House Paint It stands up under all kinds of weather—longer! And, renember—Endurance Paint applied over Endurance Bass-Coat spreads farther, giving the coating more body and fulness. A home painted with these two paints is a job well-done—a job to give you a "sense of satisfaction". See your Glidden Faint dealer about Glidden Florenamel—and Glidden Endurance House Paint—in a variety of truly handsome colours!

ean think of—from washing windows to washing windows to washing windows to washing floors! It's that grand new C-I-I SPONGE!
There's a handy size for every purpose—and it's such a "wonder" to work with! Its square shape gets into corners to get out dirt. And it's velvet-soft when wet—kind to your hands and your finest furniture. Ideal for damp dusting—and perfect for washing walls, windows and woodwork! Those are just a few of the reasons why I couldn't Spring-houseclean without a C-I-L cellulose Sponge—several, actually—to help me! Try a mop made of C-I-I Sponge, too—so easy for cleaning floors and walls.

most marvelous way to subway to subract years by hid in g grey hair! No-not with a dye ... but with that marvelous new NESTLE COLORTINT! Yes, triple-strength Nestle Colortin hides grey hair with the most beautiful, deep, rich, youthful color! It's so safe-so much easier to use than a dye! What's more-it lasts through three shampoos, yet lathers out when you want it to. More than a rinsebut not a dye, Nestle Colortint comes in 10 enchanting shades—6 capsules for 39c. Try NESTLE COLORINSE, too —to highlight the beauty of your hair! It rinses in —shampoos out—glamourises your hair—6 rinses—just 35c!

In These Days Of Sky-High Prices...it's a real pleasure to find something that gives you as much for your money as BLUE BONNET MARGARINE does! It's soo-o good—so chuck-full of country-fresh flavour—and its Vitamin A content is high every month of the year! I use Blue Bonnet for my pan-frying and baking—for seasoning vegetables—and for the table, too. For now Blue Bonnet comes in that handy, Yellow Quik bag so that you can colour it for table use in a jiffy! Just press the colour button on the bag—knead the bag—and in just two minutes, Blue Bonnet is a luscious, golden yellow! Yes, I always feel I'm getting so much for so little when I buy delicious, nutritious Blue Bonnet in the Yellow Quik-bag!

I Love To Begin a bright April day with a breakfast treat of "Cream of Wheat"! So smooth—so appetizing—and so "just right" in flavour! And 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT" is not only good to eat—it's good for you, too! For it provides Iron for good red blood, and Calcium and Phosphorus—for diets deficient in these elements. Just try 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" some morning soon. It takes just five minutes of boiling to cook to perfection. M-mmm! That rich, wide-swake flavour... no wonder so many folks like to start the day right with a 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" breakfast!

A Big Hit at a tea party yesterday was this Lemon spread on the hot biscuits. I coaxed the recipe from our hostess for you. Using SUNKIST LEMONS Bakes the flavour difference—you can taste the tangy goodness of their full-bodied juice. This fecipe makes 2-3 glasses, and it will keep to use as toast and biscuit spreads, or for filling tarts and cakes.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Why shouldn't men be treated as grown - up human beings who, if they want a home, wife and bebies, should be willing to share some of the wife, while, the husbands goes out hooking for some cares? Why make cares? Why make a drudge of the wife, while, the husband goes out hooking for some host on the prefers to when a base has a wake them wife, while, the wise with the shall be willing to share some of the wife, while, the husband goes out hooking for some host on the prefers to when husband goes out hooking for some host on the prefers to work; how tied down him when we think that he also tolls, day after day, for his family; that he also is tied down to his hearthshound spends the few even-ings he is at home in tudy, instead the wife, while, the lives in terror of his wife's and shall have had seen the wife and the deals is tied down to his hearthshound and sons. None botter, but neither are they perfect, and I have had plenty of work raising the boys and overleioking my husbands faults.

ANSWER: Well, maybe your husband's faults. So I still want to know why it is the wife's atuly to take all the hard kinches and still baby the husband?

E. P. B.

ANSWER: Well, maybe your husband's fault or two yourself that he has had to turn a blind eye on. Did you ever consider those possibilities?

S.b.b. H's quiet, of course h's quiet, and the only thing that pays the man for all the sacrifices that man for all the sacrifices that and the cause he wouldn't like to spend on the family bills are paid.

And the only thing that pays the man for all the sacrifices that man for all the sacrifices that paid and she is 21. She is the only man and the sacrifices that he has had to turn a blind eye on. Did you ever consider those possibilities?

And the only thing that pays the old and she is 21. She is the only man for all the sacrifices that marriage demands is for his wife to give him a pat on the head occasionally and pet him a little and tell him he is a good old dog. Also, I recommend the same treatment from husbands to wives. A mutual admiration society makes any marriage a success.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Would you please tell me the require-ments necessary to be a success-ful small town physician's wife? I have eighteen months in which to prepare myself. DOCTOR'S GIRL

ANSWER: A doctor's wife needs ANSWER: A doctor's wife needs all the good qualities to be a successful wife that any other woman needs, and then some. For a doctor's wife has more to do with making or marring her husband's career than the ordinary wife has. She must be able to smile when the has to take off her hat as the starting to the theatre or some the starting to the theatre or some is starting to the theatre or some party that she longs to go to, when her husband is summoned to a sick bed. She must be able to keep dinner waiting until it is ruined without getting peeved a letter came into my hands which she had written to a cousin of hers in another state, in which she said did not love him. Instead, she was desperately in love with another rian. What shell I do? Of course, she has completely and permanently destroyed my faith and onfidence in her. I feel I cannot keep my self-respect if I continued to live with her and tolerate her continued infidelity.

ANSWER: Have you considered the fact that the letter might just be a trouble-maker's prank?

Don't judge your wife until you have talked the whole thing over with her. If she were so desperately in love with someone else, I doubt if she would have married you. Give her a chance. Talk if over frankly, then decide on the issue.

250 Women Go Out To Tea Through Steady Drizzle

A good number of Peterborough ladies are deserving of gold stars for fortitude and loyalty to their friends and organizations. During April so far there have been at least 13 afternoon teas in the city and each has suffered from varying degrees of unpleasant weather. Yet, each has been well attended, some exceptionally well.

The worst of all days, Wednesday, saw a crowd estimated at nearly 250 at the Tulip Tea in George St. United Church. The tea was given by Mrs. Fred Horton's group of the WA in which there are only 27 members, so this attendance figure is surely an indisputable tribute of esteem in the congregation.

Mrs. A. A. Mathews and Mrs. George Munro assisted Mrs. Horton to welcome the guests.

They were entertained in the board room where tulips and daffodils were a delightful contrast to the rain-drenched outdoors, and soft music played by Mrs. W. Purdy and Mrs. A. Weames soothed nerves that were on edge from a series of "blue" days.

The tea table was fresh, and spring like with pink tulips in a crystal bowl and pink candles, highlighted by the white cloth of beautiful cutwork design.

HUGHEY—In loving memory of Mrs. George Hughey, who passed away April 26th, 1948. She always watched for each one of sivays watched for each one os us, clous if we were late, winter by the window summer by the gate. I though we mocked her lovingly o took such tender care, long road home would seem more safe, waited there.

Because she waited there.
Her thoughts were all so full of us.
She never could forget,
And so we know that where she is,
She is watching yet.
Watching till we come home to her.
Anxious if we are late.
Watching from heaven's window,
Leaning from heaven's window,
Leaning from heaven's gate.

—(AP). — Harvard Business School is testing a new horseshoe-shaped classroom. Students sit behind curving, continuous writing tables fanning out in a horseshoe pattern from a central table where the inatructor sits.

All seats can be turned in a 180-degree arc.

It has no windows and lighting comes from indirect fluorescent lamps and direct, partially-concealed "spots" for down lighting.

A combination blackboard and movie screen pops 3½ feet out of the front walls if the instructor wants it closer to his table.

Construction of the new building, financed by a gift from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., will begin this summer.

Who Is A Psychiatrist?

Yesterday the Toronto Globe and Mail drew atention to a disgraceful state of that she would not attack the United affairs existing in the mental health service in the schools in that city; the ord of conquerors in the past and the whatever, but he has pretended to conduct psychiatric examinations of a years old, has a good chance of not being number of children. Yesterday in these columns we commended the steps being taken by the Ontario Government to improve the mental health services in Ontario; today we feel obliged to warn that there can be no real improvement in mental health services until there are regulations in Ontario which prevent unqualified persons from pretending to practise psychiatry.

It is plain that there are many people passing themselves off as psychiatrists on literary matters; he had served with in this province who have little or no distinction at Toronto University, at claim to that title. From time to time Cornell and at Chicago. He was a fine court cases are reported in which sharply student of modern languages, and his conflicting evidence has been given by wide reading in other literatures gave men describing themselves as psychia- balance and perspective to his judgetrists. Now it is probable that qualified ments upon writing in English. He was psychiatrists might disagree on a matter of opinion, but unlikely that they would spare. disagree on matters of fact relating to their work. We think that psychiatrists

It is by no means easy to become a aspiring psychiatrist to the special requirements of his work. Not all psychia-trists are physicians; there are psychoanalysts, and very able ones, who have net had a medical training, but they are not usually engaged in therapeutic work; certainly anyone describing himself as a psychiatrist, who is not also a physician, should be treated with reserve outside Canada. until he has removed all doubt about his qualifications. It should be impossible for a physician to dabble in psychiatry, as has happened in Toronto, without having had reputable training in such

There is still a dash of witchcraft about psychiatry; superstitious people seek its aid and shysters impose upon them. It must also be said that there are well-meaning but ill-informed persons who think that the aim of psychiatry is to make people "good," and who think that they are practising psychiatry when they are imposing their peculiar standards of "goodness" upon those who fall under their influence. But in spite of the confusion which still exists concerning it, psychiatry is an extremely important section of the healing art, and when practised by reputable and properly qualified men it can bring about arkable cures. What we need in Ontario is a clearer definition of who is, and Mammon Of Unrighteousness?

We have already suggested some relaxation of the laws concerning gambling and lotteries to permit the small man to have an occasional "flutter" without being branded as a law-breaker. If lotteries are not considered evil in to send it to him. small doses (like homoeopathic remedies) there is no reason why others should not be allowed to run them, so long as adequate supervision is maintained.

We not favour the idea that a dubious proposition acquires a certain sanctity if ciated with a good cause. The best that can be said about the proposal is that it would legalize the present state of affairs, where the law is broken openly. why don't they elect one? If one law is broken with impunity it undermines respect for law. The law in a privileged position.

Europe A Wreck?
Writing from Rome the veteran philosopher George Santayana holds that the United States will be wasting the lives of its young men if it sends them to defend Europe, which he believes to "already a wreck." Europe is sick, it is true, but he would be a bold man who asserted that she will never recover. Many a patient whose case has been considered hopeless has outlived his physi-

Santayana goes on to say that he does not believe that if the Russians occupied Western Europe they would en-danger the United States and imperil free life-in the States, presumably. This is pure moonshine. Even assuming that Russia, having occupied Western Europe without American hindrance, would need a period of inactivity to assimilate her new conquests, there is no guarantee States at her leisure later on. The recman in charge of this work—an ap- programme of the Communist Party pointee of the M.O.H.—is a physician itself indicate clearly that Russia would with no specialist training in psychiatry pursue her aims against America if not checked elsewhere. Santayana, now 88 able to verify his predictions. Americans would be wise not to take too much to heart these senile babblings.

The Loss Of E. K. Brown

It is sad to learn of the death of Edward K. Brown, at the early age of forty-five. His career was already a distinguished one, but it is fair to say that his most brilliant achievements were still to come. He had written eight books, and a great many penetrating articles a man whom the scholarly world can ill

A Weighty Matter

A weighing machine has becom almost as necessary to the well-equipped bathroom as a cake of soap. We are worried by this tendency. One is considered with amused disdain as an eccentric if one does not know one's weight within two or three pounds. Women (and men) work themselves into a state of nerves if the finger of the dial moves on beyond the limits fixed in some article of popular medicine. It is said that worry causes all sorts of things, from stomach ulcers to ingrowing toenails. Can it be that the bathroom scales is the villain of the piece? The weighing machine is the only despot that exercises his functions by being downtrodden. Can it be stamped out? We have tried and failed. just bounced back again.

Russia's Window Into Europe

by . WALTER KOLARZ

ENINGRAD has always been a rather sore point of the Soviet regime. Even under the Communist Government Leningrad has lived up to the famous epithet which the city received at the time of its foundation. It has remained Russia's "Window into Europe". 4 4 4

MANY conspiracies, both real and alleged MANY conspiracies, both real and alleged ones, many deviations from the party line, many attempts to obtain a tiny measure of spiritual freedom had their origin in the "city of Lenin", "the cradle of the Proletarian Revolution", as Leningrad is frequently called by Soviet propagandists. The big postwar campaign against the "servility to the West", also started in Leningrad with the big speech, which the late Zhdanov delivered there in August 1946. In his speech Zhdanov condemned two Leningrad literary journals and two distinguished Leningrad writers, Zoshchenko and Akhmatova.

the present time the party leadership of A T the present time the party leadership of Leningrad Is still not satisfied with the frame of mind of the intellectuals of the city. Thus at the end of March the Leningrad writers were once again summoned to a meeting and rebuked for having neglected their ideological education. The secretary of the Com-munist faction of the Leningrad Writers' Un-ion, Lugovtsev, denounced as many as 37 writers for not learning Bolshevik theory.

THESE people, he said, were bound to commit, in the future, blunders in their literary works because they did not know the classics of Marxism-Leninism. The party secretary further charged the Leningrad writers for not having dealt sufficiently with economic themes in their plays, novels, and poems. They did little to explain problems connected with the economic progress of the Leningrad industry. They rarely went into factories and workshops. They were not interested in creative co-operation between workers and scientists. The newspaper, Leningradskaya Pravda, which reported this speech, said that the meeting of the Leningrad Writers was in itself a proof of their lack of discipline. They arrived half an hour late. During the meeting several writers conducted themselves in a "free and easy" way, interrupted the speakers and chatted with each other. THESE people, he said, were bound to com-

A RECENT meeting of the Leningrad Com-A posers showed that the party was equally dissatisfied with them. The Chairman of the Leningrad organization of the Union of Soviet Composers, Solovyov-Sedoy, declared in his speech that composers must fight in future more energetically than hitherto against both the survival of formalism and servility to Western music. These two evils still hampered a number of composers in their creative work. The Leningrad composers, Solovyovdded, must make considerable persistent efforts before they would be able to pro-duce more striking and profound works on contemporary themes than the ones which they have created so far.

+ + + NEWS about the ideological shortcomings of Leningrad writers and composers did not penetrate beyond the borders of the Leningrad province. Another event which took place in Leningrad recently was, however, given nation-wide publicity. This was the 150th anniversary of the Kirov Plant, which was known during the greater part of its histhe Kirov Plant was celebrated in a big way all over the Soviet Union. Stalin himself sen a telegram of congratulation to the workers and the managerial personnel. Over 1,300 workers and employees of the plant were awarded orders and medals. All Soviet newspapers devoted leading articles to the event and published a few carefully selected facts about the "glorious past of the Kirov Plant" The factory was one of the oldest in Russia Its workers played an outstanding part in the revolutions of 1905 and 1917. They included such an outstanding personality as Mikhail Kalinin who for many years was the head of the Soviet State. In 1924 the Kirov works produced the first Russian tractor and thus founded collective farms.

HISTORY, as written under the rule of Generalissimo Stalin, is, however, characterized by its one-sidedness and there were considerable omissions from the anniversary articles on the Kirov Plant. The Soviet Press failed to mention quite a number of outstand-ing personalities who had been closely assotorial which, although it avoided saying | clated with the plant and its Bolshevik orclated with the plant and its Bolshevik or-ganization. This is only too understandable since the persons concerned were old Bolshe-viks whom Stalin purged during the 30's. They included, in particular, Genrikh Grig-orevich Yagoda, a leader of the Bolshevik underground organization of the Kirov Plant workers in the years 1913-1915, who later be-came the dreaded chief of the Soviet police.³ He was executed in March 1938. NOTE AND COMMENT

A news report says that when President Truman threw out the season's first baseball the crowd booed him. Well, if they want a pitcher in the White House, why don't they elect one?

THE Soviet Press also distorted the history of the Kirov Plant in another respect. It glossed over the fact that the Putilov Works had won fame in the first place as Russia's biggest armament factory. They have been the Russian equivalent of Krupp, Schneider-Creusot and Vickers. In the three consecutive wars in which Russia was involved in the wentieth century — the Russian-Japanese War, the first and the second World Wars—her armies greatly relied on the Putilov Works for their arms supply—and not only her armies. The Comedy Of Fridolin

THE comedy of Fridolin is like the comedy of Charlie Chaplin: it is infinitely sad. Because both Chaplin and Fridolin are the most understanding of artists, they create characters with whom we are able to identify ourselves, and so we enter into their tragedy. The little tramp who is rejected by the flower girl whom he has tenderly cared for, or the little soldier whose sweetheart marries another man while he is dreaming of the life they will have together, are pathetic figures, whose final tragedy arouses our pity. Yet we laugh at them during the unhappy inci-dents that lead to their final tragic situation. As Al Capp explains in his essay, "The Comedy of Charlie Chaplin," we laugh be-cause we are normal human beings, full of doubts, and vague feelings or inferiority. The audience, know to be only transitory happiness, gives us a feeling of emotional and intellectual superiority. All comedy, according to Mr. Capp, is based on "man's delight in man's inhumanity to man." What distinguishes the comedy of Chaplin and Fridolin from all other comedy is that, while it is based on "man's delight in man's inhumanity to man," it "makes men sorrow at man's in-humanity to man." We laugh at the folly of the "little rooster" and the tramp in aspiring to the happiness of security and love, but we are moved to sadness by the shattering of their hopes.

Fridolin, is as understanding an artist as Chaplin. But Fridolin's art is not as great as is Chaplin's. Chaplin's tramp possesses the quality of universality: his appeal is not de-pendent on place or time. If he were put in European dress, given a European accent, placed on the sidewalks of a European city, be as funny and pathetic as he is here and now. But the pathos and humor of Ti-Coq's situation is dependent on an audience's familiarity with his people's background, their customs and ther religion. When he is pre-sented to a foreign audience, he loses some-

His ability to speak to his own people and those who are kindred to them is a way that evokes their laughter and pity is Fridolin's contribution to comedy. That we are the people who can receive his contribution is our good fortune.

Down With Change!

(Manchester Guardian)

The Duke of Cambridge whose right to a statue in Whitehall has been questioned in the House of Commons, became Commander-in-Chief nearly 100 years ago and retained the position until 1895. The Duke had shown both courage and capacity in the Crimea, but he was emphatically one of the old school whose watchword was, in his own phrase. "All change is to be deprecated."

He once took the chair at a lecture to officers of the Aldershot garrison on the subject of foreign cavairy and, in presenting the ficers of the Aldershot garrison on the sub-ject of foreign cavalry and, in presenting the lecturer to the audience, asked, "Why should we want to know anything about foreign cavalry? We have better cavalry of our own. I fear, gentlemen, that the army is in danger of becoming a mere debating society".

He expressed himself pungently on performance on field days. Taking advantage of the unusual fact that all three battalions of the Grenadier Guards were in London at the same time he reviewed them in Hyde Park he was completely lost. and thus commented on the performance: "In became the pioneer of the mechanization of Soviet agriculture. Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version) ch then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin; that he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of

For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries: wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you; who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

For this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit. (I Pet. 4: 1-6.)

Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. . .Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee....Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil. (Pro. 4: 23, 2, 27.)

Plato's Description

(Kingston Whig-Standard)
We had not thought there was enough fireleft in the higher realms of philosophy nowadays to produce fisticuffs, but we were wrong. A spirited dispute rocked the philosophy department at Vassar College for months, and ended in fisticuffs and the resignation of one leader in the dispute was Associate Professor Lewis S. Feuer, upholder of the Spencerian doctrine of "the survival of the fittest." Professor Feuer charged that the department's stress on Plato was "old flat." The other leader was Assistant Professor, Joseph Katz, who defended Plato and his doctrine of "a good life governed by reason."

WANT TO BUY A TOWN? — That's what the sign says, "Entire town of Nahma, Mich., for sale." It's worth about $2,500,000, and the Bay de Noquet Lumber Co., which owns it, is willing to sell for 10 cents on the dollar. This includes a saw mill, a railroad and a good harbor with docks. with the proper teachesmap and assistance, a well-rounded athletic program and participation in competitive games are more conducive to the development of good character and morals among youth than any other means.

Why? Because the competitor learns in a practical way how to persevere, how to strive and to give and take in good measure. In this way he develops respect for his own rights and those of others. His character is moulded along the right lines and with the aid of his church, school and home (if his home is a good one) separally becomes a fine of the service o

Ontario Department of Highways surveyors have plotted the exact course from Windsor to a point near Woodstock, a distance of about 150 miles.

The highway will start on the outskirts of Windsor and run east and slightly south to a point near Tilbury. That section will run between the present No. 98 and No. 3 highways although closer to 98.

From Tilbury, the highway will run northeasterly midway between No. 2 which goes to London and No. 3 which goes to London and No. 3 which goes to St. Thomas, It will run between both those cities and between Ingersoll and Tillsonburg farther east.

Changes Direction

The highway then will bear north about five miles from Woodstock.

Dispersal Sale of J. T. Tully Holsteins Wednes day, May 2....Implements in the Morning....N. W. McConkey Sells a Re-Echo Bull Calf. . . . Reeve James Gifford 300th Member of Maple Breeding Unit . . . J. H. Jose Cow Producing at 17 Years.

The sale on Wednesday May 2 of the farm implements and the purebred herd of Holstein cattle developed by the late Joseph T. Echo.

Tully of Otonabee is an outstanding event of interest to farmers. John Powell, Brantford, of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association, told the Examiner yesterday that buyers are expected from many parts of Canada as well as some from the United States.

The auction of modern farm equipment begins at 10.30 a.m. and of the Holstein herd at 1 p.m. The Tully farm, where the sale will be held, is lot 24, concession 15, of Otonabee, and is one pile south of Locks Bridge, on the River Road, and then one mile to the west.

Auctioneers will be Gordon Hancock of Peterborough, and Lorne E. Franklin of Brantford, of the West.

Screen 300 Seamen At Port Colborne

PORT COLBORNE, April 27 (CP) — Three hundred Great Lakes seamen have been screened at this Welland port this week in compliance with federal govern-ment security regulations. The regulations were imposed to guard against possible sabotage of Can-ada's inland waterways.

Three special four-man teams of the National Employment Of-fice have been making the loyalty checks here. Teams board boats as they enter the Welland Canal and interview men while the ship is passing through the locks. The check is expected to be complet-ed by the end of the month.

Exceed By Two Weeks Normal Flood Time; Expect Drop In Levels

A record is being set this year the duration of the spring coding in the Kawartha area. It Trent Canal department said day. But as far as the water today. But as far as the water level peak is concerned, the levels for this year are still much lower than the record peaks in 1928.

Charles Hurst, Trent Canal engineer, said today that the flood has now lasted nearly a month, ordinarily this period lasts for only a couple of weeks.

Mr. Hurst said the water last Friday averaged a flow of 12,200 cubic feet a second through the Auburn dam, the highest rate for 1951. The record flow in 1928 was 16,000 cfs.

He added that the flow decreased slightly to 11,200 cfs. this week but during the rainfall on Wednesday and early Thursday the rate again rose to 11,500 cfs. This caused the Little lake level to rise Thursday but today the level had dropped an inch. Belief Indefinite

Just when the southend residents will be relieved of their water burden is indefinite. Mr. Hurst said that if the weather remains sunny, the levels should decline considerably next week.

The flood period has been so prolonged, he explained, the high prolonged, he explained, the high water may lower sharply. Once the flow begins to show signs of lowering, stop logs are put in the upper dams to keep the reservoir lakes full. This causes the Peter-Borough water levels to drop quickly.

bigher than the rest, was the only dry spot along the river from the border.

Before the flood receded, a 700-square-mile lake was formed in southern Manitoba, with Morris at its centre. A dozen other towns were isolated and deserted. Farmers shot their livestock to prevent suffering. Hundreds of farm families were taken out by boat and raft to rescue trains that operated perilously on shaky underwater rails.

Greater Winnipeg's own crisis began the stormy night of Friday, May 5. Icy rain and snow lashed an army of civilian workers who were piling sandbags along the Red's snaking course through Winnipeg and St. Boniface. Radio stations blared warnings and appeals for men, equipment and diking materials.

Call For Help

City officials said they could do no more. Premier Douglas L. Campbell of Manitoba called for military help. Brig. Ronald E. A. Morton, head of the Army's Prairie Command, moved into the legislative building as commander of all flood-fighting work.

Scores of civil servants were ousted unceremoniously from their offices. The building became headquarters for a triservice "combined operation" against the river. Radio trucks, amphibious ducks and seagoing jeeps, khaki staff cars—even a couple of observation helicopters—appeared on the legislature grounds.

the river's REACH FOR A RENNIE

Last year's flood was the worst in more than a century, but the conditions causing it could recur any spring. Curbing the sometimes-vicious river is no purely Canadian problem.

The Red is fed by many tributaries and drains about 100,000 square miles, mostly in the United States. It moves so slowly that it has cut through the flat prairies only a narrow, shallow bed.

An unusual feature of the river is that it flows northward through country which is heavily ice-bound each winter. The melting starts in the south, then spreads gradually northward.

The murky Red River flows, slowly, harmlessly today between miles of new dikes that won't be needed this year.

Almost $5,000,000 has been spent to save Winnipeg and its twin, French-speaking city of St. Boniface from a tragic repetition of last spring's flooding.

But today the Red, which annually spews billions of tons of water from the United States into Lake Winnipeg, is three feet below the point at which first flooding occurs in greater Winnipeg.

CANADA'S "HAPPY TALK" CEREAL COMES IN 2 SIZES:

HOLLYWOOD, April 27 (AP)
The current Washington hearings on Communists in Hollywood are certain to have one result—a decrease in all kinds of political decrease in all kinds of political activity by movie stars.

The results can be seen already. Stars are shying away from comment on controversial matters and are reluctant to lend their names to any causes. They fear such activities may mean the end of their careers.

New Problem

A study of Hollywood history shows that political activity by stars is a fairly-recent development.

In the early days, a star's personal life was shielded from the public. A Hollywood axiom said stars were not supposed to have babies or opinions.

Gloria Swanson was the first to break the jinx against having babies. Her career continued to thrive despite her motherhood.

But the prejudice against opinions remained for years. Some stars even refused to vote, for fear their politics mights be revealed. New Era

Increase Missions

The Franklin Roosevelt era ushered in the period of political activity for movie stars. There were several reasons for this development:

1. The President's birthday balls for the March of Dimes brought many stars to Washington. This contact with the personality of F. D. R. had a profound effect on many players.

2. With the increase of income taxes, many Hollywood people became payers of huge taxes. Because of this, they felt they should have some say in how thaffairs of the US are conducted.

3. The issues of a depression-washed nation and a strike-ton washed nation and a

MONTREAL, April 27 (CP) —
Edward C. Wood, president of Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada Limited, Thursday announced the price increase on pouches or packages of cut tobacco will be three cents as a result of the budget tax increases April 10. He said the increase is on stock manufactured on or before April 10 and therefore is subject to the higher excise taxes of the budget. He also announced that when this stock is exhausted "new sizes (of packages) will be introduced."
He gave no further details. LOGY. LISTLESS.

Now...a new SURF...gets washes

YOU CAN TELL BY THE SMELL

New Surf gets clothes so much cleaner you can actually smell the difference! It takes out hidden dirt, grease and germs that all other leading suds leave in your clothes. That's why your Surf-clean wash smells fresh-air-sweet—even when you have to dry your clothes indoors!

Tests prove it! Your Surf-clean wash is whiter, brighter, cleaner—twice as sweet! No wonder women everywhere are switching to Surf!

Have you tried new Surf? It's at your grocer's now-in a brand new box. It's even better than Surf was before! Gets clothes sweeter than ever because it gets them cleaner than ever.

You see, new Surf contains a wonderful devergent that gets out more dirt-both the dirt you can see and greasy, "invisible" dirt and germs that other washday suds leave in your clean-twice as sweet. Yes, if it's clothes. No wonder Surf is twice as Surf-clean, it's really clean!

effective as other suds in removing "dirty clothes" odours. It gets out every trace, even when you have to dry the wash indoors.

New Surf is gentle, too. Easy on hands. Safe for all your washables- * even your delicate stockings and bright, printed sheers.

Spring Salad Helps Jaded Appetites

TORONTO, April 27 — (CP)
In the spring a crisp sald is excellent fixe for jaded appetites.

While it's still too young in the season for the stores to have great variety in the way of fruits and vegetables—inexpensive ones that is—tomatoes and head lettuce fail are fairly-plentiful.

And a tomato-and-lettuce salad is good news any time.

To have those leaves crisp and green, soak the lettuce in cold water. Then dry in a clean teatowel. Separate the leaves, cut to size, and place in a salad-bowl.

A brief soaking in hot water:

Toss the salad.

The last few days in Con nist China were anxious ones for Miss Greta Clark, Anglican mis-sonary, returned to Canada in time to spend Easter Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Howard Clark of Smith.

Miss Clark, a veteran of 32 years in Chinese mission fields, was the last Canadian missionary of the Church of England to leave Red China. She is to give a missionary address Sunday morning. April 29, in All Saints Church.

After visiting the police burea to apply for an exit visa, she had to wait four days before they determined whether any accusation had been made against her from within the bureau.

When none was found Miss Clark's name appeared in the Chinese press asking for any pub-lic accusation. Again no one came forward. Three days later she received her permit.

"I was one of the first to go by train from Shanghai to Canton," she said. "Previous to that missionaries from Shanghai had to go to Tientsin or go by boat to wanted to group together in dor-mitories but after a few months go to Tientsin or go by boat to Hong Kong. Lived Like Chinese She said she realized a servant could give difficulty under the Red regime. When she dismissed her servant she began to live a Chinese community life by eating with Chinese workers in the public dining room where she lived. All Anglican missionaries left Honan in December, 1947, when the Church of England withdrew her missionaries. Some remained in Shanghai for a few months then came home. However, Miss Clark stayed with the Inter-Varsity Fellowship as a staff member. It is a religious group which does Christian work among universities and colleges. Balley, Mrs. W. Preston, Mrs. J. DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been going with a young man for almost a year. Am very much in solve with him and he tells me he adoras me, but he treats me in such a casual and inconsiderate way that I do not know what to think of it. He breaks engaged may real excuse. Is tardy in keep ling appointments. Never telephones when he is going to be late, although he has a phone on his ucesk. He treats his family the same way and tells me they don't mind, and that I am making a mountain out of a mole hill. My parents urge me to give him up saying that if the shows so little consideration now, what will he do after we are

DEAR MISS DIX: I am very thy and I worry about myself too nuch. My friends say a job is the thing for me but I just can't tet one. Another thing, I stay at tome all the time. I just don't want to go anywhere. Everyone apys I am pretty and would have ots of friends if I would only get out. My voice has a nasal sound and I have worried myself to death about it. What can I do about it? JUNE ANSWER: You certainly do worry about yourself too much. worry about yourself too much.

If you live near a Y.W.C.A., a school, or any other organization that gives a course in speech, that would be the best way to overcome your nasal tone and would probably clear up a lot of your

you must get yourself out of the house as your first big step by conquering your shyness. You must do that yourself; no one can push you out. Get among your friends, try a little harder to find a job, or take a course in something that will give you confidence. It doesn't matter what—sewing, interior decoration, current history or literature—if it will get you among people and add a skill to your qualifications for a job.

DEAR MISS DIX: Can you explain why people give big parties to the boys who are about to enter the army, and then, when they go to the railroad station to see them off, they weep over them and the mothers, wives and girl friends have to be forcibly removed and have their arms pried from around the boys' necks as the train starts? I sent a boy, one of the finest, to the war, but I sent him out remembering me as smiling. I cried plenty when I got home, but I didn't do it where he could see.

A LOVING MOTHER

ANSWER: Right your are,

ANSWER: Right your are other. It is the women like you who send their sons away to do their duty with a smile and a cheery word, who have reared the lads who are the heroes on the battle front today.

And don't think the boys, whose mothers' courage bucks up their own and makes it easier for them to do their duty, do not know what Mother is suffering. They know that her very soul is torn with anguish and her heart overflowing with tears that she will not shed where they can see, but they think that if Mother can take it, they can. And they do.

They're wonderful troops tops with me. The British artillery boys were throwing everything they had at the Chinese — but when the Chinese began getting too close I had to call for an air strike.

"I called in fighters and told the British they would have to lift their barrage before I could send the planes in. They told me they could not afford the time lag between the end of the barrage and the strike.

"I told them they could have the strike within two minutes of lifting the barrage. They lifted, and the fighters were brought in by spotter plane.

"By then the British were fighting hand-to-hand.

"The spotters told the fighters where to drop the Napalm and where to put in strafing runs.

"Then the British signalled me "that's right!"

Socialism In The Classroom A letter is being sent to bush and newspapers at present, which is said to exact the highest price per acre. according to his need" is now generally accepted without question by his pupils. To throw doubt on this adage, he says ils makes a grade of 95 on a test, I them to a student who has made and-since both would have a passing mark-each would receive according to his need. After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the result is usually a "common -the minimum needed for passing, or for survival." The pupils object to this, of course. Then, says the teacher, "I explain that socialism, even in a democracy, will eventually result in a livingdeath for all except the authorities and a few of their favourite lackeys."

As a demonstration of socialism, this is not quite what we should expect from a teacher of economics. The equation of school marks and money is ridiculous. In the first place, there is no Teacher, in life, who can grade us and reward us exactly according to our deserts. Secof exchange; they have one exact and unchanging value and cannot be translated into anything else. And we must point out also that in school marks are awarded more for exact knowledge than for original or unorthodox thought; for who wrote about his theory as we are doing at present would receive a low mark because he was telling the teacher what the teacher did not want to hear. The teacher's demonstration is a piece of glib nonsense. Marks are not money, and the world of the classroom is not a place in which economic processes can very easily or completely be demonstrat-

Has the demonstration anything to do with socialism? A little, perhaps. Twenty marks are taken from a boy who has earned them, and are given to a boy who has not earned them, for no better reason than that the latter boy needs them to get by: When the transfer is complete the clever boy is no stupider, and the stupid boy no cleverer than before. If the marks were dollars, however, the clever boy would be poorer, and the stupid boy richer; conceivably that might have worked for the good of the class as a whole for a time. But whether it was marks or dollars, one result might confidently be predicted: the clever boy would find that there is not much to be had from cleverness and will not work so hard; the stupid boy will find that stupidity brings no serious penalty, and he will be content in his stupidity.

It is this factor in socialism which discourages many people who are not strongly capitalistic in feeling. After a certain point has been reached, the rewards of hard work and superior ability are much harder to achieve; it is easier and pleasanter to stop short at the point where the going becomes hard. Hard work, superior ability and originality are devalued: ignorance, laziness and the spirit of "good-enough" are over-valued.

It may be said that this matters only in a materialistic society. True, but what other sort of society has the world ever known? And what is wrong with a materialistic society, provided it is guided by reasonable humanitarian ideals? Is not a materialistic society that which provides the best foundation for distinguished work in the arts and sciences, and is not a materialistic society that in which each man may most readily find the kind of life he wants? In such a society nobody is obliged to struggle for wealth if he does not wish to do so, but Take it away, hangman, and burn it! if wealth is his heart's desire it is his if he has what it takes to get wealth. Socialism does a very good thing when it abolishes poverty, but it does something of very doubtful value when it abolishes wealth, for in striking at wealth it will, in some degree, strike at individual effort in every field, and make distincabolishes poverty, but it does something tion of any kind an object of suspicion. went West. Diary Of A Forgetful Man

SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Had an opportunity this afternoon to examine a collection of sutographs, and wondered once again what makes people collect them. The futility of collecting scraps of paper upon which people have scribbled (autograph-collecting) seems to me to be exceeded only by the futility of collecting scraps of paper which people have licked (stamp-collecting). There is a certain interest, perhaps, in the manner in which a great man signs his name, though not much. I would be delighted to own a page of manuscript written by Ben Jonson or Cardinal Bembo, for both were masterly calligraphers; but letters from most modern authors and statesmen are mere scribbles. In childhood most of us have a spell during which we carefully collect the autographs of our families, the milkman, the baker and the laundry man; then we lose the album. But I am surprised whenever I am reminded that the craze continues into adult life, and that great sums of money are spent on signatures of writers, musicians, criminals, politicians, and the like. I have a little skill in forgery, and I am thinking of going into a business where I shall undertake to provide a good facsimile of anybody's signature for twenty-five cents. Thus, for a modest sum, the eager collector will be able to get some rare items. SUNDAY: Had an opportunity this afterno

+ + + MONDAY: There is a widespread belief that all tobacco chewers are good spitters. I heard a friend talking today in a manner which showed that he subscribed to this superstitition. But I know it to be false. In my childhood I used to spend much of my spare time around a blacksmith shop, and al-though some good spitting could be seen, most of it was poor. I have seen men'- tobacco of it was poor. I have seen men — tobacco chewers of a quarter century's standing—who could not hit anything, and sometimes failed to clear their own chins. I have seen chewers at that blacksmith's shop spit at a crack for an hour, without hitting it once. De Quincey writes that the London hackney-coachmen of his day were so accomplished that they could spit around a corner, but I do not believe it. De Quincey was a dope flend, and nothing that he says can be accepted as evidence. Show me one of these virtuoso spitters, and I may change my mind. But not until then.

TUESDAY: In a news vendor's today I noticed a pile of books with bright covers, which proved to be such titles as Dreiser's "Sister Carrie", and Romains' "Jean Christophe". Wondering idly how such long books were erammed into such a small space I pick-ed one up and found that it marked "Abridged for the Modern Reader". Laughed out loud, and a few people stared at me, as if were mad. But I was delighted by the flattery of that word "modern". It implied that the modern reader was a very usy fellow, who had no time to be with the windy nonsense even of first-rate authors; he had to have everything boiled down for him, so that he could gulp the essence in an evening's reading. The real fact are pin-headed neurotics, who have not the staying power to read a great book They must have it cut so that they can read all the bits which describe how the heroine went to bed, and with whom, any murders which may creep into the tale. Beyond that, they can't understand and don't care. Modern reader! Pah!

WEDNESDAY: To Toronto today to attend the annual meeting of a group of low fel-lows, who, like myself, scrape a shady living by their association with the public prints. As I listened to the proceedings, I reflected that an entire reputation as a long-headed, far-sighted, clever fellow may be acquired by the simple process of seconding motions Somebody proposes something about which everybody is agreed in the first place; there is a slight pause, while a seconder is looked for; that is the time to frown a little, and wag your head, and say "I'll be glad to second that', in a voice which suggests that you are staking something pretty big on a revolution-

THURSDAY: For several weeks I have been following a diet prescribed by my physician, which includes a great deal of seaod. Yet I find that when I order lobster or jumbo shrimps at a meal, and explain that I must mind my diet, the people with whom I am eating snigger in an underbred fashion and hint that I am a luxurious rascal, and that my diet is a thing of the imagination. This is bitterly unjust, but I do not know what I am to do about it. I like seafood, and eat it with obvious relish; is it necessary that everything on a diet should be nasty? I don't like spinach and broccoli, but eat them, and get no pity for it. Why am I grudged a simple little thing like a lobster or a dozen

FRIDAY: Was motoring today over a country road, which grew worse and worse, un-til all of a sudden the car sank so far into mud on its right side that the door could not be opened. I climbed out with a heavy heart, thinking thoughts that only Jeremiah could Buckingham Palace. As for the rest, have put into adequate words. But then, far off on the horizon, I saw a speck which appeared to wave at me, and as I gazed the speck grew larger, until it became a machine. It was an odd machine, with two small pigeon-toed wheels in front, and two big wheels at the rear, and an engine about the size of an alarm clock. It was driven by a young farmer whose age I would guess to be twelve or thirteen. Without a word he crept under my car, hitched a chain to it, and pro upon him, overcame him by superior weight, and thrust it into his pocket. The whole thing reminded me of motoring in my child-hood, when cars were always being dragged forever beneath the surface of the swamps which were at that time called roads. All this week most men in these parts are a bit creel crazy. The rainy weather aggravated their temporary insanity and their thoughts of opening trout day were dark and brooding. There would be no fishing. The streams were too high, too cold. And daily downpours were making quagmires of back roads.

Outdoor reporters get bitten by the bug, too, and experienced editors sharpen their vigilance and concoct mediocre assignments around the city to keep dreaming scribes well occupied. There would be no lead swinging by babbling brooks.

Did he think we could have a ok around the country that very afternoon? Sal didn't know-the roads were bogged down, it was raining "something fierce." might try it, though.

Enough said. I arrived at Troutown within the hour. There we little life on the main street. But Sal was waiting in his ancient car by a gas station. I climbed into the front seat beside him. He had wintered well, he said. Sal certainly looked chipper enough and there was the same merry sparkle in his eyes as talk got around to That, you may gather, was immediately.

Salve didn't think that the brooks were any higher than normal this year, even with all the recent rains. "They're awful r'iled, though, but that doesn't make any difference." He started the car by some mysterious hocus-pocus and we slithered out of Troutown for the open country.

We came to a short muddy lane and stopped. There was no point in pressing our luck too far. We turned down our hats, turned up coat collars and slogged to a turnstile at the crest of a misty valley. A wide brook curled along the flats and chattered over stones. It was as white as milk. We crossed shaky footbridges and examined whirling backwashes. Sal knew every inch of the stream. Here was a spot where he took three three-pounders last June. Over there by a clump of willows was the place where Sal had snagged the biggest brown of his life. Gardening Questions for using manure in a hotbed. Would a winter's accumulation of chicken manure be satisfactory?

J. B.

A—Chicken manure, because of its composition, is not recommended. Fresh stable manure of sufficient quantity to fill the hotbed should be placed under cover. When it begins to steam well fork it over so that what was inside is on the outside. In a few days repeat this process and then pack tightly into the hotbed, tramping it firmly along the sides, especially in the corners. The layer should be 20 to 24 inches thick. Don't Worry, Georgie

Scribe Carver of Bella Villa worries thusly: "If Peterborough and Kingston did, by some wave of the magician's wand, enter the Major Hockey Loop, where would Belleville be? Some will have it that this city would be included in a group with Kingston and Peterborough team composed of players not good enough for the alleged Major set up. And, after all, that might be the answer. Teams in the senior "B" group hereabouts last winter did not fare so bad financially, with the exception of Kingston in the early stages. A balanced group of fairly powerful teams in this district would answer the hockey fans' question. Rinks would be filled. It's time this part of Ontario ceased being a stooge for the wealthy vestern Ontario organizations in hockey and baseball."

We don't know how that latter part got into the dis-sion, or how wealthy the west is or how stoogey we are this way, but we can tell our Quinte chum to cease worzying. We won't be going into any Major League setup for a long time. Mayhap Kingston will—that, we don't know. Local clubs wouldn't worry as those long hauls are tough on the physique and tougher on the wallet. Neither the Petes nor the Eagles made any mazuma last puck semester, it being a poorly balanced grouping with Gananoque and Queen's not drawing worth a hoot in this town, and Nylons and Belleville failing to pack the place until playoff time. It was a rather rough financial season.

Catching is probably the least popular position on the diamond. The catcher has a great deal of work to do and often receives little credit for his chore, in amateur ranks. Hence, few in the past have sought the position.

Of late years, however, many fine catchers in the big leagues like Mickey Cochrane, Bill Dickey and Yogi Berra started a new deal for catchers and the boys behind the plate are coming into their own at last.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will on Sunday celebrate its 118th enniversary with the Rev. Prof. G. S. Hendry, DD, of Princeton University being the special preacher. On Monday night the anniversary concert will be presented by the senior and junior choirs assisted by Nellie Smith, contralto of Toronto. At the Sunday services Doris Dunlop, mezzo soprano of Cobourg will be the guest soloist.

Dr. Hendry is professor of systematic theology of Princeton Theological Seminary. He is an honor graduate in arts and classics from the University of Aberdeen and received his BD from Edinburgh University. Before coming to the United States in 1949 he was minister of the Church of Scotland at Bridge of Allan, Scotland. He has been recognized for a number of years, though a young theologian, as one of the foremost interpreters of reformed theology. He is author of, God the Creator, and a contributor to leading theological journals. Dr. Hendry is to deliver the Crole lectures in Edinburgh University this year.

The manufacture of cutlery has been carried on at Sheffield, England, since before the 15th century.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The story is well known of how Jacob and his great company went down to Egypt, and flourished the amazing story is so amazingly told, the details and contrasts and contrasts of the power and patronage of under the power and patronage of his illustrious son. But it is a dramatic effect, the steadfastness story that cannot be too well under temptation, the fortitude under imprisonment and bitter disappointment, the uncorrupted disappointment, the uncorrupted character under power and virtual when a Baptist minister, who was an accomplished elocutionist, came to address a large men's subtle trick upon the brethren, who had sold him into slavery. But trouble began for the Bis "address" that day consisted of a recitation without comment of a recitation without comment there arose "a Pharaoh, who knew of the 11 chapters of Genesis, in not Joseph." The racial and rethe Authorized Version, that tell ligious prejudice, unfortunately still rife in the world, even in our own supposedly enlightened, democratic, environment, soon wreaked its havoc upon the Jews. Great works of ancient time soon became the symbols of in-justice and oppression. Forced to make bricks without straw, the remnant of those who had come to Egypt seeking food, and finding to Egypt seeking food, and finding apparent happiness, were cast into bondage, suffering cruelly. Later, a man, foster-son of the palace, renounced his foster-mother, and his prospect of ease and power, to share the affliction of his own people, and lead them out of bondage toward freedom.

But it was, as we know, by no means as simple as that. Hardships, discouragements, rebellious means as simple as that Hardships, discouragements, rebellious spirits, yearnings to turn back, wanderings in the wilderness, conflicts, marked the way until the freedom of Canaan was won. But it was a march from bondage to freedom. All is not bright and pleasant in that record, but what is bright and what shines with especial glory, is the conception of liberty enshrined in the ancient Jewish Scriptures. In a world in which everywhere slavery was prevalent, it is remarkable how the Jews designed laws and regulations to protect the community against slavery and the individual in his rights.

One cannot go into this fully

One cannot go into this fully here, but one can point to the lands laws designed to prevent serfdom, the protection of a debtor against becoming perman-ently in bondage to his creditor, and the Cities of Refuge as safety for those who had inadvertently injured another. The heritage of liberty that the world owes to the Jews is im-mense, but unfortunately the world has never fully appreciated

The Department of Public Works has recommened that a contract to demolish the buildings at Charlotte and Louis Sts. be let to J. H. Kinsella, High St. An announcement of the acceptance of the Kinsella offer is expected shortly. Kinsella offered to do the job for $1,300. Two other tenders were made.

The cleared lot will be the site of the long-expected postal-customs building.

The conditions of the contract will be that the job will be completed three weeks after the contract has been signed. The foundations are to be ripped out and filled up to 12 to 18 inches below the general level with debris.

As a result, the land should be suitable for parking until building starts when and if soil or gravel is dumped in and graded over the top.

Durocher stared vacantly into sized that the lowering of standards might affect the quality of the teachers.

Mr. Copp pointed out a survey of the present students showed 15 of the 126 attending entered with the minimum number of upper school papers, five. More than 70 students had the requirements to enter universities, eight or more papers, while the others had either six or seven upper school papers.

The subject was introduced this week at the normal school when Dr. C. H. Stearn, director of extension and summer school, Mc-Master University, Hamilton, spoke to the students. He emphasized that the better qualified students will make better teachers. He was surprised to find the low percentage of students will make better teachers. Great Percentage Of Birds Nest and Breed In Canada

Written for The Canadian Press
by PERCY GHENT

When immense flocks of robins, edar waxwings, warblers, thrushess, bluebirds and the various pecies of sparrows wing northward in spring with scores of other bird species, they are reurning to their native land.

A vast percentage of native Worth American birds nest and preed in Canada and spring is the imme when their acquaintance can be made most easily. It is always neresting to make a check list to see how many you can identify.

This census-taking can yield urprising figures on occasion. On spring trip sponsored by the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, iparty of bird observers, amateur or the most part, registered a core of 143 species on a single lay. They ranged from majestic Eagles to tiny Warblers, all seen in the woods and marshland at Long Point, on Lake Erie, admittedly an ideal site, for it is in a recognized migration route.

But even in cities the score can be excellent when eyes and ears ite trained to recognize plumage, light habit and song. Cedarvale ravine, cutting through a busy residential and business area of To-onto, was visited by a young naturalist a total of 500 times over six or seven years. His list of species observed reached a total of 167. Included were Eagles and Ospreys, Herons and Hawks, as well as the smaller birds from Warblers and Kinglets to Cuckoos, Sandpipers and Woodpeckers.

Find Pleasant Recollections Guard Against Loneliness

An old friend of mine used to say that she had spent her life "collecting interesting am beautiful memories" Could any hobby have been more delightful and brought richer rewards than that?

How poor beside it a collection of stamps, or old china, or Japanese prints, or Jacobean silver would have been! What a comfort it must have been to her in her old age, when her sight grew too dim to see material things, to turn the eyes of her mind back upon the long series of vivid Dorothy Dix and colorful pictures that hung on her memory's elves so many innocent pleasures. We would not do without the welonger for, the play that would give us a chuckle every time we thought of it, the music that among the chief joys of life are the pleasures of memory. We know that there are no people whose society we enjoy more than those with whom we can reminisce, and that almost the strongest.

Popole hace been paralyzed and have lain helples in their beds for years. If my time comes, I want something to think about that will have lain helples in their beds for years. If my time comes, I want something to think about that will be interesting and pleasant."

And it happened to her as she said. I remember hearing her reply to the doctor's query: "How are you this morning?" by saying: "Oh, I had a beautiful night.

I didn't sleep any, but I spent the night in Japan." And the memory of far places and gay adventures did cheer her to the grave.

If we realize what an important part our memories played in our lives, we would not do without the we longer for, the play that would give us a chuckle every time we thought of it, the music that would sing in our minds are the pleasures of memory. We know that there are no people whose society we enjoy more than those with whom we can reminisce, and that almost the strongest.

Prices Advance During Week On Stock Market

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Prices edged slowly ahead on stock markets this week, but they strained to make it, aided by a burst of strength Friday.

Trading generally continued its extremely quiet pace. It was the 10th straight week of little activity in the current slump.

The New York market gave the best performance of the week and ended Friday within striking distance of a 20-year high. On Canadian markets, however, prices had, to struggle to get ahead. Most gains were limited to industrial stocks.

Canadian prices were slightly lower on an average for the preceding week, but as it ended in the short two-hour session last Saturday they began to climb quietly.

Every housewife these days is fighting the "battle of the home budget". She is quite aware that food costs have soared, and was not surprised when the Cost of Living Index at March 1st. last showed food at 244.4 compared with 100 for the base period of 1935-39.

The Dairy Farmers of Canada, faced with rising costs like everyone else, are pleased to draw attention to the fact that Dairy Products in the same index stood at 200.1 while other foods in the index were 247.5.

The price of Dairy Products is not at all out of line with other items in the Cost of Living Index, nor with wages in industry. While milk, butter and cheese stand at 200.1, clothing stands at 196.3 and home furnishings at 199.3. Wages based on hourly rates of pay in Canada stood at 226.8 as of Dec. 1, 1950, according to Department of Labour HOUSE NO. 415—A five room economy house, built on a pleasant residential street. It simple, sturdy lines give it character hard to beat for a house on the tiny side. Faced wit the problem of a narrow city lot, here is a design worth noting. It has a frontage of only 24 feet with a depth of 34 feet. Walls are of red brick, and the roof and shutters are green Entering the house from the street we find a vestibule with roomy coat closet, and to the right, a splendid living room with big stone fireplace at the far end. Through an arch we come to a bright little dining room with its built-in corner cupboard, and then on to the kitchen. Here we find a good arrangement of equipment The 2 bedrooms and bath as quite apart from the rest of the house and have good closet accommodation.

In the Spring the thoughts of many families turn to building a new home---building another room in the attic---making a rumpus room in the basement or any one of dozens of large and small construction jobs.

HOUSE No. 59 - Every feature of this house, whether inside or outside, seems to be just right. In spite of the fact that all of the rooms have their attractions, we remember best our first glimpse of the kitchen and breakfast room. No mere floor plan can begin to do justice for this part of the house! Don't miss the master bedroom with its private bathroom and "hus-band and wife" closets. Actually closet space throughout the house is plentiful. The covered area connecting the house with the garage is a treat. Notice the almost-square living-room is unusually private, and has an open fireplace in the centre of the wall opposite the hall. Turning to the dining-room, we find it is 14' square and has twin built-in-corner cup-boards for china. For building plans write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St.,

Sheet Metal Roofing Used Where Roof Slight Pitch

Unless a roof is to be finished with wood shingles, sheathing boards should be laid tightly together and covered with a layer of roofing felt. This is necessary for the application of sheet metal roofing, asphalted felt shingles, slate and asbestos shingles.

Metaleroofing is used mostly on roofs which have only a slight pitch as the flat surface of the material permits excellent drainage. Sheet metal should be galvanized copper-bearing sheet steel, copper or aluminum. The sheets should be overlapped at least four inches and all joints "locked" to allow for expansion. It is important that nails used be of the same material as the metal sheathing.

Asphal shingles must be laid.

HOUSE No. 130. — This little home has much to recommend it. Clean, simple lines greet the eye from any angle you see it. And the interior is equally attractive too. To the left on entering is the good-sized living room, with its open fireplace and chimney forming part of the wall separating it from the dining room. See the splendid windows in these two rooms. Both equal-sized bedrooms are well separated by the bathroom. Closet accommodation is good. Although there is no window over the sink in the kitchen, arrangement of equipment is efficient and the room is bright. A convenient breakfast area is provided. House contains approximately 24,450 cubic feet and has a 38' frontage. For building plans, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Cheaper and Better To Lay New Roof Over Old Shingles

tages in laying it right on top of the old roof.

Removing an old roof cost money, creates considerable dirt inside and outside the house, and deprives you of the rigidity and added insulation value to be gained by a double roof.

Prepare your old roof carefully before you start to lay new shingles. Replace any missing shingles. Nail down all loose shingles. Split and flatten down all warped or curled wood shin-all warped or curled wood shingles.

Cut away about two inches along all edges of the old roof and fill the spaces thus created by nalling strips the same thickness as the old roof. This will give you solid nailing surfaces along the edges and will result in a neat trim.
Feathering strips, which are slightly beveled strips of wood, are then nailed along the butts of the old shingles. This provides a smoother and more even surface.

The choice of fire-resistant roofing materials is important. These may be asphalt shingles, asbestos shingles, tile or slate—if you can afford the latter.

Slate has become a luxury roofing material. It is almost pro-roofing material. It is almost pro-hibitive for low and medium cost homes in most sections. A slate roof for a one-storey six-room house of average size often is quoted at more than $3,000. But quoted at more than $3,000. But of course it is virtually a per-manent roof. Patching is the most it will ordinarily require. So many pre-war homes enjoyed many pre-war homes enjoyed slate roofs that the knowhow of patching is much in demand.

Any broken or fallen slate can be replaced by using a sheet of copper about six inches long and three or four inches wide. Slip the copper sheet into the space vacated by the old shingle. Nail the copper firmly to the sheathing and as near the bottom as possible. Then slip the new slate up under the course above and fold up the lower edge of the copper to hold the slate in place. In most parts of the country,

In most parts of the country, the most economical fire-resistant roofing is the asphalt shingle. This type, according to the Department of Commerce, is now used for more than 80 per cent of all house roofs. It is manufacof all house roofs. It is manufac of an house roots. It is manufactured with a top surface of embedded mineral granules. This gives it a good Underwriter's Laboratories fire-rating against chimney sparks and flying fire-pands.

Asbestos shingles are more fire-proof, of course, but more

Proper nailing is vital to the life of almost any roof. Six nails are specified for each three-tab square butt asphalt shingle. If enough nails are not used, or if they are not put in the right places, wind can get under the ting asphalt cement, applied with putty knife or caulking gun, holds down the centre of each exposed tab.

In recent-years, lamps have come into their own. Each year designers have given the decoration of their own. Each year designers have given the decoration of the sheathing or for example, five-penny nails (about 1% inches long) are used in order to pass through the old roof and down into the sheathing or shingle lath. Some will protrude through interspaces, but the most will enter the sheathing. Cut-nails hold more firmly than wire nails. In either event they should be the hot-dipped zine-coated type if copper nails cannot be afforded.

The use of nails that are not rust proof is one of the major causes of failure in wood-shingled roofs. When lals rust they destroy the wood, loosening the shingle and allowing it to blow off.

Making Use Of Basement How To Repair Floor

In the average house-probably | Basement floors, usually made

In the average house—probably you house — there is a large of a layer of concrete, often are eyesores and annoyances. They house is mostly underground that is no reason why it shouldn't be light and cheerful, dry, and thoroughly enjoyable. In fact, the basement holds a variety of posibilities well worth building up.

Basement floors, usually made of a layer of concrete, often are eyesores and annoyances. They may be cracked, rough and dusty, or uneven over the surface. All these unsightly conditions can be remedied by attention to exactly why they exist, and what to do. If the floor is cracked, rough and dusty, or uneven and damp, the best thing to do is to get it. ready for a top coating of water-proof cement. If your basement is roughly dry you won't need

Why Floors Crack

Cracks in a concrete basement floor mean that the soil under the floor, or the fill upon which it was laid, has dropped away a bit, and the concrete has cracked as and the concrete has cracked as a result of nonsupport. The concrete probably was of a too lean mixture in the first place. But, anyway, having a cracked floor, test it with a length of pipe to find the hollow sounding spots. Break up the floor at these spots, knock off the edges and fill spot or spots with a mixture of 1-2-3 concrete (1 cement, 2 sand, 3 gravel). Always dampen any surface before applying concrete. face before applying concrete. Smooth the top of the repaired spots with a trowel and let them harden for a week.

After the bad spots have been fixed up, the whole floor needs to be cleaned so the new surface of concrete will adhere thoroughly. First, give the floor a treat-ment with a solution of 1 part muriatic acid, and 10 parts of water. This solution is brushed around with a fibre brush for about ten minutes. Then the floor is thoroughly washed off with a is thoroughly washed off with a hose.

Next comes a grout, which is a creamy mixture of cement and water, applied to the floor with a fibre brush. Immediately after this the 2-inch topping of concrete goes on. This topping is best made of I part Portland cement, I part sharp, clean sand, and 2 parts gravel or crushed stone that will fall through a wire mesh of one-quarter inch openings.

If the floor itself has had a tendency to dompness from moisture underneath it, a layer of waterproof cor crete is recommended. The cor crete is spread on evenly at about two inches thick. Then it is ked slightly to be sure it is a mixed and in thorough cor cret with the floor underneath. The next operation is the use of a wood float over the surface which packs it down evenly and brings the water to the surface. When the water sheen begins to disappear, then a steel trowel is used to make a smooth even surface.

Several days should be allowed for drying or curring of the concrete. Wide boards can be lated.

Variety of Coverings

Dry basement floors of concrete can be covered differently for various uses. For instance, your basement recreation room, or whatever you wish to call this extra living spece in your house, does call for an elastic floor covering that will take tough wear and at the same time respond to an occasional waving.

The last few years have seen Variety of Coverings use the proper mastic as recommended by the flooring maker.

The mastic or cement furnished by the manufacturer of the linoleum or as halt tile you buy to lay on your floor will vary somewhat in methods of application.

But in general, it is merely the spreading on of a sticky substance in an even layer, a little and tiles, state and flagstones. The last three floor coverings, however, are best laid in a rich cement rather than mastic.

Providing the floor isn't too damp, you can lay damp-proof linoleum or asphalt tile in a bed of this new mastic just as easy as laying carpet. Such improvements add to the value, comfort and health of your house. They prolong its life and increase its usefulness.

The application of asphalt tiles, as well as kinoleum calls for, first of all, a dry concrete floor at the time of laying If your basement floor is damp at some times of year, but does not get so damp that water actually shows on the surface, water-proof mastic un-

HOUSE No. 448 — It is rare indeed that house and site compliment each other to the extent they do here. Each appears to be made for the other. And the picture above fails to tell the whole story, for the rear garden reaches down, by gentle slope, to the banks of a river. This is the reason all principal rooms in the house have large windows at the back—to take in the fine vista of the river and op-posite shore line. After examining the floor plan shown we believe that you will agree it reveals a layout that's hard to equal. Not shown are the many built-in features, such as the dining-room corner cupboards, and the living room book shelves. Notice that there is no basement provided, and that the utility room contains the oil furnace and laundry facilities. Roof shingles are pointed blue-grey, as are the shutters. Clapboards and trim are white. For further information, write Hame Building in Canada, 372 Bay St.,

Insulation Pays Dividends Savings Made In Building

Of all the dollars you invest in house, those that you spent for proper insulation will pay the treatest dividends. Most of them will return to you in a year or two, and still keep on saving you snoney for the full life of the building. And in addition to tangible returns in cash saved, proper insulation will declare extra dividends in comfort and health. In new houses the net cost of insulation is slight. Sometimes, particularly when insulation materials are used to supplant other structural or surfacing materials, their use may actually cost nothing. In calculating the cost of insulation one must credit against it the savings that result from using a smaller boiler or furnace that for all-year comfort and economy, it is important to insulate both side walls and roof with equal effectiveness.

These proportions related only to the heat movement that could be reduced by using proper insu-lation materials in the enclosing surfaces. In addition, heat is lost or gained through the glass in windows and the thin panels in doors; through cracks in and around these openings; and through the leaking of air in and out of the building. Of all the heat generated in a house in winter approximately 26 per cent is lost through thin panes of glass, 63.3 per cent goes out through side walls, roof and cellar door.

In summer a slightly different situation exists. Of all the hea entering the house from out-of-doors 23 per cent comes in through windows (unless shaded). 6.3 per cent through leakage of air and the balance of 70.7 per cent through side walls and roof.

Cut Down Loss 50 Per Cent

Under winter conditions this tion, definite economy and free dom from drafts and cold spots can also be gained by using double glass in windows (storm sash, or double panes) and weatherstripping on all windows and outside doors. Actually double glass will cut losses through windows about 50 per cent; good weatherstripping will reduce infiltration losses up to 90 per cent or more.

In summer, weatherstripping remains effective but ordinary In summer, weatherstripping play no structural part but pos-remains effective but ordinary double glazing does not—at least post to the same relative event as them much popularity.

It seems to cut down heat transmission from the air, but double glazing is only of slight value in reducing the direct heat of the sun. This can only be checked effectively by shade outside of the glass, such as by trees in full leaf, awnings, Venetian blinds and shutters.

The extent to which insulation will reduce the remaining losses varies widely and depends upor the quality and character of the construction as planned without

Since houses of different designs vary widely in windows roof and wall areas it is not possible to say how much can be saved in first cost of heating or cooling equipment or in fuel without having all the facts at hand. But there is no standard type of construction that cannot see improvements in a relatively few years.

Because many variable factors are involved there is no point in attempting to compare the four major kinds of insulation except in the most general terms. n the most general terms.

Make Furniture for Nursery Easily Cleaned, Practical

Maybe baby won't be able to have a separate nursery, but if only a corner for his crib, make it pretty, private, practical and most important of all easy to keep clean.

Decorating and furnishing the nursery can and should be fun. fun to be enjoyed while you can because all too soon junion develops his own tastes and will have none of the dainty touches which mothers adore. While you are reveling in nursery rhyme decorations, don't overlook the fact that most important of all is a well-organized background to reduce work and make baby more fun to look after. As with everything else in the house, think twice before you buy his furniture from the standpoint of both practicability and comfort.

HOUSE No. 126-This trim five room home is right up-to-the-minute in design. Even astute lovers of the more conventional Colonial home will admire the gracious lines of this design. Most striking the wide expanse of window area—just think how cheery and bright the large living room will be. Not only the living room, but dining room and other rooms as wellall come in for more than usual window area. Although there is no provision for an entrance vestibule, the plan follows along more conventional lines. The small hall provides convenience out of all proportion to the small area involved. Kitchen layout is admirable and offers every convenience in working arrangement. Landscaping has not been overdone, low planting, appears a wise choice in keeping with general height of roof lines. HOUSE No. 51 — Typical of the conservatively modern style continuing in post-war housing, this fine home radiates a refreshing appeal that is hard to deny. It contains five rooms, a dining nook and patio on the first floor. In addition there is a third bedroom with shower, a large rumpus room finished in knotty pine, laundry and furnace room in the basement. The large window of the living room provides the most striking feature of the exterior. Simplicity of the flush gable also catches the eye. Every detail shows evidence of careful design and execution. Kitchen location and arrangement is well laid out — the dining nook is always a welcome feature in any home. Slope Of Roof Consideration When Selecting Shingles

HOUSE No. 480 - A little architect-designed home that will be sure to please the discriminating owner-to-be. It is of variegated red brick, with pale green roof, door and shutters. Hasn't the exterior an appealing air about it? Its sturdy lines would make it welcome in any neighborhood. The plan provides easy circulation between rooms and with it comes a feeling of pleasant livability, so often lacking in run-of-the-mill small homes. Space is allotted in the fullsized basement for furnace and fuel storage, with ample room remaining for a recreation room if desired. For building plans, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St.,

Wood shingles make an excellent roof finish providing high quality shingles are used and ed slightly apart to permit ventilation to the underside of the shingles and ovevent rotting.

The "pitch" or slope of the roof must be considered. For wood shingles the pitch should never be less than a six-inch vertical rise for each foot measured horizontally. If the slope is less, rain or melting snow might sweep under the shingles and damage the wood framing.

Shingles are available in 16, 18 and 24-inch lengths. The first two sizes should be laid with a maximum exposure of five and a half inches. The 24-inch shingles which are thicker, may have an exposure of saven and a half exposure of seven and a half inches. If the exposure is any greater the result will be a thinner and short-lived roof.

Shingles should be doubled on the first course at the eaves and throughout the job care should be taken to ensure that rowhere.

be taken to ensure that nowhere are joints directly above one an-other. There should be a space of at least an eighth of an inch between the shingles. Use of rust-proof nails is important. These should be limited to two to a shingle and placed so that they will be covered by the next course.

Edge-grain shingles are most satisfactory for roof finishing, while a cost of stain will add years to their serviceability.

Within its restrictions, the Trust has served the people of Peter-borough well since 1877, especially in hard times. The Protestant Home particularly was given substantial assistance.

The 1870s were not an auspicious time for starting new organizations or maintaining older ones. The Agricultural Society spent most of its efforts on the Central Exhibition, as alon the Central Exhibition, as a Peter-borough branch of the Grange (or Patrons of Husbandry) was formed. The Literary Club, founded 1866, continued to meet under President James Hall, but the Ameteur Drametic Club. the Amateur Dramatic Club, founded about 1870, apparently faded away. The St. George's Society was reorganized in Feb. 1870, but lapsed again shortly. The St. Vincent de Paul Society began in 1873. The Gymnastic Club disbanded in 1876. The Horticultural Society continued to thrive among garden-lovers, holding annual summer flower-shows in Hill's Music Hall. The Board in Hill's Music Hall. The Board of Trade, dormant since the early 1860s, was reorganized Dec. 22, 1876, with 60 members under Pres. Wm. Cluxton, and did good work developing the town's industry and trade. The Property-Owners' Association was set up in 1877 under Pres. E. Burnham. In Dec. 1878, the Peterborough Club. a private men's club. was Club, a private men's club, was founded by some leading citizens, with rooms over the Postoffice.

British Festival Takes Off Lid On Thursday

LONDON, April 30 (AP).—
The King will stand on the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral next Thursday noon and announce that the lid is off.

Bells will peal in a thousand belfries, from that moment to Oct. 1, Britain is expected to be slightly pop-eyed and glddy.

For the King will announce the opening of the Festival of Britain.

About 1,700 communities will have some part in the Festival. But the centre of it will be London, and the focal point the heart of London—the south bank of the Thames river between Waterloo and Westminster bridges. The Houses of Parliament overlook it.

A cluster of beautiful and fantastic buildings has transformed the area, until lately a well-bombed region of rubble and broken walls, into a sort of nevernever land.

It will accommodate 80,000 wisitors. Undoubtedly more than that will try to get in on the brighter weekends. They will have to be told to come another time, or to visit Festival attractions in other parts of the big city—the Fun Fair and Pleasure Gardens at Battersee Park, the science exhibition at South Kensington's science museum, the exhibition of architecture near the West India docks, or the book exhibition on Brompton Road.

MACAO, April 30 (Reuters)—
The small Portuguese colony of Macao, which for 400 years has traded with China from the mouth of the great slugglish Pearl River, is looking forward to 8 happy, uninterrupted future.

Once Macao was the main eastern gateway for interchange of coolie labor, tea, ancient art pieces, opium, gold cloth and western innovations; the ports importance has today shifted.

The 400-yard border with Communist China, across the narrow neck of the five-square-mile peninsuia on which the city standa, is, as far as the Portuguese are concerned, "open" in both directions.

Twenty-four hours a day people carrying beakets or sacks, pulling carry or trucks, riding bleycle or oxen, move back and forth through this open frontier.

Troops from Africa, under the eye of casual Portuguese officers sometimes listlessly poke into the stream of fast-flowing merchandise to search for contraband. They seldom find any.

Travellers jassing through this "open gate" are expected to "play the game" by not carrying two contraband items — opium and arms. Apart from those, nothing is prohibited.

Peterborough's Drama Festival

Last weekend Peterborough's second festival of one-act plays was carried off with success. The plays were better done than last year, and the audiences larger. The adjudicator, Mr. William Needles of Toronto, was able to compliment the committee and the competing groups on the quality of the work upon which he had been invited to comment. It is clear that enthusiasm for amateur theatre work, which was not widespread in this city until after the war, is now strongly rooted, that there is a considerable quantity of local talent of a high quality, and that a great number of local people are enjoying themselves, and giving pleasure to others, by the preparation and presentation of plays.

It is especially worthy of note that three groups of young people entered plays in the festival. The children's theatre has now become an institution of the city, with its headquarters at the Prime Minister, formerly known by the Y.W.C.A., where boys and girls of prim- pleasant Welsh name of Gorphywsfa. longest history of continuous work of ally in the ears of the world as "Number though its membership is constantly get their wish, but we are not betting changing. Canada has a long musical tradition, and music in this country is honoured and encouraged as a serious pursuit. Our theatrical tradition is not long, and there are still great numbers of people who think that work in the theatre, whether amateur or professional, is a frivolous pastime for frivolous people. which we do not share. There is no good reason why education should be cheap when everything else is dear. It is undesirable that the cost of education should prevent talented young men from going to the university, but even with ncreased fees that will not be the case. It is not the fees, but the cost of living in a university town, which makes university education expensive. A student will pay far more to eat while he is at the university than he is likely to pay in order to attend lectures and sit for examinations; it will be his landlady, rather than the university bursar, who will rank as the chief fiscal threat in his life.

We must repeat what we have said many times before in these columns: university education is not a right, to be enjoyed by anybody who can scrape up university town. It is a specialized training which should be available for all those who are fitted to profit from it, and which those who have no special aptitude should be discouraged from attempting. What we need at our universities are not ridiculously low fees, but more scholarships available to young men of special promise. Our aim should be to see that everybody gets to a university who belongs there, whatever the cost may be; it is contrary to the whole idea of university education to make attendance at a university so cheap that virtually anybody can impede the progress of those who are capable of higher learning.

It had been hoped that the death of Zhdanov would mean the initiation of a less stringent control of Soviet composers. The reinstatement to official favour of Prokofieff, best-known living Soviet composer, certainly lent colour to this view. We regard this regimentation of creative artists as a most sinister feature of the Soviet regime. What is sinister feature of the Soviet regime. What is more, it does not appear to be producing results. Russian music, which forty years ago was amongst the most significant and inter-esting being produced, has sunk back into a subsidiary position as far as the rest of the world is concerned. Even Prokofieff and Shostakovitch, the two most important Soviet composers, do not measure up to the French, the English or the Germans. As for Soviet musical criticism it is not worth the paper it is written on, relying as it does on ervile repetition of the latest Party catchservice repetition of the latest Party Catch-phrases. As against this it can be pointed out that the ways of nature are mysterious. The closed season on moose established with high hopes 15 years ago has failed to bring them back in abunlance, and the bounty on porcupine has failed to eliminate these pests. Such measures just don't seem to work according to plan.

Probably, as Mr. Corey and Mr. Colpitts say, the porcupine bounty is needed. And probably, as Professor Brown advocates, larger expenditures on wild life research are needed too, in order to answer such questions as why one animal doesn't increase when it But Professor Brown was able to reply that is protected, while another does increase porcupine bounties had been tried elsewhere while it has a price on its head.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version) And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. (Matt. 9: 35.)

And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease...These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand....

What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops. And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. (Matt. 10: 1, 5-7, 27, 28.)

Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord Gcd: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?. When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die.

Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. Because he considered, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die. (Ezek. 18: 23,

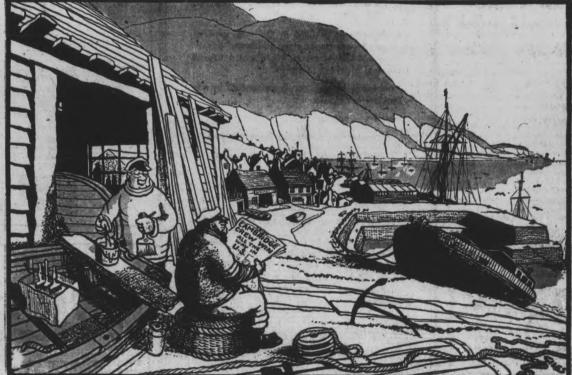

Ghostly Error (Brantford Expositor)

Many tourists are attracted to Britain by stories of ghostly and other psychic phenomena which are said to occur with amazing frequency in some of the old houses and castles. A large percentage of these stories can be discounted as being nothing more than attempts to publicize the vicinity in which the so-called ghost is seen. However, in other cases, particularly those verified by the Society for Psychical Research, the odd happenings are not so easily explained. The fact that accounts of these "ghostly" incidents are being given more and more prominence in British newspapers as summer approaches would seem to indicate that the tourist business is not overlooking this paricular drawing-card. One of the latest of these stories has an unusual twist. It concerns the habits of a bearded old ghost, the spirit of a man who died in 1800, which haunted a cafe in Ruthin, to the distress of the waitresses and the acute discomfort of Charles Dean, the shost-hunter who investigated, said that he talked to the manifestation and found that it was not engaged in mischief. The ghost was surprised to learn that he was a ghost and no longer in the land of the living. He was looking for a drinking companion of his mortal days and was annoyed because he could not find him. Mr. the ghost understand that his companion had to have left in a huff.

Undoubtedly, a few people will remember the name "Ruthin" and make a pilgrimage to the cafe this summer to see for themselves whether anything remains of the bearded old ghost. And the manager will probably have a score of stories to tell about the spirit's fruitless search for his drinking compa

Rodent Study May Help Humans In Arctic

FORT CHURCHILL, Man., (CP) — Can the lemmings help man learn how to thrive better in the Arctic? Miss Margaret Merry is trying to find out.

Learnings are mouse-size roder which live in colonies in the Arctic moss and peat. Miss Marry, a zoologist for the Defence Research Board, is trying to find out all she can about them. How they survive in Arctic weather may be of some application to man.

Miss Merry, who is in her 20s and comes from Victoria, B.C., said she doesn't know whether she will be able to unlock the secret of the remarkable migrations of the lemmings.

They are known to migrate in multitudes to the sea. There they plunge into the waters en masse and are drowned. But sometimes the lemmings seem to have reached their destination, then to have turned and apparently taken a return route. Studies Energy

In a cold room, filled with wire cages and ticking meters, Miss Merry is studying the energy-soending habits of the lemmings. Circuiar, free-wheeling cages are set up. Experts Worry At TB Increase

In South Africa JOHANNESBURG - (CP)

JOHANNESBURG — (CP)—
South Africa with one of the healthiest climates in the world is deeply concerned over the rapid increase in tuberculosis.

An average of 60 persons a day die in the Union, according to Dr. H. Nelson, Pretoria's medical officer of health in all South Africa he estimates the disease is responsible for 20,000 deaths a year, mostly of natives.

The economic plight of the natives is probably the main factor. One expert said recently that the staple diet of the native in cities and townships is white bread and tea. If they would spend their wages on wholesome food and milk for their youngsters much could be done to improve their health and strengthen resistance to tuberculosis.

Can't Afford It Many natives however cannot afford to buy meat and fish. Native town workers also for the most part live in appalling conditions of unsanitary homes.

But the increase in tuberculosis is not confined to the non-Europeans.

In Johannesburg and the surrounding district there is a great shortage of hospital beds for TB cases, white and native alike. A shortage of nurses is particularly acute in treatment of this disease, for tuberculosis is not included in the schedule of diseases under the Workmen's Compensation Act

Put a sweater on directly after the warm up unless you are going directly to the box and keep it on until you do.

Thus far we have not mentioned much about a pitcher's physique. So, in conclusion, we offer a little hint. If you are not very tall (at least a little over the average) you are unlikely to go far as a pitcher. Height is a valuable essential in pitching because of the tremendous advantage in leverage it gives.

True, many men of strength and cunning and of medium height have twirled good ball but they are exceptional. Most great pitchers have been tall.

So if you seem to be short and stockye boys, take up another position.

Manager Says He'll Beat Whip

It will be a challenge match in night. Whipper Watson has challenged the interfering Masked Manager to a finish bout with no time limit. In addition, Watson has offered to donate $200.00 to charity if he fails to defeat and unmask the Watson's anger at the manager is the latter's interference which cost Whip the bout with the Masked Marvel here last Tuesday. The Masked Manager appears to be in a mighty tough most but house he has a spot, but boasts he has no doubts that he'll beat the thoroughly-angered Whipper. That remains to be seen.

In a special event on the same card, the Masked Marvel will oppose Tommy O'Toole, hardy, huskily-built mat star. Abe Zvonkin will wrestle talented young Dave Sims in the first bout.

Giants Have 11th Defeat Dodgers Take 6-3 Win

By JOE REICHLER,

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

It is no longer a question of where the Giants will finish. Flabbergasted fans now are asking—will they finish?

Thunderstruck by the New Yorkers' 11th straight defeat, a 5-3 loss to Brooklyn Dodgers on Sunday, the fans are wondering what manager Leo Durocher's next move will be. The frantic pilot has tried everything to snap the losing skein.

Sydney, who entered the series with the Quebec Senior League champions at even money, were outclassed Sunday night when the Braves provided 9,053 fans with a near-perfect mixture of defensive and offensive hockey.

The Maritimers at no time threatened the Braves, but came up with their best showing in the last stanza and offered only a half-hearted offensive.

New Zealand State Houses Sell Rapidly

By J. C. GRAHAM

WELLINGTON, N. Z., —(CP)— Since it announced late last year that state rental houses could be bought by tenants, the New Zealand government has sold homes valued at $3,000,000. It is continuing to sell them at the rate of 50 a week.

Apart from the original announcement, no direct approach has been made to tenants and no advertising campaign has been undertaken. Houses are being sold as fast as the staff can handle valuations, preparation of titles and transfers.

The government is thus implementing its housing policy of "own your own" and at the same time disposing of a liability which was costing the tapayers about $700,000 a year. Low Rates

Under the former labor regime a large number of government-built houses were rented at low rates to the public. The govern-ment became easily the biggest-landlord in the country, with whole suburbs of state houses to rent in some towns. Well de-signed, built and equipped, the detached houses are built to hun-dreds of different plans to avoid

Houses are sold at current replacement values payable over a period of 40 years with interest at three per cent so long as the buyer occupies the house himself. Houses can be bought outright for cash if desired. A reduction of 10 per cent is made in the form of a suspensory loan which is written off after the purchaser has cwned and occupied the house for seven years. Under a mortgage insurance scheme for which a small premium is charged, any balance owing on the house is automatically written off if the breadwinner dies under the age of 60.

The result of these arrangements is that in many cases weekly payments by home buyers are very little more than they were paying as tenants.

The government is continuing to build many state houses for the duration of the existing actual bousing shortage, but it hopes gradually to reduce construction.

Sculptor Finds Canadians Cool To Artists

VANCOUVER (CP).-A Danish sculptor here thinks artists should come to Vancouver if they hold to the grand tradition that starvation and cold garrets are essential to artistic progress.

Jorgen Christjansen, a sculptor silversmith and metal-worker, has had a two-year struggle to make his art pay in Canada. But apparently it didn't.

"Canadians, for some inexplicable reason, do not appear to have any great appreciation for art," he said. "I tried teaching. As many as 32 would apply for classes; when they learned the course was not a three-lesson business, their interest would immediately disappear." Caught By Gestapo when he lost an eye, and an army officer in the Second World War, Christjansen went into the underground when Denmark was occupied. The Gestapo caught him in 1944 and he was imprisoned in a concentration camp, where he did some 350 portraits of fellow-prieoners.

In post-war Denmark there was little demand for his work, so he tried Canada.

It was disappointing — last summer he worked as a cook in a hospital here. He is fearful that unless there

Legion Leader Sounds Warning

PORT COLBORNE, April 30—(CP)—Alfred Watts, president of the Canadian Legion, said Sunday the federal government made "a scrious mistake" in not endorsing the minimum proposal of national registration contained in a preparedness plan submitted by the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Watts, who flew from Vancouver, told a Legion convention that a "misunderstanding" prevailed over the plan. The Legion did not want all-out interference in Canada's economic and political mechanism. It did want an assessment of what the country has and a building up of reserves.

He urged the 300 delegates of the Legion's District B to support the principles of the plan.

Monarchs Win Western Title

WINNIPEG, April 30 (CP).-

WINNIPEG, April 30 (CP).—
Winnipeg Monarchs have won a berth into the Memorial Cup finals against Barrie Flyers.

Monarchs whipped Regina Pats 8-4 here Saturday night in a sudden death contest for the western junior hockey title after the hest-of-seven series had wound up with the teams even at three games apiece with one tied.

The best-of-seven Dominion final will open here Tuesday, with the second game also in Winnipeg Thursday. The third contest will be held at Brandon Saturday, with the clubs returning to Winnipeg for the next two games May 7 and 9. Dates and venue of other games, if needed, will be announced later, Jimmy Dunn of Winnipeg, playoff chairman, said.

After I go out with girls she puts me through a catechism about where we porethy Dix went, whom we saw, what we sid as a boy who is tied to Mama's apro strings. At 25 you are a man if you are ever going to be one. You have come, now to the crossroads of life and you've got to make your own decision of whether you will go on and be a perpetual child, letting Mama hold you by the hand and leading you along and telling you every step you must take, or whether you will break away from her, assert your independence and your right to lead your own life.

Greatest Misfortune

Greatest Misfortune

There is no other misfortune that can happen to children greater than having a possessive mother, because there is no other selfishness equal to hers, no other selfishness equal to hers, no other tyranny so great as that she exercises over her helpless victims. Because she wants them with her, she ruthlessly sacrifices their every chance in life.

A mother's hold is based upon her children's affection for her, and the fact that she has deprived them of any freedom and killed all of their initiative ever since they were babes and turned them into weaklings who have not the strength to fight her. And her justification of her cruelty is that it is done through love. Nevertheless, when children are grown they must make a fight for their own independence if they are to live any solvt of happy or successful independence if they are to live any sohrt of happy or successful lives, and the easiest and best way to do this is just leave home and go to some distant place to live,

ICE SUPPLY

MOVIE COLUMN Babies Get Paid $5 Second Doing Nothing By BOB THOMAS The only requirement: You must be under 30 days of age.

Of course, this thes out most of the working class. But there are many children in Hollywood who have Social Security cards before they can focus their eyes. The reason is that babies are needed for many movies, and nothing will substitute for the real thing. Finding the babies and caring for them is a real production in itself, as I learned from Harold Minniear.

Minniear is the resident teacher at RKO studio. That means he teaches the student actors (from first grade to college), sees that the laws covering child actors are observed and locates the child talent. The latter can be a headache.

Second: I paint-dyed a navy blue straw last year and it gave the hat good fresh color, shine and stiffness. The odour was something terrible for two or three days—but it did go away.

Third: I can remember watching my mother bleach father's panama hat in a new tightly covered garbage pail with a sulphur candle in it. This I would not dare to recommend. But before I sat down to type this I wiped some very dilute javex over a panama hat I borrowed from my neighbor and it improved it immensely. I would not say that it was as light looking as it was when it was new but it gave it a very acceptable fresh look.

Fourth: The best advice I can give you for stiffening is to use plain clear or white shellac for stiffening the hat and brim. This information I have from a cyclopedia of formulae and from a hat re-blocking man.

Legendary Pharaoh's Curse Girl Reporter Revived As Six Men Die

By HAIG NICHOLSON

CAIRO, April 30—Reuters)—The legendary "Curse of the Pharaohs" has been revived in Egypt by the death of six young archaeologists within the last year.

"The curse" came into world prominence after the discovery of the tomb of Tutankhamen as Luxor in 1922.

Lord Carnarvon, who financed the expedition, died soon after the discovery of the tomb and it was said that he was a victim of "the curse". Howard Carter, who actually made the discovery, and then others associated with him, subsequently died.

Superstitious people recalled that a curse was supposed to rest on anyone who desecrated a burial place.

In ancient Egyptian worship it was believed that the ka or "double" of a man did not die when the man himself died but the hody. Thus it was thought that disturbance of the mummy separated the ka from its owner and that anyone who meddied with the mummy would suffer an untimely end.

First of the six young Egyptians to die was Khaled Darwish. He discovered relics of King Amenophis at Luxor.
